From Thursday November 11. to Monday November 15. 1675.

Danzick, Octob. 26.

Two days since arrived here an Express, with orders from the Danish Admiral Adelaer, to the Men of War that are here, as Convoy to several Merchantmen, forthwith to return to the Fleet without the said Merchantmen, which makes us believe, that the Suedish Fleet is come to Sea, and that therefore the Danes are desirous to unite their force, the better to oppose the Enemy. The last Letters from Warsaw assure us, that the Turks, after having lost 2000 Men under Trembowla, upon advice that the King of Poland was marching directly towards them, with design to fight them, had on the sudden, and in great disorder, cauled their Cannon, consisting in 100 pieces, to march off in the night, and the next day they decamped, and quitted the Siege, marching above 15 Leagues that day, to take from the Poles the opportunity of pursuing them. The Letters add, that the Turks retreated towards Kaminiec, and that the King resolved to follow them.

Naples, Octob. 29. The Spanish Men of War and Gallies under the command of the Prince of Montesarchio's Cruise at present in the Fare of Messina, whither we are told, a good Body of Men is marching from Melazzo, so that the Spaniards seem to promise themselves some favourable conjuncture there.

Madrid, Nov. 5. To morrow being the day when his Majesty will compleat his 14 year, and as is supposed, take upon him the Government, people are in the mean time in great expectation. On Sunday there was a Maskarade on Horseback, in the Plaza before the Palace, for the entertainment of their Majesties and the Court, which was managed by the Duke of Albuquerque, Majordomo Mayor, and by the Duke of Medina Celi, high Chamberlain. On Monday evening, their Majesties were entertained with a Comedy at the Palace, and this afternoon with a Bull Feast in the Priora. Our Letters from Cadix of the 27 past tell us, that the Capitana of Spain was there, not able to put to Sea, without refitting, which will take up much time; Lieutenant-Admiral de Ruyter hath not been heard of since he departed from Cadix. From Lisbon of the 22 past, they write of the Armada's safe return thither, having stranded two Algerines at Sarzili. The same Letters add, that three ships were arrived this year from the East-Indies, and above 60 from Brazile.

Copenhagen, Nov. 5. By several Vessels arrived here from Sueden we have advice, that the 28 past, the Suedish Fleet sailed from the Dollars, where it had lain a long time wind bound, consisting in above fifty sail, of which thirty were Men of War, that they have not on board any Land-fores, farther then what are necessary to Man their ships, which its said have hardly their complements of Seamen. We cannot learn whether this Fleet has taken its course; these two days past we have had very violent Storms, so that we may expect to hear of its having sustained some damage. Our Fleet lies at present near the Island Meun, about a League from hence; it's said that so soon as they have recruited they will go to Sea again.

A List of the Suedish Fleet, at present at Sea, as given out by the Suedes.

20	The Wisnar	46
21	The Falcon	48		Besides Fire-ships, and 22	The Hope	44		small Vessels.

Several of the abovementioned Men of War, that is of the smaller sort, are not at present with the Fleet, but abroad towards Riga and those parts.

Lubeck, Nov. 7. Just now arrives here a Trooper from the Danish Camp before Wismar, who tells us, That to morrow the King intends to make a general Assault upon the place. One attack has been already made without success.

Bremen, Nov. 9. Stade has been besieged since the fifth instant; the Confederates batter it from seven Batteries, and are advanced with their Trenches very near the Walls of the Town, and in the mean time, all things are preparing for a general Assault. The Besieged have made several sallies, nor without doing good execution upon the Besiegers.

Oldenburg, Nov. 11. The Confederates have again invested with part of their Troops, the Fortress of Curestas. The Bishop of Minster is at present at Bremersburde.

Hamburg, Nov. 11. We have the confirmation of the Confederates having quitted the siege of Stade, and of their having posted part of their Troops so as to hold that place blocked up this Winter. On Saturday last the Train of Artillery which had been employed against Stade arrived at Hambourg, and this day the Duke of Zel treats the Bishop of Minster at Nirwen loister near Backboede. The Queen of Denmark passed some days since through this City, on her journey to the Kings Camp before Wismar, from whence we have no other news then that the seventh instant at night, the Trenches were to be opened in three several places. We hear nothing farther of the Suedish Fleet, some report that it is returned into Pott again.

Strasburgh, Nov. 8. The Imperial Troops are now marching to the several Winter-quarters assigned them; but the Forces of the Circles remain in the Posts about Philipsburgh. The Garison of Haguenow, which is very strong, hath made two attempts, each with two thousand and Men, to remove the Imperialists out of the small life in the Rhine, ever against Drusenheim, where they have taken a Post, but without any effect, having been repulsed with the loss of 20 or 30 Men. It is said, that the Prince of Conde is on his return to Paris, and that the greatest part of the French Troops are marched to their Winter-quarters. The French fortify Schieffstadt, being about raising a Citadel on the side of the River Ill. To morrow General Montecuculi is expected at Rastadt, from whence he will take his journey to Vienna.

Dino, Nov. 11. Our Letters from the Upper Alsacia advise us, That the French are drawing their Troops together, and that they publickly give out their design to attack Lauterburg, and not to suffer the Imperialists to remain in so advantageous a Post this winter, and though we can hardly believe that if the Enemy really intended such a thing they would publish it before hand, yet it serves to make the Imperialists the more watchful, and to stand upon their Guard. Prince Maximilian of Baden hath hired a house, with purpose to reside here this Winter. General Montecuculi has put 600 Men into the Baillage of Oberkirch.

Cologno, Nov. 12. The French Parties make frequent incursions into this Diocess, and plunder the Countrey; the other day they took several Wagons, coming from Kempen, laden with rich Merchandises, and some money. The French likewise demand the same Contributions of us that we paid the Imperialists the last Winter.
 From Alsacia we have not any news, the Armies being separated and going into Winter-quarters.

Brussels, Nov. 18. The Duke de Villa Hermosa, our Govern-General, has changed his resolution of passing into Flanders, but has commanded the Deputies of the States of that Province to repair hither, to agree about the Contributions demanded of them. Orders are daily issued for the making the necessary preparations against Spring; and, it is said, that his Excellency will have an Army to act apart with, as there shall be occasion.

Hague, Nov. 18. The only considerable news we have at present is of the Swedish Fleet being come to Sea, though it is said, they have not any Forces on board, to land in Germany.
 From Hamburg they write, that Wismar is closely besieged, and the Letters from Bremen say the same of Stade. His Highness is returned from Soestdike, and the Pensionary Fagel from Guelderland, whether he went to confer with the Ministers of the Elector of Brandenburg, about Schenfous, which is said to be restored to this state. We have no particular account as yet of the damages sustained by the late Inundation.

Paris, Nov. 19. The latter end of this week, the Prince of Conde and the Duke d' Enghien are expected here; they take their way through Burgundy, that so his Highness upon his arrival here, may give the King an account of the posture of things there. It is said that the Duke of Luxembourg will go and command the Kings Forces in Germany. There is a discourse at Court, that the King will in February next take a journey of great importance, without that we know any farther particulars.
