The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Saturday October 21, to Tuesday October 24, 1769.

Dublin Castle, October 17.

THIS Day the Parliament having met according to the last Prorogation, his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant went in State to the House of Peers; and being seated on the Throne with the usual Ceremony, his Excellency sent for the Commons, and directed them to chuse a Speaker; and they having unanimously elected the Right Hon. John Ponsonby, Esq; into that Office, he was by them presented, and was approved by his Excellency: And then his Excellency made the following Speech to both Houses.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

IT is with particular Satisfaction that in Obedience to His Majesty's Commands, I meet the first Parliament, limited in Duration, that ever assembled in this Kingdom.

I am confident that you are come together with the justest Sentiments of Duty and Affection to our most excellent Sovereign, who has gratified the earnest Wishes of His faithful Subjects of Ireland with that great Improvement of their Constitution.

I flatter myself that the Protestant Interest has already found the happy Effects of it; and that the many gracious Marks which you have experienced of His Majesty's paternal Regard, will animate your Deliberations, and direct them to all such Measures, as may secure to you the Blessings you enjoy.

Since the last Session of Parliament, the Royal Family has been encreased by the Birth of another Prince; Interacted as you are in the Happiness of His Majesty, and of His illustrious House, you will receive, with the sincerest Pleasure, a Communication of so joyful an Event.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I have ordered the proper Accounts and Estimates to be laid before you, and doubt not you will make every necessary Provision for the Honor of His Majesty's Government, and the Safety and Welfare of this Kingdom.

I am extremely happy to inform you that the Exigencies of Government have required only a very moderate Use to be made of that confidential Credit which was granted by the last Parliament, and I trust you will always find, on my Part, the same Attention to Public Economy.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

As the wisest Nations have ever deemed Times of Peace the best Season for improving their Civil Policy, and providing for their Security, I recommend it to you not to neglect the present favorable Opportunity.

The Strength and Riches of a Country are in Proportion to the Number of its industrious Inhabitants; and as a Religious and Virtuous Education is the surest Guide to Industry and good Morals, you will not be unmindful of that useful and charitable Institution, the Protestant Charter-Schools; you will consider the Original Design, and great End of them: You will observe whether their Course corresponds with their first Plan, and you will correct any Defects which Experience may point out to you.

The Linen Manufacture is an Object that will always engage your utmost Attention; I see with the truest Pleasure that Source of Opulence daily extending itself over this Kingdom: Be it your Care to preserve it in full Credit, and that neither Fraud or Negligence, which have so often proved fatal to the most flourishing Branches of Commerce and Manufacture, be suffered to defeat this National Acquisition.

I must recommend to your most serious Consideration, what further Laws may be necessary to prevent the pernicious Practice of the clandestine Running of Goods.—The great Lengths to which it has been carried of late, and the Obstruction which the Revenue Officers frequently meet with in the Execution of their Duty, require some effectual Remedy.—The Suppression of these Abuses will have a double Effect, as, at the same Time that it increases the publick Stock and national Strength, it will afford a just and equitable Assistance to the honest Citizen and fair Trader.

In these and in all your Consultations, I am persuaded you will proceed with that Unanimity and Wisdom, which Matters of such high Importance require.—You cannot fail by such Conduct to meet with His Majesty's most favorable Countenance and Approbation; and you may in every Thing rely on my best Assistance, not only from the Duty I owe to the King, but from the sincere Affection which I bear to this Kingdom.

Dublin Castle, October 19.

The Houses of Lords and Commons having unanimously resolved upon humble Addresses to His Majesty, the same, together with Addresses from both Houses to the Lord Lieutenant, were this Day presented to his Excellency, and, with his Excellency's Answers, are as follow:

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament assembled.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament assembled, beg Leave to approach your Throne, with our grateful Acknowledgment, of the many inestimable Blessings which we have enjoyed during your Majesty's most auspicious Reign.

Permit us to assure your Majesty, that we are come together with the justest Sentiments of Duty and Affection to your Majesty, who has gratified the earnest Wishes of your faithful Subjects of Ireland with that great Improvement of our Constitution, the Act for limiting the Duration of Parliaments.

We trust the Protestant Interest has already experienced its salutary Effects, and we are happy in the Consideration, that his Excellency, our present chief Governor, that faithful Servant of the Crown, and affectionate Friend to this Country, who has the Satisfaction of Meeting, in Obedience to your Majesty's Commands, the first Parliament, limited in its Duration, that ever assembled in this Kingdom, hath, through your Majesty's Goodness to your People here, been continued amongst us, not only to be a joyful Witness of those happy Effects, but to afford us the welcome Opportunity of conveying, through him, to your Majesty, our Thanks for that invaluable Benefit, which, by your Majesty's Grace and Favour, he was made the happy Instrument of conferring upon us.

