

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Saturday September 14; to Tuesday September 17; 1765.

Venice, September 4.

THE Great Duke and Dutchess of Tuscany are to pass by Castel Nuovo this Day, but have desired that no Entertainment might be prepared for them: And it is said, that the Emperor, Empress Queen, and the rest of the Imperial Family, were to leave Inspruck the Second Instant, to proceed by the Danube for Vienna.

On the 28th past the Duke of Chablais came to Verona, and was prevailed upon to lodge at the Palace of the Podesta Signior Marco Zen, by whom his Royal Highness was magnificently entertained the next Day with a Bull-baiting in the Amphitheatre, a Supper, and a Ball; and on the 30th he set forwards for Turin.

The Province of Dalmatia continuing quite free from the Plague, the Proveditor General has opened the Communication between the different Parts, except the Territories and Places on the Frontiers; and there are Hopes that the Contagion may cease, in a short Time, in the neighbouring Parts of Turkey; but it is got into the City of Salonichi.

St. Ildephonso, September 6. On the 4th in the Morning, his Catholick Majesty went to Guaderama about three Leagues from hence, where he met the Princess of Parma, and dined with her. He then brought her hither in his own Coach. They arrived about Half an Hour after Five: The Prince of Asturias, accompanied by the Infant Don Louis, waited at the Bottom of the Court-stairs to receive the Princess, and his Catholick Majesty handed her up to the Queen-Mother's Apartment. His Catholick Majesty then retired to his own; where after some Time all the Foreign Ministers were called in. In the Interim the Princess, who had been dressed by the Queen-Mother, was conducted by her Majesty to the King's Apartment, when they immediately withdrew into the next Room. The Cardinal Patriarch of the Indies performed the Marriage Ceremony.

It was intended that the Marriage should be performed privately; so no Ceremony was observed: The Ambassadors and Foreign Ministers however formed the first Circle round the Royal Family; behind them the Ladies and Grandees of the Court; and the Doors were opened to let in every Body that would come.

Immediately after the Ceremony his Catholick Majesty and all the Royal Family retired: The next Day the principal Persons of the Court kissed the King's Hand, as well as those of the Prince and Princess of Asturias. Yesterday was another Gala Day at Court, and To-day will be the last. To-morrow, Mourning will be put on again.

The Princess of Asturias has gained the Affection of the whole Spanish Nation by her Politeness and Affability.

The Day of the Marriage Count Erdodi arrived here from Inspruck; to notify the Solemnization of the Marriage of the Archduke Leopold with the Infanta.

An Express is come from the Havana with the News of the Death of Don Diego Mairique, the new Governor, who was but just got there; and they have immediately appointed Don Antonio Bucareli, a Major General in this Service, and Inspector General of the Cavalry.

Whitehall, September 17.

The King has been pleased to grant unto William Mellish, Esq; the Office of Receiver-General and Cashier of His Majesty's Customs, Subsidies, and other Duties, in the room of William Levinz, Esq; deceased.

Lord Chamberlain's Office, September 16, 1765.

This is to give Notice, to all Peers and Peetesses, to Privy-Counsellors and their Wives, and to Foreign Ministers and their Wives, who propose to attend the Ceremony of the Christening of His Royal Highness the Young Prince, on Wednesday the Eighteenth Instant, that they are to assemble, between the Hours of Six and Seven that Evening, in the Queen's Presence Chamber and Drawing Room at St. James's Palace.

Erratum. In last Saturday's Gazette, for Alexander Lord Loudon, deceased, read, Alexander Lord Lindores, deceased.

Whitehall,

[ Price Three-pence. ]