Whereas it has been humbly represented to the King, That an anonymous threatening Letter has been lately sent to John Shorter, a Dyer in the Town of Whitney in the County of Oxford, containing the Words, Letters, and Figures following, viz.

"Sirs,

"I hope that will be so good in a week or two's time to oblige the Bakers to make the Bread according as the Price of Wheat is As they do at Oxford, Abingdon, and many other Places. And do not suffer such damned wheefing fat gutted Rogues to Starve the Poor by such Hellish Ways on purpose that they may follow hunting horseracing &c and to maintain their families in Pride and extravagance. therefore you Bailliffs of Witney follow the Orders that are Writing above or in a short time I and thirty more of my true Companions will do our best endeavour to destroy all such Vermin as you are, likewise your Houses ricks or goods on the rack."

"we are 31. that's just the game.

"and surely will perform the same"

His Majesty, for the better discovering and bringing to Justice the Persons concerned in Writing the said anonymous threatening Letter, and in Sending the same to the said John Shorter, is hereby pleased to promise His most gracious Pardon to any one of them, (except the Person who actually wrote the said Letter) who shall discover his or her Accomplice or Accomplices in the said Facts, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

H. S. CONWAY.

And, as a further Encouragement, the Bailiffs of the said Town of Whitney, do hereby promise a Reward of Ten Pounds to any Person or Persons making such Discovery as aforesaid, (except as above excepted) to be paid by them upon the Conviction of any one or more of the Offenders.

John Shorter.

Whitehall, October 31, 1767.

Whereas it has been humbly represented to the King, That a threatening and incendiary Writing was publicly affixed in the Town of St. Heliers in the Island of Jersey, containing the following Words.

"This is to give Notice to all Owners and Commanders of Vessels trading from Jersey that whoever shall Directly or Indirectly Presume to take any Cattle or other Provision on board for exportation, that their Vessels will be Burnt, sunk, Blown up, or otherwise destroy'd, without distinction and themselves deem'd, as Canibals, and treated as such

"Also to give Notice to that black Dog Gilbert that he has more enemies then the number of Cows he has sent away, and he is advis'd not to make so many Country tripp's for some of his friends will Present him with an ounce of Lead, which will soon Convert him into Worms Meat"

"Prenez Garde a Vous Diable—

His Majesty, for the better discovering and bringing