We should be unworthy of the many gracious Marks which we have experienced of your Majesty's paternal Regard, if it did not animate our Deliberations, Deliberations, and direct them to all such Measures as may secure the Continuance of those Blessings which we enjoy.

Interested, as we are, in the domestic Happiness of your Majesty, and your Royal and most excellent Consort, and in whatever contributes to the Strength of your illustrious House, we have received, with the sincerest Pleasure, the Communication of an Increase of your Royal Family, since the last Session of Parliament, by the Birth of another Princess.

As we are taught, by the Examples of the wisest Nations, as well as by the Nature and Reason of Things, that Times of Peace are the best Seasons for improving the Civil Polity of a Nation, and providing for its Security; we beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that we shall not be regardless of the Opportunity which Providence is now pleased to favour us with.

Permit us, Royal Sir, further to assure your Majesty, that, in all our Consultations, upon those great and national Objects which have been recommended to us in his Excellency's Speech from the Throne, we will proceed with that Diligence and Unanimity which Matters of such high Importance require, and which may procure to us, what we most ardently wish to obtain, a Continuance of your Majesty's favourable Countenance and Approbation.

Wm. Watts Gayer, } Cler. Parliament.
Edw. Gayer,

His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant's Answer.

My Lords,

I Will forthwith transmit this dutiful and loyal Address to be laid before His Majesty.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Knights, Citizens, and Burghesses, in Parliament assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland in Parliament assembled, humbly beg Leave to assure your Majesty of our firm Attachment to your sacred Person, Royal Family, and Government.

We beg Leave to express the justest Sentiments of Duty and Affection to your Majesty, for having gratified the earnest Wishes of your faithful Subjects with that great Improvement of the Constitution, the Law for Limiting the Duration of Parliaments; the happy Effects of which begin already to appear in Strengthening and Extending the Protestant Religion in this Kingdom.

We most thankfully acknowledge the many gracious Marks we have experienced of your Majesty's paternal Regard to your Subjects of this Kingdom; the Sense of which must at all Times animate our Deliberations, and direct them to all such Measures as may secure to us the Blessings we enjoy under your auspicious Government.

Permit us to congratulate your Majesty on the further Addition to your illustrious House by the Birth of another Princess; an Event which must give the highest Satisfaction to a People so deeply interested in the Happiness of so excellent a Sovereign, adorned with every Virtue that constitutes the great King and the amiable Father of a Family.

We return our most sincere Thanks to your Majesty, for giving the first Parliament limited in Duration, an Opportunity of meeting his Excellency Lord Townshend, a Chief Governor, under whose Administration we obtained that excellent Law; from whose Experience of our Loyalty and Zeal, and from whose mild and prudent Government, we have the highest Expectations, that the Honour of the Crown and the Liberties of the People will be duly attended to.

The great Affection which your loyal and faithful Commons of Ireland have ever testified for your sacred Person, and the Succession of your illustrious House, will always induce them, to the utmost of their Abilities, to grant such Supplies as may be necessary for the Support of your Majesty's Government, and the Safety of this Kingdom.

Fully sensible that Times of Peace are the best Seasons for improving the Civil Polity, and providing for the Security of a Nation, and that the Strength and Riches of a Country must be in Proportion to the Number of its industrious Inhabitants, and the Purity of their Morals; we assure your Majesty, that we shall be particularly attentive to that useful and charitable Institution, the Protestant Charter Schools, so as that the same shall be rendered as advantageous as possible to this Country; and that we shall, to the utmost of our Power, promote and extend the Linen Manufacture of this Kingdom, and provide such further Laws as may be necessary to prevent the pernicious Practice of the clandestine Running of Goods: And that in these and all our other Consultations we shall endeavour to proceed with that Unanimity and Wisdom, which Matters of such high Importance require.

E. Sterling, } Cler. Dom. Com.
H. Alcock,

His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant's Answer.

I Will take the first Opportunity to transmit this loyal and affectionate Address to be laid before His Majesty.

To his Excellency George Lord Viscount Townshend, Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland,

The humble Address of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament assembled.

May it please your Excellency,

WE His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament assembled, do, with the utmost Satisfaction, offer your Excellency our sincerest Thanks for your most excellent Speech from the Throne.

We beg Leave to assure your Excellency, that we consider it as a great Proof of His Majesty's Goodness to us, that He hath been pleased to continue your Excellency our Chief Governor to meet us in this first Parliament limited in its Duration, that ever assembled in this Kingdom.

We cannot but have observed, in the Course of your Excellency's Residence amongst us, how much your Excellency's Thoughts and Endeavours have been employed to acquire a true Knowledge of the Circumstances, Affairs, and true Interests of this Country, from whence, and from a Reflection upon the Integrity with which you have served His Majesty, and the eminent Services which you have done your Country in the great Stations to which you have been called, we have the most pleasing Hopes and fairest Prospect, that your Excellency's Administration here will proceed in such a Manner, as to render it throughout Glorious to His Majesty, Honourable to yourself, and most propitious and fortunate to this Kingdom.

