Naples, Jan. 21.

HE relations we have hitherto hid from feveral Mafters of Felucca's arrived here, concerning the late Engagement between the Dutch and French Fleets near the Fare of Meffina, have been to various, that we know not what to credit; the laftaccount we have is; that the 7th inftant the French Fleet; confifting in 22 Men of War, and fix Firefhips, appeared in fight of the Dutch near the of Fare of Meffina, that the next morning the Fight began, and continued that whole day, with the lois to the French of one Man of War, and two Firefhips; thut of the Dutch one Man of War was fo difabled, that fhe was towed by a Galley to Palermo, to be refitted there; most of the Mcn havin been first taken out of her. That the next day being the ninth, the two Fleets continued in fight of each other, and prepared to renew the Fight; That the 12 Fielch thiss that were at Melfind had come out, and joined their fleet, under the command of the Duke de Vivonne; and that on the other fide, the Prince of Montefarchio had joined de Rwyter with fix Spanish Men of War. In the mean time our Viceroy the Marquis de los Velez omits nothing on his part to ful ply the Viceroy of Sicily with Money, Man, and other neceffaries, to the utmost of his power from kence.

Rome, Jan. 22. We are told that the Moft Chriftian King has fin Ily declared, that he will admit of the Extraordina y Nuncio defigned to his Court from hence, provided he do not fpeak of any other matters, but fuch as relate to the Treaty of Peace, which is the fubject of his Errand. The Duke d'Effrees is continued in his Employment of Ambaffador Extraordinary for three years longer, at which the Cardinal Patron is not altogether pleafed. From feveral hands we have an account of an Engagement that hath been between the French and the Dutch Fleets on the Coaft of Sicily; the fuccefs is varioufly reported, according to the inclinations of people, fo that we must expect till we have the farther certainty.

Warfam, Jan. 18. The Provincial Dyers which have been held in order to the general one at Gracow, after the Coronation, are for the most past very well terminated, and the propolitions made in them by order of the King confented to, fo that we have good reafon to hope the general Dyet will have a happy inue, for the good of the Kingdom, which is threatned with the great preparations of the Turks, against the next Campagne. Though in the mean time, it's faid, that endeavors are not wanting to conclude a firm and la-fling Peace with the Port, but hitherto the terms propofed on that fide, have been fuch as give but small appearance of it. We expect our next Letters from Cracow will give us an account of their Majefties arsival there; we have already feen feveral Medals which will be given out at the Coronaiton of their Mejesties. The Tartats by their continual excursions do extremely incommode the Frontiers of this Kingdom, and it is a most lamentable thing to confider how many poor Christians are every year carried by them into flavery. It is most certain, that Dorofensko has put himself under the protection of the Moscovices.

the protection of the Molcovites: Madrid, Fin. 28. Befides the concern we ate in for our new Spain Fleet (of whole arrival we every hour expect to have an account) the Moneys expected in it begin tobe fomewhat wanted, a confiderable fum being intended for the fervice of the Spanish Netherlands, and greatelt part of the reft for the carrying on the War with vigor in Catalonia, Sicily, &c. There hath been much faid of Don Juan of Auftria's being called to Court, but hitherto we cannot hear that he firs from Sagar fa (the place of his refidence for feveral years paft) nor do the Letters that come from thence know any thing of his coming 1 ither, which is however very much defined.

Copenhagen, Fun. 28. The King amongst other his preparations for the carrying on the War this next Summer against the Suede, is not unmindful of those for the Sea, having of late frequently vilited the Men of War intendeu to be fent out, and given orders for the haltening the Equippage with all imaginable diligence. We understand that his Majelly has caused the Passports necessary for the Suddiff Ambailadors to be dispatched, and to be transmi ed to his Minist rat the Hague, to be exchanged there with the Passports of the other Allies, when those from France shall like-wile arrive in the form defire?. The interruption of the ordinary communication between us and the Sueces, is the reason that we have not freshadvices from those parts, our last informed us, that the King of Sueden is Itill towards Gomenburg, drawing his Forces together, wich a refolution to vifit us very fuddenly on this fide, or elfe to fall into Norway.

Vienna, Jan, 26. General Montecutuli is ftill very much indifposed, though on the mending hand. It is not yet certainly known who will command the Emperors Army this next Campagne, and many are of opinion, that Montecuculi will go into the Field again. This morning the Emperor performed the Ceremony of giving the Golden Fleece to the Count of Coningfes, the Count of Wallesstein, and the Count de Czernini. To morrow the Baron de Herwart parts hence for Cracow, whicher he will take his journey with all diligence possible, to affist at the Coronation of the King of Poland. The Elector of Cologne has complained to the Emperor of the Elector of Brandenburg's having possible himself of Dorsteen, praying the Emperor to interpose his authority in the matter, that he my have futisfaction.

Straiburg, Feb. 4. The great eiligence that is used here in raising the new Vevies is a sufficient argument of the apprehensions our Magistrates have of our neighbors the French; though it is find by some, that the fecret meaning of reinforcing the Gatison here as well as that in the Fort of Kiel, which guards our Brdge, is to put our felves into a possible to be able to maintain the Neutrality, which is fuid to be full offered us by the French. The Duke of Lorraiz thirs not from his quarters at Eslingen, and is not wanting to give the orders necessary for the preparing things against the next Campigne, as far as in him lies. Though the French have been fomewhat difheartned at the falling of the new Baftions which they had with much trouble and coft raifed at Haguenam, yet they continue their Works with the greateft viligence and application poffible, reiolving to make that Place, Saverme, and Schleftadt as firong as their feituation is capable of. The Count of Sternberg Vice-Chancellor of Bohemia is parted from Drejden, the Elector of Saxony's refidence, on his Errand to the Duke of Hamouer, &c.

