From Tuesday April 5, to Saturday April 9, 1763.

St. James's, April 6.

THIS Day at Noon, the following Congratulatory Address of the University of Oxford, on the Conclusion of the Peace, was presented to His Majesty by the Right Honorable the Earl of Litchfield their Chancellor, introduced by his Grace the Duke of Marlborough, Lord Chamberlain; and attended by the Reverend Dr. Niblett, Warden of All Souls College, Pro-Vice-Chancellor, and the following Noblemen and Gentlemen, who were formerly, or are at present, Members of the University, in their respective Academical Habits, viz. His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury; the Dukes of Queensberry and Leeds; Earl Talbot, Lord Steward of the Household; the Earls of Huntingdon, Suffolk, Peterborough, Cork, Shaftesbury, Anglesey, Oxford, Bath, and Guildford; the Lords Charles and Robert Spencer; the Viscounts Say and Sele, Stormont, Folkestone, and Beauchamp; the Bishops of Durham, Hereford, Worcester, Bangor, Oxford, Carlisle, Exeter, Kildare, and Clonfert; the Lords Willoughby de Broke, Leigh, Sandys, Bruce, Archer, Mansfield, Lyttelton, and Scarfale; the Right Honorable Sir Francis Dashwood, Bart. Chancellor of the Exchequer; the Right Honorable Sir John Phillips, Bart.; the Honorable and Reverend Mr. Bruce, the Honorable and Reverend Dr. Talbot, the Honorable Mr. Bouverie, Mr. Ward, Mr. Marham, and Mr. Lyttelton; Sir Walter Bagot, and Sir Richard Newdigate, Barts. Members for the University; Sir Charles Mordaunt, Sir Charles Kemys Tynte, Sir Robert Burdett, Sir Thomas Worley, Sir Thomas Robinson, Sir Frank Standish, and Sir Richard Glynn, Barts.; Sir John Gibbons, Knight of the Bath; Sir Septimus Robinson, Usher of the Black Rod; with several Members of Parliament; a great Number of Doctors in all Faculties; and Masters of Arts; amounting in the Whole to upwards of Two Hundred.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most faithful and loyal Subjects, the Chancellor, Masters and Scholars of your University of Oxford, humbly beg Leave to approach your Royal Presence with our most sincere and cordial Congratulations on this happy Occasion. Under your Majesty's most auspicious Administration each Year seems with new Blessings, and each Year calls upon us to present unto your Majesty our just Tribute of dutiful Acknowledgments.

Your Majesty, on your Accession to the Throne of these Kingdoms, found the Nation involved in a necessary, but expensive and destructive, War; and your first Care hath been to ease your Subjects from this Burthen, and restore to them the Blessings of Peace. Your Majesty's prudent and vigorous Measures have compelled the Enemy to accept of reasonable Terms of Accommodation, and happily put an End to a Glorious and Successful War, by a most Advantageous and Honourable Peace.

We have likewise the further Satisfaction, through your Majesty's wise Counsels and Negotiations, to see this Blessing become General; and all Christendom, which had long groaned under the Calamities of War, enjoying the Benefits of Quiet and Repose.

Such an Event, however extensively beneficial and universally interesting, is in a more particular Manner favourable to Nurseries of Religion and Learning: That Religion, whose peculiar Characteristick is Peace and Benevolence; those Arts and Sciences, which chiefly delight in Peace, and always flourish most in Times of publick Tranquillity.

Permit us, Dread Sir, on this joyful Occasion, to give the strongest Assurances of our inviolable Attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government: And we promise ourselves all Happiness and Prosperity under your Majesty's mild and impartial Administration, by being in Peace with the neighbouring Kingdoms, and at Unity among ourselves. That your Majesty may enjoy a long and happy Reign; that the Blessings of Peace may attend it, and the Arts of Peace adorn it, is the ardent Wish and earnest Prayer of your ever grateful and loyal University.

Given at our House of Convocation, this Thirty-first Day of March, in the Year of our Lord, One thousand seven hundred and sixty three.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer.

IT is highly acceptable to Me to receive these your warm Congratulations on the Re-establishment of the Public Tranquillity; an Event so interesting to Humanity, so peculiarly connected with the Advancement of Religion, and the Improvement of Letters. Your zealous and unwearied Attention to these great and important Objects of your Care and Duty, justly entitle you to My Countenance and constant Protection.

They were all most graciously received; and had the Honour of kissing His Majesty's Hand.

The following Address of the High Sheriff, Nobility, Gentry, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Stafford, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Hon. Lord Grey, and William Bagot, Esq; their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting; Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

Most gracious Sovereign,

PERMIT us, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the High Sheriff, Nobility, Gentry, Clergy and Freeholders of your County of Stafford, to present to your Majesty our most humble and sincere Congratulations on the Return of Peace.

Glorious as our Conquests must appear, which, under God, have been effected by the Wisdom of your Majesty's Councils, the Conduct of your Generals, and intrepid Valour of your Forces, unparalleled by these or other Kingdoms in any Period of Time, we must have been destitute of Humanity (that Characteristic of Bravery) had we not felt very sensibly for the Sufferings and Calamities which so long and extensive a War hath inevitably occasioned.

We rejoice therefore most sincerely with your Majesty, that through your humane and wise Endeavours (unrestrained by so many increasing Difficulties) a Stop is now put to the Effusion of human Blood; that you have so successfully prosecuted this extended War in the most vigorous and effectual Manner, and brought your Enemies to such just and Honourable Terms (now improved and perfected) as must ever rebound to your Majesty's Glory, and to the Satisfaction and Advantage of your Kingdoms.

The great Acquisitions now secured to us, the firm Foundation laid by your Majesty's Wisdom for the Increase of Trade and Commerce to these Kingdoms, together with your gracious Recommendation from the Throne, of such Measures as can alone support us in our present Height of Glory, render it an indispensable Duty to offer this Testimony of our warmest Gratitude; and it is our earnest Wish and Prayer to Almighty God, that your Majesty may long enjoy the Fruits of these Blessings, and remain the Glory and Protector of a happy and free People.

The following Address of the Magistrates and Burgesses of the Borough of Wallingford, has been presented to His Majesty by Mr. Blackstone, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Magistrates and Burgesses of the Borough of Wallingford, Berks.

May it please your Majesty,

GRaciously to accept the most dutiful and sincere Congratulations of this your Majesty's ancient and loyal Borough, on the happy Re-establishment of Peace, after the long Ravages of a bloody and expensive, though just and glorious, War.

The signal Successes, with which it hath pleased the Almighty to crown the Arms of your Majesty and your Royal Grandfather, have long been the Objects of our Triumph and the Themes of our warmest Gratitude. From the auspicious Reduction of Louisburgh to the late arduous Conquest of the Havannah, every Campaign has risen in its Splendor and Importance, and reflected accumulated Honour on the Wisdom of the Royal Counsels, and the Bravery of your Fleet and Armies. But your Majesty's Moderation and Humanity excite in our Hearts still stronger and more pleasing Sensations; while we see our Magnanimous Sovereign, in the Vigour of youthful Ardo and the full Career of Victory, feeling for the Burthens of his People, rejecting the Allurements of Ambition, and, when all the laudable Ends of War are now fully accomplished, sheathing that Sword of Justice, which he never yet bore in vain.

It affords us the most favourable Omens of future Happiness, that besides the Protection intimated to our established Commerce in every Quarter of the Globe, by Means the most durable, because the most equitable and moderate, to vast an Empire in America hath been added to the British Crown. New Sources of Foreign Trade, new Demands for domestic Manufactures, already open to our View. We rejoice at the Prospect that the Influence of English Liberty, and English Laws, will gradually be extended to Slaves and untutored Savages; and that the Knowledge of God, and His Religion, will be diffused among Millions, now sunk in deplorable Ignorance, or blinded with gross Superstition.

May your Majesty long reign over us, to improve the Blessings of Peace, to be the Patron of Arts, the Rewarder of Science, the Fountain of domestic Economy, the Guardian of our Civil Liberties, and (if Necessity should again require) the Scourge of the Enemies of Britain.

Given at our Council Chamber this Fourth Day of April, 1763.

The following Address of the Magistrates and Council of the City of Glasgow, has been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Magistrates and Council of the City of Glasgow, in Common Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Magistrates and City Council of Glasgow, in Common Council assembled, beg Leave, in Behalf of this Corporation, to congratulate your Majesty on the Definitive Treaty of Peace lately concluded with France and Spain.

The immense Territories added to the British Empire in North America, the Boundaries whereof are now ascertained in the clearest Manner; the many Commercial Advantages acquired, and most important Possessions, in various Parts of the Globe, annexed to your Majesty's Dominions; the Humbling the Power of France, and Checking the ambitious Views of Spain; the Protecting and Supporting your Majesty's Allies, the Kings of Portugal and Prussia;

the Raising the Glory and Reputation of Britain to an Height not only surprizing, but exceeding our most sanguine Expectations; the Enlarging and Extending the Trade and Commerce of the British Subjects, which, by the Divine Blessing, has a natural Tendency to preserve and increase our Naval Power, being, under God, our surest and principal Support; and the Terminating a successful War by a safe and glorious Peace, have rendered the short Period of your Majesty's Reign now past, more illustrious than any of your most August Predecessors.

Permit us, at the same Time, humbly and gratefully to acknowledge the internal Felicity of your Majesty's Subjects, our domestick Peace and Tranquillity secured, when great Part of Europe, and even some of your Majesty's Dominions, were involved in a ruinous and destructive War, our Trade and Manufactures promoted and encouraged, our Laws and Liberties maintained, and every Measure pursued for rendering us a loyal, happy and contented People.

May your Majesty long be preserved for a Protector of the Sacred and Civil Rights of Mankind, may Heaven continue to bless your Majesty's Councils, and make your Reign equally distinguished for promoting and cultivating Civil and Commercial Arts, as for Success in War, and Wisdom in concluding a Peace; may your Subjects always be sensible of their Happiness under a Patriotick Prince, who makes the Laws the Rule of his Administration; and may the inestimable Blessings we enjoy be transmitted, by a Succession of your Majesty's Issue, to the latest Period of Time.

Signed in Presence and by Appointment,
Glasgow, March 30, Arch. Ingram, Provost.
1763.

Vienna, March 19. This Day being the Feast of the Archduke, it was celebrated here with great Pomp. The Prussian Officers, the Number of which amounts to near Two Hundred, were admitted to see their Majesties and the Imperial Family at Dinner. Great Civility is shown to those Officers; and, before they return home, they will be admitted to kiss her Imperial Majesty's Hand. We hear from Silesia, that Glatz is already evacuated; and that the Prussians are actually victualling that Place. The greatest Part of the Regiments of the Austrian Cavalry will remain in Bohemia till farther Orders; and it is said they will be reviewed there, in Presence of her Imperial Majesty.

Nuremberg, March 22. The Negotiations for a Reconciliation between the House of Saxe and the Dukes of Saxe Meiningen, still continue under the Mediation of the Landgrave of Hesse Cassel; and the Troops of the Dukes of Saxe have quitted the Dutchy of Meiningen.

The Diet of the Circle of Franconia has received Imperial Letters Requisitionary, notifying to them, that the Regiments of Mentz and Wurtzbourg, which have hitherto been in the Pay of the Court of Vienna, are to return to their respective Countries; and that a Train of Artillery coming from Bohemia is to traverse the Empire going to the Low Countries.

The Saxons have at last begun their March, and the first Column has already passed by Bamberg.

Berlin, March 26. The latest Accounts from Silesia say, that the Troops of the Empress Queen began to evacuate Glatz on the 13th Instant; that his Serene Highness the Duke of Bevern took Possession of that Fortrefs on the 18th; and that his Prussian Majesty, who was arrived at Schweidnitz, intended to be there on the 21st. From thence he will visit Neisse, Breslaw, and Glogaw, and is expected here by the End of next Week.

Yesterday and this Day the Regiments of Gens d'Armes, and Gardes du Corps, Cavalry, and Zieten's Hussars, arrived here from Saxony, so that the Garrison of this Capital is now complete.

Prince Repnin, late Minister Plenipotentiary at this Court from the Empress of Russia, set out from hence on the 22d for Moscow.

Hague, April 5. The Prince of Orange's Disemper goes on so favourably, that we have the greatest Reason, with the Blessing of God, to flatter ourselves with his Highness's speedy Recovery.

We hear from Diego, that Prince Clement of Saxony is now there, and appears as a Candidate for that Bishoprick.

Paris, April 6. The Palais Royal belonging to the Duke of Orleans is now burning. The Fire began about Eleven o'Clock, and still rages at Three. It began at the Opera House, which is burnt to the Ground, as well as the Wing of the Palace adjoining to it. They are removing the Pictures as fast as possible, but it is feared they will be much damaged in the Hurry and Confusion.

By the Lords Justices General and General Governors of Ireland,

A PROCLAMATION,

George Armagh. Shannon. Jn. Ponsonby.

WHEREAS His Majesty hath been pleased to issue His Royal Proclamation, bearing Date at His Court at St. James's the twenty-first Day of this Instant March, in the Words following, viz.

By the KING,

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE R.

WHEREAS a Definitive Treaty of Peace and Friendship between Us, the Most Christian King, and the King of Spain, to which the King of Portugal hath acceded, hath been concluded at Paris on the Tenth Day of February last, and the Ratifications thereof have been exchanged upon the Tenth Day of this Instant March; In Conformity therunto, We have thought fit hereby to Command, that the same be published throughout all Our Dominions: And We do declare, to all Our loving Subjects, Our Will and Pleasure, That the said Treaty of Peace and Friendship be observed inviolably, as well by Sea as Land, and in all Places whatsoever; strictly Charging and Commanding all our loving Subjects to take Notice hereof, and to conform themselves therunto accordingly."

And whereas His Majesty hath signified His Royal Pleasure, That the said Proclamation be forthwith Published in this Kingdom, in the usual Manner; we the Lords Justices in Obedience to His Majesty's said Commands, do hereby Publish His Majesty's said Royal Proclamation accordingly, strictly Charging and Commanding all His Majesty's loving Subjects to take Notice thereof, and to conform themselves according to the Tenor of the said Proclamation.

Given at His Majesty's Castle of Dublin, the 28th Day of March, 1763.

By their Excellencies Command.

Tho. Waite.

GOD Save the KING.

Dublin Castle, March 30.

This Day His Majesty's Proclamation of Peace was made in the following Manner:

THE Officers of Arms, with the Serjeants at Arms and Trumpeters, mounted their Horses at College Green, and proceeded from thence, accompanied by a Squadron of Dragoons to Corke Hill, where the Lord Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Sheriffs, attended: And Ulster King of Arms having presented to his Lordship a Warrant from the Lords Justices for Proclaiming the Peace, the Procession was made to the Castle as follows:

A Party of Dragoons to clear the Way; Lord Mayor's Leading Coach; City Officers; State Trumpeters and Kettle Drummer; Pursuivants, Athlone Pursuivant at Arms, Serjeants at Arms; King of Arms; City Marshal; Mace Bearer, Sword Bearer, and Sheriffs on Horseback; the Lord Mayor in his Coach, the City Guards walking on each Side of it, followed by the Aldermen in their Coaches, attended by a Squadron of Dragoons. When they came to the Castle, the Lord Mayor went to the Foot of the Great Stairs, where he presented the City Sword (drawn) to their Excellencies the Lords Justices, who sheathed it, and returned it to the Lord Mayor, before whom it was carried during the Ceremony: They then returned to the Castle Gate, where, after the Serjeant Trumpeter had sounded a Call thrice, Athlone Pursuivant made an O Yez thrice, and Ulster King of Arms read His Majesty's Proclamation. In this Method the Procession was made to the Tholsel, Corn Market, the Old Bridge, Ormond Bridge, and Essex Bridge; at which Places the Proclamation was read by Ulster in the same Manner. They then returned to the Castle, and the Lord Mayor was conducted by Ulster, and the rest of the State Officers, to the Pretence Chamber, where his Lordship acquainted their Excellencies, that the King of Arms had published the Proclamation in the usual Places of the City. Then their Excellencies drank His Majesty's Health: At which Time the Great Guns in the Park fired three Rounds of twenty one Guns. At each Place, where the Proclamation was made, the Spectators expressed their Satisfaction on the Occasion, by loud Acclamations. The State Officers and the Squadron conducted the Lord Mayor to the Mayoralty House, where they all drank the King's Health; and the Evening was concluded with Ringing of Bells, Bonfires, and other Demonstrations of Joy.
