From Tuesday November 10, to Saturday November 14, 1767.

St. James's, November 11.

THIS Day the Right Honourable the Lord-Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons, of the City of London, in Common Council assembled, waited on His Majesty; and being introduced to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Earl of Hertford, Lord Chamberlain of His Majesty's Household, James Eyre, Esq; the Recorder, made their Compliments in the following Address.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons, of the City of London, in Common Council assembled, happy in every Occasion of approaching your Royal Presence with our most dutiful Congratulations, beg Leave to express our unfeigned Joy on the safe Delivery of that most Excellent Princess the Queen, and the further Increase of your Royal Family by the Birth of another Prince.

We cannot but feel ourselves deeply interested in every Event which affects the Illustrious House of Hanover, under whose mild Government the British Subjects have, for more than half a Century, been blessed with a full Enjoyment of their Civil and Religious Rights, and a Series of Happiness unknown to the same Extent in any former Period.

Permit us therefore, Royal Sir, at the same Time, humbly to offer our sincere Condolance on the much lamented Death of your Majesty's Royal Brother the Duke of York, whose many eminent and princely Virtues have most justly endeared his Memory to all your Majesty's loyal Subjects, and made the private Loss of the Royal Family, a publick Misfortune.

May the Divine Providence long preserve your Majesty; and may there never be wanting one of your Majesty's Royal Descendants to be the Guardian of our most happy Constitution.

Signed by Order of Court,
James Hodges.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return this most gracious Answer.

I Thank you for this loyal Address, and for the Satisfaction you express in the Increase of My Family: Those Expressions of your zealous Attachment cannot but be agreeable to Me: The Religion and Liberties of My People always have been, and ever shall be, the constant Objects of My Care and Attention; and I shall esteem it one of My first Duties to instil the same Principles into Those who may succeed Me.

I regard Your Condolance on the melancholy Event of the Duke of York's Death, as an additional Proof of your Attachment to Me and My Family; and I take this first Opportunity of expressing My Thanks for it.

They were all received very graciously, and had the Honor to kiss His Majesty's Hand.

Naples, October 20. Yesterday Morning there was an Eruption of Mount Vesuvius, the Sides of the Mountain split in many Places, and threw up Fountains of liquid Matter many Feet high; which afterwards formed Rivers, or rather Torrents of Fire. In an Instant the Ashes and Pumice Stones caused almost a total Darknes; and the Conflagration encreasing, his Sicilian Majesty removed, at Two o'Clock this Morning, from Portici, when the Explosions of the Volcano shook the Palace so much, that his Majesty was obliged to quit it hastily, and return to this Capital. One Branch of Lava threatened Portici itself; and, after having destroyed Vineyards, stopped only about a Mile and an half short of it. Another Branch came down, in less than two Hours, above four Miles towards the Torre del Annunciat. Another, still more considerable Lava, is running in a Valley between Somma and Mount Vesuvius. The Houses in this Capital were shaken violently almost all the Night, which is supposed to have been rather owing to the Concussion of the Air from the Explosions of the Mountain, than to Earthquakes. Vesuvius is so entirely covered with Clouds of Ashes, that it is impossible to tell its exact State; but the Explosions have ceased for the present. This Eruption is certainly much more violent than any that has happened of late Years; but now that the Mountain has Vent in so many Places, it is not imagined that this Capital is in any Danger; when it has suffered formerly, it has been from Earthquakes, which have preceded Eruptions of the Mountain, or accompanied the very Moment of its Eruption. By an Account this Moment received, Portici is still in Danger, as the Lava runs afresh.

St. James's, November 14, 1767.

Whereas it has been humbly represented to the King, That a Barn full of Corn, and a Cow-House adjoining, in the Parish of Pentloe in the County of Essex, the said Barn and Cow-House being the Property of William Jennens, of Acton-Place in the County of Suffolk, Esq; and the Corn, the Property of one Thomas Griggs of Pentloe in the said County of Essex, Farmer, were, on Saturday the 26th of September last, about Ten o'Clock at Night, set on Fire and consumed, whereby the said Persons have sustained Loss and Damages to a very considerable Amount; and that the said Thomas Griggs apprehends there is great Reason to suspect the said Barn, full of Corn, and Cow-House, were set on Fire by some malicious Person or Persons in the Neighbourhood: His Majesty, for the better discovery and bringing to Justice the Persons concerned therein, is hereby pleased to promise his most gracious Pardon to any one of them, (except the Person who actually set Fire to the said Barn and Cow-House) who shall discover his or her Accomplice or Accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.
