The Museum Lottery will be determined by the State Lottery of the Year 1774, unless there is a Disagreement in the Number of Tickets, or unless any other unforeseen Circumstance shall prevent such Determination; in that Case it shall be drawn at Guildhall, or some Public Place near the Royal Exchange, in the State Lottery Wheels, under the Management and Direction of Commissioners who have assisted in drawing one or more of the State Lotteries, and in the same Manner as the State Lotteries are usually drawn and conducted.

If there should be no State Lottery in the Year 1774, the Museum Lottery shall be drawn within Three Months of the Time, which has been usually set apart for Drawing the State Lottery.

To accommodate Persons subscribing for Twenty Tickets, or upwards, and sending their Names to the Museum Lottery-Office, No. 104 in Shoe-Lane, on or before the 1st of November next, they will, paying a Deposit of Ten per Cent. have conditional Receipts delivered to them, exchangeable for Tickets, if the Remainder of the Money is paid in Three Months.

Subscribers not making good their Payments shall forfeit their Deposits.

The Money received for Tickets is deposited in the Hands of Mess. Fuller, Halford, and Vaughan, Bankers, in Cornhill, to answer the sole Purpose for which the Lottery was granted.

In order that the Tickets of the Classes A and B may be upon a perfect Equality, the first-drawn Ticket shall decide in which Class the Ear-rings and their fellow Prize shall be; for instance, if the Number of the first-drawn is 30,000 or under, then the Ear-rings with the Bust of the Empress of Russia shall be in Class A, and the fellow Prize in Class B; on the other Hand, if the Number of the first-drawn Ticket is above 30,000, then the Bust of the Empress and the brilliant Ear-rings shall be in Class B, and the fellow Prize in Class A; and, previous to the Drawing of the Lottery, an Account shall be published in the Daily Papers of the Arrangement of the several Prizes, and if determined by the State Lottery, the Order in which every Prize will stand relative thereto.

The Prizes in this Lottery shall be delivered to the several fortunate Adventurers, or their Representatives, in Three Months after the Drawing of the said Lottery.

Mr. Cox engages for himself, his Heirs, Executors, and Administrators, to deposit in the Bank of England, previous to the Delivery of the Prizes, Ten Thousand Pounds, to be paid to the Possessor or Possessors of the brilliant Ear-rings and Bust of the Empress, and their fellow Prize, if they or either of them think proper to relinquish the same to Mr. Cox, his Heirs, Executors, or Administrators; the Proprietor or Proprietors of those Prizes to deliver to Mr. Cox, his Heirs, Executors, or Administrators, their Determination in Writing, within fourteen Days after the Drawing of the Lottery, whether they will accept the said Ten Thousand Pounds in Lieu of the said Prizes, or not.

That the fortunate Adventurers may have as speedy an Account as possible of their Success, the Numbers of the Tickets drawn against each Prize will be published in the Daily Papers; during the Drawing of the Lottery; and, one Month after the Drawing is over, a regular and correct List of the fortunate Tickets, drawn against each Prize, checked and examined by the Commissioners or Managers of the said Lottery, shall also be published both in the Daily and Evening Papers.

That the Subscribers to the Lottery may not be incommoded when they visit the Museum, in the improved State of that superb Collection; no Money will be taken at the Door till after the Drawing of the Lottery, nor any Persons be admitted without the Ticket of Admission, which is sold with the Lottery Ticket, though, to consult the Public Convenience as much as possible, a Ticket will then be issued at one Guinea and a Half, which will intitle Two Persons to view the Museum, but will give no more than One eventual Chance in the Property.

A descriptive Inventory of all the exquisite Pieces of Mechanism and Jewellery, that constitute the very great and valuable Prizes of the Museum Lottery, distinguishing the new Articles from those that composed the Museum in its original State, is now printed, and will be delivered Gratis with a Scheme of the Lottery, to every Purchaser of Lottery Tickets, and to the Public in general at 6 d. each.

Tickets to be had at the Lottery-Offices in Town and Country.

I The above-mentioned JAMES COX, do solemnly swear and engage myself, my Heirs, Executors, and Administrators, to all and every the Purchasers, Sellers, and Buyers of any of the Tickets in said Lottery, to perform in Execution, Manner, and Form, all the Articles therein before mentioned; and have annexed thereto the Inventory and copies as delivered in the above-mentioned House of Commons, pursuant to the Act of Parliament, which Schedule is annexed to the said Act. In Witness whereof I have hereunto set my Hand and Seal this 13th Day of August, 1773.

Sealed and delivered (being first duly stamped) in the Presence of JAMES COX.
 Thomas Morland, Fleet-Street.
 B. Stephenson, Ludgate-Hill.

N. B. The original Obligation, with the above-Scheme and Schedule annexed, under the Hand and Seal of the said James Cox, is deposited with Mess. Fuller, Halford, and Vaughan, Bankers, in Cornhill, who kindly take Custody of the same for the Benefit of those who may be interested therein.

* The Purchasers of Tickets will please to observe, that as no Persons can be admitted in the improved State of the Museum but with the Ticket of Admission sold with the Lottery Ticket, that Ticket is thereby rendered no less vendible than the Lottery Ticket; Persons therefore abroad or at a Distance in the Country, who cannot visit the Museum, will find a prompt Sale for their Admission Ticket, when the Museum is again opened.
