Cragow, May 17.

THis week the King and Queen returned hither from Czenstokowa, where they have been to perform their Devotions, but without making any long stay here, continued their journey to Famoron in Russia, with intentions of remaining there, till the King goes into the Field with the Army, which will Rendezvous near Léopol. We have Advice, That the Grand Signior was parted from Adrianople, on his way to Constantinople, occasioned by a Rebellion which is said to be broke out in his Territories in Asia; so that we hope the Port will be thereby so far diverted, as that we shall be able to make the War on this side with greater advantage to this Crown, than we have hitherto done.

Venice, May 29. Several French Tartanes are arrived at Zante, being bound with Provisions from the Mores to Messina. From Adrianople we have Letters overland, which say, That on the 12 past, our Ambassador at the Port had his first Audience of the Grand Signior, with the usual Solemnity; That on the 13 of the same Month, the Grand signior parted from Adrianople, on his journey to Constantinople; That that night he lodged at Falisdere, three Leagues from Adrianople, where the Fanariotes made a complaint to the Grand signior, that they had for several months past not received any Pay; and that the Servizi (Pay-master to the said Fanariotes) had made use of the monies for his own use: who being immediately sent for, and not being able to justify himself, was strangled in the Grand Signiors presence; That being arrived near Constantinople, the Grand Signior had caused his Tents to be set up, and lodged in them, sending orders to the Sultana Mother to repair forthwith with the Militia that was there to Adrianople.

Copenhagen, June 20. This morning arrived here a Vessel from the Baltick, the Master of which reports, That he passed through our Fleet, and that he understood there, of the Victory they had obtained over the Suedes, having taken 8 Men of War, &c. But this meets with little credit here, seeing the same Wind has brought this Vessel to the Sounds, would have brought some of our Advice-Boats, to give the King an account, if any thing considerable had passed; but because the Master of the said Vessel, hath affirmed very confidently the truth of what he reported, he hath been put into Prison, till we hear farther, that he may be either rewarded or punished.

Vienna, June 14. On Tuesday last, being the Emperors Birth-day, the Empress Dowager Treated his Imperial Majesty in her Garden of the Favorites, where was present the Electoral Prince of Saxony. On Monday the Emperor gave Audience to the Prince of Norburg, whom he received with great kindness and esteem. The Count Minky purposes to part hence in few days for Nims, and will be soon followed by the Bishop of Gunsberg. On Thursday last the Queen Dowager of Poland arrived at Neustadt, whether the Emperor will go to visit her.

Strasbourg, June 19. The French Army, under the command of the Duke of Luxemburg, continue to be encamp-ped at Hochfeldt, on this side the River Sarn; but we are told that he intends to come to Schaf-holtzheim, on the River Prusch, which is in the Territory of this City. Here was a report some days since, as if some Letters of the Duke of Luxemburg had been intercepted, by which it appeared, that he had a design to have surprized Bergh-saurne, Landau, Weisssemburg, and Amwyer; and that to prevent it, the Duke of Lorraine has Posted himself between Lauzemburg and Weisssemburg, as well as to keep all relief from Philipsburg, which will now be vigorously attacked. We are assured that a new reinforcement is coming from Lorraine to the D. of Luxemburg; and that when arrived, an attempt will be made to raise the siege of Philipsburg.

Spires, June 20. The Duke of Lorraine is at present Posted with the greatest part of the Imperial Army near Weisssemburg, to cover the Siege of Philipsburg, having sent thither 10 Battalions of Foot, to assist the Troops of the Circles; and we are assured, that the 24 infantry Trenches will be opened, and that then the Attacks will be advanced with all possible vigor, to which the Electors of Mentz, and of Treves, contribute, by sending several pieces of Cannon, and a considerable quantity of Ammunition. The Elector Palatine has likewise sent from the Arsenal at Manheim, 4 great pieces of Cannon for Battery, 4 Mortar-pieces, 200 Bombes, weighing each 60 l. &c. In the mean time we do not hear that the French make any motion for the relief of the place.

