THE Island of Montserrat has been in the utmost Consternation, having been threatned with a very dangerous Insurrection of the Negroes, which was however happily prevented by the Hand of Providence, and it is hoped is now entirely crushed. Upon the first Notice of it, Admiral Pye sent down two of His Majesty's Ships, and the President of St. Christopher's ordered a Detachment of fifty Men from the 68th Regiment. The Plot of these miserable Wretches was deep laid, and must have been long projected, as they had furnished themselves with great Store of Arms and Ammunition, which they had concealed in the Mountains. It was to have been carried into Execution upon St. Patrick's Day, which the principal White Inhabitants, chiefly Irish, usually assembled together to commemorate. Those Negroes that attended within Doors, were to have secured the Swords of the Gentlemen; and upon a Signal given, those that were without, were to fire into the Room, and put every Man to Death, as he endeavoured to escape. The Savages had cast Off for the Ladies, who they intended to carry off the Island to Porto Rico in the Ships which then lay in the Harbour, and were to have been secured upon the same Signal. The Conspiracy was discovered but a few Days before it was to have been carried into Execution, by a Woman who overheard two of the Conspirators disputing about the Disposition of their Arms, and whose Evidence was scarcely credited, as she was much in Liquor when she gave it. Five of these Wretches have been already executed, and many more must suffer the same Fate.
