Helvoet, February 3. The Prince and Princess of Brunswick, landed here Yesterday about Four o'Clock in the Afternoon, after a very long and fatiguing Voyage. About Ten o'Clock this Forenoon, His Royal Highness sailed from hence in the Dutch Yachts for Delft, which will arrive there some Time in the Night, and where the Prince of Orange's Equipages will meet her Royal Highness.

Petersbourg, January 3. The Great Duke appeared at Court on Sunday, and seems perfectly recovered from his late feverish Indisposition.

Petersbourg, January 13. Yesterday being New Year's Day, O. S. there was a Ball at Court in the Evening, and the Foreign Ministers had the Honour of supping with the Empress and the Great Duke.

Florence, January 14. The Princess of Modena arrived here on Thursday Evening from Massa; she went through the principal Streets in her Chaise, in order to see the Town, and then proceeded to a Country House belonging to Marquis Corsi, at a small Distance, which had been prepared for her. Marshal Botta and all the Foreign Ministers went the next Morning to wait upon her: The next Night she was entertained at a Country House of Marquis Gerini; and this Night, at the Emperor's Expence, at a Place on the Confines of the Bolognese State.

Genoa, January 21. By Letters from Bastia of the 10th Instant, the Malecontents have blockaded Calvi and Hiaci. Two large Barks have been laden with Flour and other Species of Provisions, and three Companies of the German Troops sailed in them six Days ago, to relieve the Places which were blockaded.

His Royal Highness the Duke of York continues to enjoy a perfect good State of Health in this City. To-morrow Night a Mask'd Ball will be given at the Theatre; and on Wednesday another by the Deputies, in the Palace which the Republick had prepared for his Royal Highness's Reception.

Lisbon, January 21. The Duke of York Packet arrived on Thursday the 12th Instant, after a Passage of 17 Days; and the Expedition Packet on Sunday the 15th, in 28 Days; each with one Mail.

Their most Faithful Majesties and the Royal Family came from Pinheiro on Sunday, to be present at the three Days Devotion, annually observed on the 16th, 17th, and 18th of January. And their Majesties returned, on the last of those Days, to Pinheiro, where they will reside until about the Beginning of February, when they will proceed to Salvaterra, where the Princess of Brazil, and the Infantas will meet their Majesties.

The Chevalier de St. Priest, Minister Plenipotentiary from his most Christian Majesty, and the Prince of Sanseverino, in the same Character from the King of the Two Sicilies, had an Audience of the most Faithful King on Tuesday the 17th, to present their Credentials.

Last Week some Fishermen upon the Coast, perceiving a Vessel at Sea in Distress, went up to her, and found it to be an English Vessel with only two Men on Board. They brought the Ship into this River, which appears to be the Molly Sloop, Capt. Henry Hartley, belonging to Placentia, and bound from Sta. Cruz in Teneriffe to New York, with Wines. The Captain, while at Teneriffe, being in

Want

Want of Hands, had taken four Spaniards and a Black to help to navigate the Ship: These, with the two English, were all the Crew. During the Voyage, on the 26th of December, the Spaniards and Black murdered Capt. Hartley, and flung him over Board, and then intended to steer for Cadiz; but they overshot their Port, and being off this Harbour, the Spaniards and the Black took what they could out of the Vessel, and came ashore in the Boat to Lisbon, leaving the two Englishmen on Board.

The Ministers immediately issued out an Order to apprehend these Men, and one of the Spaniards and the Black were seized, and put in Prison two Days ago. The Vessel and Cargo are put under the Care of Mr. Joseph Hake, a Correspondent to the Merchants at New York.

Bonn, January 30. The Road between this and Coblentz is so broken, that no Coach nor Cart can pass; the Rivers are so overflowed that great Part of the Country is under Water.

Berlin, January 28. M. de Bohlen, Envoy from Sweden, is expected here daily; and Lieutenant Colonel Coccey, who has the same Character from the King of Prussia to the Court of Stockholm, left this Place some Days ago.

Hamburg, January, 31. The Great Fair, which is annually held at Keil, is just over; very little Money has been circulated, as the People of Holstein are greatly impoverished by the repeated Losses which they have sustained for some Time past, from the Mortality among the Horned Cattle.

Brussels, February 3. Several Villages near Dendermonde are under Water; and the Damage done in this Country by the great Rains is very considerable.

Hague, February 3. The States-General have appointed the 29th of this Month for a Day of general Fasting and Prayers throughout their Dominions.

Hague, February 7. Her Royal Highness the Hereditary Princess of Brunswick arrived at Delft on Saturday Morning last, on Board the Prince of Orange's Yacht: Her Royal Highness was happily in perfect Health notwithstanding the very great Fatigue she had undergone in her Passage. Their Serene Highnesses the Hereditary Prince and Prince Lewis went to Delft to receive her and conduct her in the Prince of Orange's Equipages, escorted by his Serene Highness's Life-Guards, to the Palace of the Old Court, where his Serene Highness the Prince Stadtholder received her Royal Highness, and conducted her to her Apartments. The States-General, the States of Holland, and the Council of State, upon News of her Royal Highness's Arrival, nominated a Deputation of their most distinguished Members, to compliment their Royal and Serene Highnesses upon their safe Arrival, and the happy Conclusion of their Marriage: But as they were pleased to decline receiving the Deputations in Form, all the Colleges had the Honour to make their Compliments without Ceremony. The Prince of Orange has done his utmost to make their Abode here as agreeable as possible.

Yesterday Evening her Royal Highness and the Hereditary Prince were graciously pleased to honour Sir Joseph Yorke, His Britannick Majesty's Ambassador, with their Presence at a Ball at his House; where were likewise present their Highnesses Prince Lewis of Brunswick, Prince George of Mecklenbourg, and the Prince of Weilbourg, the Foreign Ministers, and a very numerous Company of Persons of Distinction of both Sexes. Her Royal Highness's Affability, Condescension, and Ease, have captivated all those who have had the Honour to approach her; and it is impossible to express the Satisfaction her Presence at this Place has occasioned. Their Highnesses dined at Prince Lewis's Yesterday, and sup there this Evening.

The Princess of Nassau Weilbourg was happily delivered of a Princess Yesterday in the Afternoon. Her Serene Highness the young Princess is as well as possible. The Hereditary Prince and Princess of Brunswick have been prevailed upon to be Sponsors to the New Born Princess, which will probably defer their departure till Thursday next.
