St. James's, November 7, 1777.

THIS Day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons, of the City of London, waited upon His Majesty, and being introduced to His Majesty by the Earl of Hertford, Lord Chamberlain of His Majesty's Household, Thomas Nugent, Esq; the Common Serjeant, made their Compliments in the following Address.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons, of the City of London, in Common Council assembled.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, The Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons, of the City of London, in Common Council assembled, humbly beg Leave to express our unfeigned Joy upon the happy Delivery of our most gracious Queen, and the Birth of another Princess; an Event which we consider as an additional Strength to the present happy Establishment in your Majesty's illustrious Family, and as a further Security for the Enjoyment of our excellent Constitution in Church and State.

Long may your Majesty reign the true Guardian of the Liberties of this free Country; and be the Instrument, in the Hands of Providence, of transmitting to our Posterity those invaluable Rights and Privileges which are the Birthright of the Subjects of this Kingdom.

Signed by Order of Court,
William Rix.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

I Thank you for this dutiful Address, and your loyal Congratulations on the happy Delivery of the Queen, and the Birth of another Princess.

It is My invariable Object to preserve, and transmit entire, the constitutional Liberties of My People, which I shall ever consider as forming the Basis of My Government.

They were all received very graciously, and had the Honor to kiss His Majesty's Hand.

Florence, October 14. An Account has been received from Radicofani, (an ancient Town near the Confines of the Roman State) that on the 5th of this Month a severe Shock of an Earthquake had been felt there, and in the adjacent Mountains, which had done great Damage: Some Houses were thrown down, and the Mountains were split, and separated so as to render the high Road in some Places impassable; Trees were torn up by their Roots; and a Wall, which surrounded a Convent of Franciscan Friars, sunk perpendicularly into the Ground. For some Days before a subterraneous Noise had been heard, which alarmed the inhabitants; many of whom abandoned the Town, and lived in Tents. The same Noise continued after the Shock; which according to the common Opinion, indicates an Eruption in some Part of the Mountain, where formerly there was a Volcano. The Great Duke was at Siena, six Posts distant from Radicofani, at the Time the Earthquake happened. His Royal Highness immediately sent Persons thither, by whom he received the above Account.

Brussels, November 4. This being his Royal Highness's Name-Day, the same was observed at Court, where there was Grand Gala; and his Royal Highness received the Compliments of the Nobility and Foreign Ministers on the Occasion.