Hamburg, Febr. 4. From Copenhagen they tell us, that that King has drawn together near Kroonenburg, a Body of 10 or 12000 Men, besides his Garifons; but that there are few Men in Funen, not above 1200, reckoning the five Companies of Dragoons of the Count of Rafgow ; however they are very much upon their guard, and have in many places, where the ground is higher than the reft, fet up pitch Barrels, which upon any appearance of the Enemy, are to be immediately fired, that by that means, the one taking the alarum from the other, the whole Illand may in fhort time have warning for the Boors, as well as the Soldiers to put themfelves in Arms. The Inhabitants of Altena have for these days past been very much affrighted, the Suedes of stade having fent out feveral Boats, with Soldiers to plunder them, but they did not put their delign into execution, hindred as is f id by the Ice.

Ditto, Febr. 7. Our Magistrates are going to fend two Deputies to the Elector of Brandenburg, who hath caufed the perfons of the Subjects of this City, at Maegdeburgh, to be arrefled, and their Goods to be feiz-The Danes of Gluckfladt, Altena, and other plaed. ces on the Elbe, are preparing to make fome attempt upon the Suedes by water, in return to what they defigned upon Altena, and to that end, are fitting up a Merchaniman, used to the Greenland Trade, and will put into her 20 Guns. Here is a discourse, that the Bishop of Munster is going to make a step to Vienna, to confer with the Emperor concerning the approaching Campagne. From Pomeren they write, that the Brandenburgs had again retaken the Island of Ufedom, with the loss of 200 Suedes, and that it was believed they would proceed and attack Anclam. The Suedes Troops that belieged Wolgaft are returned to their quarters at Straelfond, and the Isle of Rugen; and the Elector has fupplyed the Caftle with fresh ftores, of Ammunition, and other neceffaries. There is an Imperial De-cree come out, containing, That the Crown of Sueden fhall not for the future any more be called to the Dyet at Ratisbonne.

Bremen, Febr. 5. Yesterday arrived here the Sieur Klingenberg, late Ambassador from the King of Denmark at the Hague, on his way to Copenhagen i the Troops of the Confederates which are quartered in this Diocefs, have orders to hold themselves ready to march, which makes us believe, the defign upon Stade will new quickly be taken in hand. Here is appointed to be held within few days a meeting of the Deputies of the feveral Allies, in order to the agreeing what is to be done with Carelsburg (about which there feems at prefent fome dispute) that is, to whose repartition it shall belong, and whether it shall be demolished or not; this City greatly endeavors the layer, for the concern it has, not to have a check upon its Navigation and Trade as this Fort is.

Liegel, Febr. 7, The fifth inftant, the Mareschal d'Estrades marched again out of Maestricht, with four Squadrons of Horse, and some Foot, and orders were fent for a Party to draw out of our Cittadel and to join him, this made us imagine that the defign was again upon the Castle of Heers (which the Dutch have now very well fortified) but these Troops marched onely to Huy, for what reason we know not. This poor Countrey continues to be extremely vexed by the Dutch, who are very fevere with the Countrey people, that do not pay the Contributions demanded of them. The Duke of Newburg we hear proceeds with his new Levies, in order to the forming a Body of an Army, for the fecurity of his own Countrey, against all parties that shall go about to molest them. The French Ambaffadors are still at Charleville, without receiving as yet the necessary Passports from the Hague; and here hath been a difcourfe, that they have been recalled to Paris, which ha h been the rather believed, for that it's faid their Excellencies have caufed their Goods which were fhipped in certain Veffels, in order to their transportation to Nimeguen, to be taken on shore again, though, we are this day told, that they have been thipped a second time.

Amfterdam, Febr. 11. We are now fufficiently convinced of the error of the report we had hele of the French having taken the Coluby of Surinam. From Gelderland they tell us, that the Troops which upon the French besieging Heers, marched that way, ate returnsed again to their former quatters. It is faild, that orders are given to begin to work on the Merr of War that are to be fitted out there, to join with the Danes in the Baltique.

The 7th inftant arrived here Sir Hague, Febr. 11. Gabriel Sylvius, ient by His Majefty of Great Britain, to complement the Prince of Orange upon the death of his Grandmother the late Princess Dowager. Yesteday his Highness parted hence for Soeftdike, with internion to pass 7 or 8 dayes there in hunting. At Nimeguen are arrived feveral Domeflicks of the French Ambasfadors, (who are still expecting the necessary Passports at Charleville) with orders, as is faid, to prepare the houses We have not which are taken for their Excellencies. any farther account of the fuccels of the Engagement between ours and the French Fleer on the Coaft of Sicily, which we very impatiently expect. We are told of a Treaty lately concluded between the Duke of Hanouer, and the Duke of Zel and Olnabrugh, for mutual alliftance and defence. The Letters we receive from Germamy bring nothing new:

"Whitehall, Febr. g. His Majeffy has been pleafed to appoint Edward (brß rof Royfin Elq; to be Sheriff of Hersfordfbire, for the year enfung, in the room of Sit Foln Read.
