Duke-Street, Westminster.

THOMAS NORRIS.

S I R,

Portsmouth, 25th Jan. 1772.

IN the Outward Passage, by the Surgeon of the Ship's Report to me, of the 5th of April last, it appeared, that Geo. Hunter and Laur. Pittman, two of the Seamen, were taken ill with malignant Fevers; that having, for several Days, been given the usual Medicines without Effect, he thought them past a Possibility of Recovery. Judging this a fit Opportunity to make a Trial of the Efficacy of your Drops, (sic notwithstanding the Recommendations which were given me of them, and which induced me to take them with me, I had resolved to let every usual Means take Place before I gave them) I then therefore gave a Bottle to the Surgeon, and desired they might be administered; he said, It would, he believed, be of little Consequence whatever was given them, as he thought they could not live to the next Day; however, he would try them. The next Morning, in his Account to me of the Sick, he told me the Men were much better, and he believed they would recover, which from that Time they did, and were soon after able to do their Duty in the Ship.

On the 27th of July following, being in the Southern Part of the Torrid Zone, Mr. Jollin, the Boatswain of the Ship, was taken ill of the same Fever, with the like Symptoms as the two former; and after the Surgeon had represented to me, that he had used all the Means in his Power for his Recovery, to no Purpose, the Antimonial Drops were given, and had the desired Effect, by his immediate Recovery.

Sometime afterwards, in the Southern Ocean, Ja. Hamm and Evan Williams, the one a Boy, the other a Marine, were seized with a Fever, and were, by the Surgeon's Report to me, given over for many Days; the Drops were given them also, which produced a plentiful Sweating, and their immediate Recovery. Such repeated Success gives me the highest Opinion of the Virtues and Efficacy of your Antimonial Drops; and on these Grounds I cannot too strongly recommend them.

Extract from the Surgeon's Journal.

5th of April, 1771. Geo. Hunter taken ill of a malignant Fever; Symptoms, a Head-Ach, Vomiting, burning Heat for many Days; the Medicines given had no Effect; then a Purging came on, with an Insensibility: He continued in that State Four or Five Days; when Dr. Norris's Antimonial Drops were given, which, without any sensible Operation, had the desired Effect.

Same Day Lawrence Pittman was taken ill; symptoms the same as Hunter, and given over; when the Antimonial Drops were administered, which, without any sensible Operation, had the desired Effect.

27th July. Mr. Jollin was taken ill of the same Fever as Hunter and Pittman; Symptoms the same; and after Medicines being given to no Effect, and given over, the Antimonial Drops were given, and had the desired Effect.

James Hamm and Evan Williams were both seized with the same Fever; Symptoms the same; and were both given over for many Days: The Antimonial Drops were then given, which brought on a plentiful Sweating, and both recovered.

The Disorders for which Dr. Norris's Antimonial Drops are particularly recommended, are, putrid malignant, acute inflammatory, miliary, and nervous Fevers; Colds, inveterate Coughs, consumptive Habits, Disorders of the Stomach and Bowels, Indigestion, the Rheumatism, and all nervous Complaints.