Your Benevolence and Affection for us, manifested by the many Instances which you have given us of it, inspire us with an earnest Desire to render your Government as easy to yourself as so arduous and important a Concern can be.

We beg Leave to add our Assurances to your Excellency, that all our Deliberations upon those great and important Matters, recommended to us with great Force and Energy in your Speech, shall be conducted by us in such a Manner as may recommend us to what we ever wish above all Things to obtain, His Majesty's gracious Approbation, and as may preserve to us your Excellency's favourable Opinion.

Wm. Watts Gayer, } Cler. Parliament
Edw. Gayer,

His Excellency's Answer.

My Lords,

I AM truly sensible of the Honour you have done me by this kind and affectionate Address; and I shall flatter myself, that a constant Obedience to the just and gracious Commands of my Royal Master, and a warm Attachment to your Interests and Prosperity, will continue to me the invaluable Possession of your Confidence and Approbation.

To his Excellency George Lord Viscount Townshend, Lord Lieutenant General and General
Governor of Ireland,

The humble Address of the Knights, Citizens, and Burgesſies in Parliament aſſembled.

May it please your Excellency,

WE His Maſteſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland in Parliament aſſembled, return your Excellency our moſt humble Thanks for your moſt excellent Speech from the Throne, and beg Leave at the ſame Time to expreſs our ſincere and hearty Congratulation on this Parliament being appointed to meet your Excellency, under whoſe Adminiſtration this Kingdom has been made happy in the Acquiſition of that great Improvement to our Conſtitution, the Law for Limiting the Duration of Parliaments; and as we are the firſt Parliament which has ever aſſembled in this Kingdom in Conſequence of that Law, we conſider it as a particular Mark of His Maſteſty's Goodneſs, that He has been pleaſed to give us this Opportunity of aſſuring your Excellency, that we entertain the juſteſt Senſe of and Gratitude for your Excellency's effectual Endeaſours in Favour of that Meaſure, among the many happy Effects of which the Encreaſe and Strengthening of the Proteſtant Intereſt begin already to take Place.

When we reflect on this, and the many other convincing Proofs which this Kingdom has received of your Excellency's true Regard to its Welfare and Happineſs, we have the ſulleſt Confidence that under your Excellency's Adminiſtration, the Honour and Dignity of the Crown, and the juſt Rights and Liberties of the People, will be maintained and protected.

We beg Leave to aſſure your Excellency, that we ſhall chearfully concur in granting ſuch Supplies as ſhall be neceſſary for the Support of his Maſteſty's Government, and the Safety and Welfare of this Kingdom.

We return your Excellency our hearty Thanks for your having been pleaſed to inform us that the Exigencies of Government have required only a very moderate Uſe to be made of that confidential Credit which was granted by the laſt Parliament; and we are thoroughly ſatisfied, that during your Excellency's Adminiſtration, the ſame Attention to the publick Economy will continue.

We ſhall not neglect the favourable Opportunity which this Time of Peace affords us to attend to thoſe Objects which your Excellency has been pleaſed to recommend to us; and as we are fully confident, that the Strength and Riches of a Country are in Proportion to the Number, Induſtry and good Morals, of the Inhabitants, we ſhall uſe our utmoſt Endeavours to make that uſeful and charitable Inſtitution, the Proteſtant Charter School, effectually correſpond with its original Deſign and great End.

The Linen Manufacture is an Object which ſhall always engage our earneſt Attention, and it ſhall be our Care, as far as in us lies, to preſerve that important Branch of our Trade in its full Credit and Extent.

We ſhall take into our moſt ſerious Conſideration, what further Laws may be neceſſary, to prevent the clandefline Running of Goods; a Practice ſo injurious to the publick Revenue, and detrimental to the fair Trader.

We beg Leave to return our warmeſt Acknowledgements to your Excellency, for the Attention
you have been pleaſed to expreſs for this Kingdom;
and to aſſure your Excellency, that we, on our Part, ſhall make it our Study in all our Conſultations, to proceed with that Unanimity which your Excellency has been pleaſed to recommend to us.

E. Sterling, } Cler. Dom. Com.
H. Alcock, }

His Excellency's Answer.

I am extremely obliged to the Houſe of Commons for this kind Addreſs, which gives me the greater Satisfaction, as it follows your Experience of my Conduct during a Reſidence of two Years in this Kingdom.

I cannot, however, but impute a great Part of this Honour to the Reſpect which His Maſteſty's faithful Commons of Ireland have, upon every Occaſion, expreſſed for the high Commiſſion His Maſteſty has placed in my Hands.

Be aſſured, Gentlemen, that I ſhall endeavour by a ſteady, and I hope, diſinterreſted Attention, to the true Service of this Kingdom, and by a juſt Representation of the conſtant and unſhaken Loyalty of the People of Ireland, to preſerve your Approbation and Confidence.