Frankfort, June 21. We have been here some time surprized with the various Marches and Countermarches of the Armies in Misice. The news of the Imperial Armies having passed the Rhine at Strasbourg, with orders as was said, from the Emperor, to march directly to the Siege of Philipsburg, came very unexpected, as did likewise the advice of their having again repassed the Rhine the 13 instant at Lauzemburg, which they did with great diligence, upon the information the Duke of Lorraine received, that the Duke of Luxemburg was marching towards Hagenau. The former is at present Posted at Weissburg, while the Enemy seems intended to march back towards Strasbourg, which will put that City into some Alarm. In the mean time the Marquis of Baden-Dourlach fortifies the Posts he has taken about Philipsburg, which is every day more and more straitened. The other day the French made a Sally upon the Pioneers that were at work in the quarter of General Vermuller, but they were forced to retire again with some loss. The Prisoners that have been taken on several occasions, speak very differently of the condition of the place: some telling us, that there is so great want of Provisions, that the Garrison is forced to feed upon Horse flesh; others contradict this again, and assure us, that the Besieged have abundance of all Provisions, except Salt, and that the Garrison is numerous, and resolved to defend the place to the last; so that amidst these uncertainties, we know not what to credit. Our Magistrates have sent several pieces of Cannon to the Camp, which are now on their way thither, and Strasbourg, has done the like, the Electors Palatine, of Mentz and of Treves, will likewise contribute their parts: and, we are told, that when the Attacks begin, the place will be batter'd with 60 pieces of Cannon. The three Regiments of the Circle of Franconia, expect onely the coming up of some Imperial Cavalry, which is arriv'd at Nuremberg to join them, and then they will march with all diligence to the Camp before Philipsburg. The Duke of Wirtemberg sends likewise several Troops, and some Cannon thither.

Cologne, June 23. The Vanguard of the Osnaburg Troops are arriv'd at Mulheim, and the rest are expected there in a day or two; the general Rendezvous will be at Bonne, where, it's said, they will pass the Rhine. Monsieur de Louvigny will part hence to morrow towards Bonne, to take upon him the command of these Troops. The Duke of Osnaburg is expected here this evening, or to morrow morning.

Hamburg, June 23. The Sieur Bastiaenz is arriv'd with 7 Men of War in the Elbe, with design to have attacked the Suedish ships that came to relieve Stade, but they were fail'd before. In order to their return to Gostemburg. We hear nothing farther of a second Engagement between the Suedes and the Danes Fleets, but by the way of Lubeck. we have Letters from the Isle of Rugen, of the 17 instant, which say, That the Fleet of Sweden lay then off of that Isle, and that they were putting ashore about 1000 Soldiers, and a great quantity of all sorts of Military Provisions. We cannot certainly hear in what state Wolgast is, the Suedes have been for a long time before it; and we have had several reports that it was surrendred, but without any certainty. We are told with much assurance, that the Brandenburg Forces will march the next week, and that they will in the first place besiege Demmin.

Brussels, June 26. The Most Christian King is at present encamped with part of his Army at Kienain, the rest of his Troops being Posted about Valenciennes and Comuroy, so that those places are in a manner blocked up; and from Cambray they particularly write, That the Sieur de Muberon was encamped with a considerable Body of Men at Ramilly; not far from that place, having burnt and destroy'd all the Corn and Forage in that Neighborhood; the like has been done by the Enemy in the Neighborhoods of Valenciennes, of Adons, and St Guislain. Our Army continues encamped at Lombec Notre Dame, between this place and Ninoven; and as yet we do not learn when it will remove from thence, though the discourse still is, that so soon as the Osnaburg Troops come up, his Highness will go and Besiege some place of importance. The defeat of the Cavalry of Valenciennes on the 19 instant, by the Baron de Quincy, is a very considerable loss to that Garrison, for we have now an account of 500 having been killed or taken Prisoners. By an Express from Venice, we receive the ill News of the French having burnt in the Road of Palermo, 10 Dutch and Spanish Men of War, and 6 Gallies. Our Letters from Alsace bring nothing considerable, the Duke of Lorraine has Posted himself very advantageously at Crom-Weissenburg, to secure the Siege of Philipsburg, to which he had sent a good Body of Infantry, which was wanted there. The 30 instant, the Duke of Luxemburg went and encamped within three Leagues of Strasbourg. The late Maitre de Camp General Quinones, has, it's said, received orders from Spain to go into the Campaign, for which he is accordingly preparing. On Thursday was performed the great Solemnity of the Prince de Roebeck's receiving the Order of the Golden Fleeces, from the hands of the Marquis Burgomastro, to which all the Nobility and Publick Ministers were invited, who afterwards were entertained at Dinner by the said Prince, with great magnificence.

