And, as a farther Encouragement, and in order to deter any Person from molesting or intimidating the Officers and Persons employed in endeavouring to bring to Justice the Person or Persons who have attempted, in open Violation of the Law, to commit Frauds on the Bank, to the Endangering of Publick Credit, the Governor and Company of the Bank of England do hereby promise a Reward of ONE HUNDRED GUINEAS to any Person making such Discovery as aforesaid, (except as before excepted) to be paid by the said Secretary of the Bank, upon the Conviction of any one or more of the Offenders.

St. James's, September 19, 1772.

Whereas it hath been humbly represented to the King, That on Thursday last the 17th Instant, a Second Threatening Letter was delivered by the Penny-Post at the Bank of England, which had been put into the General Post-Office in Lombard Street, of which the following is a Copy, viz.

S^r

In Last Saturday Nights Gazete I find You have thought Proper to publish my Letter with A Reward for Apprehending me. — by which You have Not only Aggravated the Circumstance but have made Your fate More Certain, As by all thats Good and Great, Your Life shall pay the forfeit — & that only Can Make me A Recompence. for the Vile Injury and Unjustice. A poor Unhappy Youth has Experienc'd from your hands — . . . Sorry I am to say that My first Attempt. proved Ineffectual to put A finall Period to your Existance — as such is my Determined Resolution and tho I have failed in my first Yet Attempt

A second . . . which is near at hand . . . May Prove Your Destruction. Therefore Dear S^r. I would have You prepare your self . . . for Eternity — as most Certainly You will Launch Therein . . . when You think but Little of it. — Think not that I am joking with You for so shure as thears A God in Heaven . . . so thare You Die by the Hands of him who Signs

(Superscribed) . . . Inflexably Resolute

To
The Secretary of
The Bank of England.

His Majesty, for the better discovering and bringing to Justice the Person or Persons concerned in so insolent and audacious a Crime, is hereby pleased to promise His most gracious Pardon to any one of them, (except the Person who actually wrote the said Letter) who shall discover his, her, or their Accomplice or Accomplices, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.
