Extract of a Letter from Major General Irwin to Mr. Secretary Conway, dated Gibraltar, February 3, 1766.

ON Thursday Morning the 30th of last Month, about Four o'Clock, it began to thunder, lighten, and rain most violently, and continued without Intermission the whole Day. Sometimes most heavy Showers of Hail succeeded the Rain, the Stones of which were of that immense Size, as to break many of the Windows in the Town. As it grew later in the Day, the Storm increased in every Respect; so that, between eight and nine at Night, the whole Hill and Town seemed to be on Fire, and Spouts of Water poured down from the Clouds. At once there came such a Torrent from the Top of the Rock, with such Heaps of Rubbish and Sand, as carried along with it several Houses on the Side of the Hill; and in a few Minutes the Ground-Floors of all the Houses in the Town were full of Water, the Hail and Rubbish having stopped up the Drains. The Suddenness and Violence of this Accident occasioned the Loss of several Lives. By the Zeal, Activity, and Cheerfulness, of the Officers and Soldiers, I soon got the Drains opened, and prevented further Mischief. I must not, on this Occasion, omit telling you how much I am obliged to the Officers, for the Care and Vigilance they shewed; as also to the private Men, for their Activity and Obedience in such a Time of universal Confusion and Distress. The Storm began to abate about Twelve at Night, but did not go off quite 'till about Eight o'Clock on Friday Morning. Almost every Body in the Town has suffered; the Merchants very considerably; some are totally ruined, the Goods in their Storehouses having been entirely washed away. I thank God the Magazines escaped untouched.

I cannot now send you the Particulars of our Misfortunes, but shall by the first Opportunity. In the mean Time I have given, and shall continue to give, such Orders as I think best for the Service. I do not as yet know the Number of killed; but judge, by the best Accounts, they may be about sixty, five of which are Soldiers. It is scarce possible to describe the melancholy Scene of Parts of Houses, Furniture, Men, Women, Children, and Animals of all Sorts, floating in the Water, or stuck in the Rubbish; and do suppose, that since the Misfortune at Lisbon, so dreadful an Accident hath not happened to any Town; nor could any Thing more resemble that than this, many of the Streets being entirely choked up with the Rubbish, and the Inhabitants obliged to come out at their upper Windows, and some to break their Way through the Tops of their Houses. I fear many of the Houses will come down, some of which are Officers Quarters. I have had Communications made through all the Streets, and mean to go on clearing away as fast as possible.
