St. James's, November 28.

THE following Address of the Aldermen, Common-Councilmen, Freemen, and Inhabitants of the Town of Cambridge, has been presented to His Majesty by the Honourable Charles Sloane Cadogan, and Soame Jenyns, Esq; their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful Subjects, Aldermen, Common-Councilmen, Freemen, and Inhabitants of the antient and loyal Town of Cambridge, beg Leave, with all Duty and Humility, to approach the Throne, at this important Crisis, on which we do not impertinently presume to obtrude on your Majesty our Opinions or Advice, though for it we have numerous and great Examples to plead, but desire only, together with many other of your Majesty's loyal Subjects, to express at this Time our sincere Attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government, our Consciousness of your Majesty's many Royal Virtues, our utter Detestation of all Rebellion, Treason, and Faction, and our steady Resolution to support your Majesty, to the utmost of our Power, against all your Enemies, whether open or concealed, both at Home and Abroad; and to assure your Majesty, that we place such intire Confidence in your Majesty's known Wisdom and Goodness, that we cannot entertain the least Doubt that such Measures, either of Vigour or Lenity, of Coercion or Indulgence, will be pursued, as are best adapted to reduce your deluded Subjects in America, now in a State of Rebellion and Anarchy, to a due Obedience to your Majesty, and Submission to the Legislature of Great Britain.

State, has been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Noblemen, Gentlemen, and Freeholders of the County of Forfar.

Most gracious Sovereign,

THE Noblemen, Gentlemen, and Freeholders of the County of Forfar, filled with Sentiments of Duty to your Majesty, beg Leave to lament the unhappy Disturbances which have arisen between the Parent-State and those Subjects whom they have always wished to consider as her Friends.

Sensible of the Freedom of every Subject of Great Britain, and grateful for the Happiness we enjoy under your Majesty's auspicious Government, we see with Indignation those insidious Arts, by which the American Colonies have been deluded into an unlawful and unjust Desire of Independency.

But while we view with Abhorrence those seditious Individuals, who, from a violent and restless Temper, or the Impulses of Ambition, have seduced their Brethren into Rebellion, we compassionate the unhappy People, who by partial or unjust Representations have been involved in Scenes of Distress.

We flatter ourselves they have already become sensible of their Errors, and that they will gladly embrace the earliest Opportunity of returning to their Duty and Allegiance.

Should they perversely continue in Arms, however anxiously we may wish for their Friendship, we must entreat your Majesty to adopt such Measures as shall appear necessary to enforce a due Obedience to the Laws and Constitution of Great-Britain.

We beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that we shall readily contribute, with our Lives and Fortunes, to suppress the Rebellion in your Colonies. To bring about so desirable an Event is one of the most ardent Wishes of our Hearts, and is only secondary to our Ambition to testify on every Occasion our Duty and Attachment to your Majesty.

Signed by Order, and in Presence of the Meeting, by Str John Ogilvy, Baronet, Preses, at Forfar, the 13th Day of November, One thousand seven hundred and seventy-five Years.

John Ogilvy.

St. James's, November 28, 1775.

IT is His Majesty's Pleasure, That all Officers belonging to His Majesty's 33d Regiment of Foot, now serving in Ireland, do immediately repair to their Corps in that Kingdom, except such as belong to the Additional Companies of that Regiment, or may be employed in Ireland on the Recruiting Service.

WEYMOUTH.

AT the Court at St. James's, the 22d Day of November, 1775,

The KING's most Excellent Majesty in Council.
WHEREAS the Time limited by His Majesty's Orders in Council of the 23d of August and 27th of September last, for prohibiting the exporting out of this Kingdom, or carrying Coastwise, Gunpowder, Saltpetre, or any Sort of Arms or Ammunition, will expire on the 23d of this Instant November; and whereas it is judged expedient that the said Prohibition should be continued for some Time longer, except in those Cases where (for the Benefit and Advantage of Trade, and for the Use and Defence of Ships trading to Foreign Parts) His Majesty, by His several Orders in Council of the 13th and 27th of October last, and of the 6th of this Instant, has thought proper to permit and allow the Exportation of, and carrying Coastwise, Gunpowder, Saltpetre, Arms and Ammunition, under certain Conditions and Restrictions mentioned in the said Orders:
