Vienna, March 23. The Prussian Officers, after having been admitted to kiss her Imperial Majesty's Hand, are set out for Presbourg, where their Rendezvous is, and from whence they will be furnished with Waggons to the Frontiers of Silesia. Several Hundreds of Prussian Prisoners, that had taken Service in the Imperial Troops, having the Choice given them of staying, or returning Home, have preferred the latter. General Finckinfein is still here.

Copenhagen, March 26. On the 17th Instant his Royal Highness Prince Frederick was examined in Presence of the Privy Council, and other Persons of Distinction, as to his Attainments in Religion and Literature, and gave great Satisfaction, though his Royal Highness is but in the Tenth Year of his Age.

Three Danish Officers, viz. Captains Becker, Basballe, and Arff, who went as Volunteers into the French Service, and were taken Prisoners by the English in the late War, have been rewarded by his Most Christian Majesty with the Order For Military Merit.

A few Days ago his Danish Majesty made a numerous Promotion of Sea Officers among the lower Classes, and admitted 22 new Cadets upon that Establishment. And as this Princess had implored the Emperor and Empire to succour her against those Outrages, his Imperial Majesty ordered the said Dukes to comply, not only with the precedent Decrees, but also if, contrary to all Expectation, they had not yet obeyed them, to indemnify the said Dutchess for all Charges and Damages she had suffered, or to expect without fail Military Execution. The said Dukes are cited by the same Decree to appear before the Tribunal in Two Months, in order to examine whether they are guilty of the Infraction of the Publick Peace, and liable to pay the Fine of 2000 Marks of pure Gold. And as the Dutchess Dowager, by the Report made to his Imperial Majesty the 12th of this Month, had made a Declaration, conformable in all Points to the Imperial Decree of the 25th of February, his Imperial Majesty orders this Declaration to be communicated to the said Dukes for their Information, and declares, at the same Time, the Dutchess Dowager the sole
