St. James's, June 7.

THE following Address of the Governour, Council, and Assembly of the Province of Georgia, having been transmitted to the Earl of Egremont, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

THE Governour, Council, and Assembly of your Majesty's Province of Georgia, in this distant Part of your Dominions, take the earliest Opportunity of presenting to your Majesty their most sincere and hearty Congratulations on the joyful, important, and interesting Event of an Heir being born to the Crown and Dignities of your Realms; added to the Blessings of a Safe and Honourable Peace, the Result of an indispensable and just War against your Majesty's Enemies; which, through the Divine Favour, has been, beyond Compare, successful and glorious, such as resounds, and will perpetuate the Praise of your Majesty's great Name, the Wisdom of your Government, the vigorous Execution of your Commands by your Majesty's intrepid and gallant Officers, both by Sea and Land, and the Bravery of those undaunted Men acting under them.

That the Almighty may be pleased, during a long Life, to bestow every private and publick Felicity on your Majesty and your Royal Son; and that the young Prince may live to be a Blessing to his Royal Father, inheriting His Wisdom and Virtues; and in future Time may, as He is now, be justly revered by his Subjects, transmitting to the latest Posterity, his illustrious Example, and the Appellation of the best of Sovereigns; swaying the Sceptre amidst the Acclamations of a most grateful, free, and happy People, are the truly cordial Wishes, and zealous Hopes, of your Majesty's very dutiful, loyal, and affectionate Subjects.

Council Chamber,
15 March, 1763.

The following Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Bailiffs and Commonalty of the Town of Lancaster, has been presented to His Majesty by Francis Reynolds, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Bailiffs and Commonalty of the Town of Lancaster, in Common Council assembled.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Bailiffs and Commonalty of the Town of Lancaster, in Common Council assembled, beg Leave to approach your Royal Person with all becoming Acknowledgments to your Majesty, for restoring to us the Blessings of Peace.

The Wisdom of your Majesty, that accomplished the same; and the Sense of the great Council of the Nation, in Parliament assembled, in Approbation thereof, is a convincing Testimony of its having been thought adequate to the many great and unexampled Successes obtained by the Arms of your Majesty, and your renowned Predecessor, during the Course of a long, bloody and expensive War.

With the Return of Peace from Abroad, we hope and trust in your Majesty's Paternal Care, to see Tranquillity firmly established at Home; and make no Doubt but your Majesty's well-known and impartial Regard to all your Subjects, will totally extinguish the Heats and Animosities which have been industriously fomented and encouraged.

That your Majesty's Concern for the Good of the Publick may most effectually unite the Minds of your Subjects; that the good Effects of Peace may not be obstructed by any intestine Divisions; and that your Majesty may long, very long, rule over these Kingdoms; and in the Hearts of a free and willing People, is the most ardent Wish of us your Majesty's most faithful Subjects.

Given under the Common Seal of the Town of Lancaster, this 25th Day of May, in the Year of our Lord, One thousand seven hundred and sixty-three.

The following Address of the Merchants trading to and from the Port of Liverpool; has been presented to His Majesty by Sir William Mercedith, Bart. one of the Representatives in Parliament for Liverpool, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Merchants trading to and from the Port of Liverpool.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and faithful Subjects, the Merchants trading to and from the Port of Liverpool, most humbly desire Permission to congratulate your Majesty on the happy and salutary Conclusion of the late War. A War, attended with unparalleled Success and Glory; but carried on at a boundless Expence of the Blood and Treasure of your People.

To restore the Blessings of Peace to so many Nations, that were over-run with the Calamities of War, is an Event in which human Nature itself is interested; and must fill your Royal Breast with the more perfect Joy and Satisfaction, as you possess, in so eminent a Degree, that Grace, Benevolence, and Rectitude of Mind, which inclined your Majesty to prefer the Ease and Safety of your Subjects, with the General Tranquillity of Europe, to the Extent and Splendor of Victories. The Prosperity of Great Britain must arise from the Care and Cultivation of her Trade and Commerce: We therefore, as Com-
