The Distemper among the Horned Cattle having made it's Appearance in French Flanders, this Government ordered a Cordon to be formed in the Neighbourhood of Bruges, to prevent all Communication with the Places infested. This Order was so rigorously observed, that the Country Farmers, who were to attend the Bruges Market with Corn, absented themselves for two Market Days; so that the Inhabitants were a Week without any Corn to be bought; upon which they, imagining the Commanding Officer to be the sole Cause of this Scarcity, went in a tumultuous Manner to his Quarters, demanding him to be delivered up to them; which being refused, they forced into the House, which they almost destroyed. By this Time a Guard of Soldiers came, who, having cleared the House, dressed the Officer in Question in a Soldier's Uniform, and by that Means saved him from the Fury of the Populace. Since this Affair General Murray has marched to Bruges with two Battalions and six Pieces of Cannon; and we hear that every Thing is quiet there at present.