Ghent, June 27. The Spanish and Dutch Armies, under the command of the Prince of Orange, and the Duke de Villa Hermosa, have been these eight dayes encamped at Lombec Notre Dame, about two Leagues from Brussels. We are in expectation that the Prince of Orange will go and besiege some place towards the Maes, while his Excellency remains in these parts, to observe the Enemy. The Most Christian King is encamped at Ripkain, not having with him there above 12000 Men, the rest being Posted at Conde, Quevaux, St Amand, Naspe, and other Posts about Valenciennes, which gives us great apprehension of the Enemies design upon that City. And from Cambray they write, That 8000 Men, under the command of the Marquis de Muberon, were encamped within a League of that place, having several pieces of Cannon with them.

Nimeguen, June 24. Since the arrival of Monsieur Colbert, and Monsieur d' Avaux, the French Ambassadors, the usual Visits have passed between them; and the English, and Dutch Ambassadors. A House is preparing for the Marschal d' Ebrades, who is expected here on Saturday next, his Excellency intending to part from Maestrich to morrow. The Market here is hitherto very well supplied with Provisions, and at very reasonable rates.

Hague, June 26. The Sieur Ottensersan, one of the Ambassadors and Plenipotentiaries of Sweden for the Treaty at Nimeguen, is arriv'd here, and in a day or two will continue his journey thither. Though we have the News of the burning our ships at Palermo onely from France, yet we can hardly doubt the truth of it; and the rather, for that we had before heard of the disagreement that was between the Spanish Admiral, and the Commanders of our Fleet, which in all likelihood has very much contributed to this success of the Enemy. It is much wondred, that we have not as yet any account of what has passed in the Baltick between the Danes and Suedes Fleet, since Admiral Tromp joined the former. From Cologne they write, That the Osnaburg Troops, which have been so long expected, begun to arrive upon the Rhine, and that in a day or two, the whole Body of them would Rendezvous at Bonne. The Siege of Philipsburg has hitherto advanced very slowly; but our last Letters from Spire, give us hopes, that since the Duke of Lorraine has sent thither 10 Battalions of Foot, things there will be carried on more vigorously for the future, in which the Neighbouring Princes are very much concerned.

Paris, June 27. Our Letters from Flanders, inform us of a Rencounter which the Baron de Quincy had the 19 instant with 1300 Horse of the Garrison of Valenciennes, whom he defeated, and pursued to the Barrier of Valenciennes, above 400 of the Enemy were killed, and many taken Prisoners. The 21 instant, the King passed the Haine, and took his quarters at Kienain, where his Majesty still continues. Our Letters from Alsace, give us an account, That the Duke of Lorraine was encamped at Weissenburg, having before him the River Lauter. The 20 instant, the Duke of Luxemburg marched from Hausfeldt to Brump, within three Leagues of Strasbourg. The 25 instant, arriv'd at Bell-Isle one of the Kings ships called the Ruby, together with the Blauygnon, and the Happy, very richly Laden from the East-Indies. The King has written a Letter to the Archbishop of this City, to direct him to cause Te Deum to be sung in our Cathedral, with the usual Solemnity, for the great Victory obtained by his Fleet on the Coast of Sicily. We have Letters which give us an account of a considerable advantage obtained by the Fleet of Sweden, over that of Denmark in the Baltique, of which we expect a confirmation.
