AT the Court at St. James's, the 17th of April, 1780.

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS since the Commencement of the War in which Great-Britain is engaged by the unprovoked Aggression of France and Spain, repeated Memorials have been presented by His Majesty's Ambassador to the States General of the United Provinces, demanding the Succours stipulated by Treaty; to which Requisition, though strongly called upon in the last Memorial of the 21st of March, Their High Mightinesses have given no Answer, nor signified any Intention of complying therewith: And whereas by the Non-Performance of the clearest Engagements, they desert the Alliance that has so long subsisted between the Crown of Great-Britain and the Republick, and place themselves in the Condition of a Neutral Power, bound to this Kingdom by no Treaty, every Principle of Wisdom and Justice requires, that His Majesty should consider them henceforward as standing only in that distant Relation in which they have placed themselves: His Majesty therefore having taken this Matter into His Royal Consideration, doth, by and with the Advice of His Privy Council, judge it expedient to carry into immediate Execution those Intentions which were formally notified in the Memorial presented by His Ambassador on the 21st of March last, and previously signified in an Official Verbal Declaration, made by Lord Viscount Stormont, One of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, to Count Weideren, Envoy Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary from the Republick, nearly Two Months before the Delivery of the aforesaid Memorial: For these Causes, His Majesty, by and with the Advice of His Privy Council, doth declare, That the Subjects of the United Provinces are henceforward to be considered upon the same Footing with those of other Neutral States not privileged by Treaty; and His Majesty doth hereby suspend, provisionally, and till further Order, all the particular Stipulations respecting the Freedom of Navigation and Commerce, in Time of War, of the Subjects of the States General, contained in the several Treaties now subsisting between His Majesty and the Republick, and more particularly those contained in the Marine Treaty between Great-Britain and the United Provinces, concluded at London, December 11, 1674.

From a humane Regard to the Interests of Individuals, and a Desire to prevent their suffering by any Surprize, His Majesty, by and with the Advice of His Privy Council, doth declare, that the Effect of this His Majesty's Order shall take Place at the following Terms, viz.

In the Channel and the North Seas, Twelve Days after the Date hereof.

From the Channel, the British Seas, and the North Seas, as far as the Canary Islands inclusively, either in the Ocean or Mediterranean, the Term shall be Six Weeks from the aforesaid Date.

Three Months from the said Canary Islands as far as the Equinoctial Line or Equator.

And lastly, Six Months beyond the said Line or Equator, and in all other Parts of the World, without any Exception or other more particular Description of Time and Place.

St. James's, April 25.

The following Addresses having been transmitted by his Excellency the Earl of Buckinghamshire, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, to the Earl of Hillsborough, One of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, have been by him presented to His Majesty: Which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff and Grand Jury of the County of Wexford, at Spring Assizes assembled, March 31, 1780.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the High Sheriff and Grand Jury of the County of Wexford, humbly beg Leave to assure your Majesty of our unfeigned Attachment to your Royal Person and Government.

We entertain a most grateful Sense of your Majesty's unremitting Attention to the Interests of Ireland; and the happy Alteration which the Wisdom of your Councils, and the liberal Sentiments of the British Parliament, have made in the Situation of our Affairs.

We feel a double Satisfaction at the Benefits which have been conferred on us, both as they appear to us to be an adequate Remedy for the Poverty of this Country, and as they are undoubted Proofs of that Sisterly Affection which we think we have a Right to expect from Great Britain, and which it shall be our constant Study to cultivate and improve into the most perfect and mutual Confidence.

We do most humbly beseech your Majesty to believe, that we feel the sincerest Pleasure at finding that the Ties, which have always united the two Kingdoms, are now drawn closer by the Conduct of our Fellow-Subjects; and do assure your Majesty, that on our Parts our utmost Endeavours shall never be wanting to maintain that intimate Connection between both Kingdoms, which we are firmly persuaded is inseparable from their Happiness and Prosperity.

[Signed by John Drake, High Sheriff; the Foreman, and rest of the Grand Jury.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Nobility, Gentlemen, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Wexford, convened by the High Sheriff at the County Court-House this 4th Day of April, 1780.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Nobility, Gentlemen, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Wexford, humbly beg Leave to assure your Majesty of our unfeigned Attachment to your Royal Person and Government.

We entertain a most grateful Sense of your Majesty's unremitting Attention to the Interests of Ireland; and the happy Alteration, which the Wisdom of your Councils, and the liberal Sentiments of the British Parliament, have made in the Situation of our Affairs.

We feel a double Satisfaction at the Benefits which have been conferred on us, both as they appear to be to us an adequate Remedy for the Poverty

erty of this Country, and as they are undoubted Proofs of that Sisterly Affection, which we think we have a Right to expect from Great Britain, and which it shall be our constant Study to cultivate and improve into the most perfect mutual Confidence.

We do most humbly beseech your Majesty to believe, that we feel the sincerest Pleasure at finding that the Ties, which have always united the two Kingdoms, are now drawn closer by the Conduct of our Fellow-Subjects; and do assure your Majesty, that on our Parts our utmost Endeavours shall never be wanting to maintain that intimate Connexion between both Kingdoms, which we are most firmly persuaded is inseparable from their Happiness and Prosperity.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury and Inhabitants of the County of Clare in Ireland, at their General Assizes assembled.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE, your dutiful and loyal Subjects, the High Sheriff, Grand Jury and Inhabitants of the County of Clare, beg Leave to assure your Majesty of our unfeigned Attachment to your Royal Person and Government.

We entertain a most grateful Sense of your Majesty's unremitting Attention to the Interests of Ireland, and the happy Alteration which the Wisdom of your Councils, and the liberal Sentiments of the British Parliament, have made in the Situation of our Affairs.

We feel a double Satisfaction at the Benefits which have been conferred on us, both (as they appear to us) as likely to alleviate the Poverty and Distress of this Country, and as they are undoubted Proofs of the Sisterly Affection, which we think we have a Right to expect from Great Britain, and which it shall be our constant Study to cultivate and improve into the most perfect mutual Confidence.

We do most humbly beseech your Majesty to believe, that we feel the sincerest Pleasure at finding that the Ties, which have always united the two Kingdoms, are now drawn closer by the Conduct of our Fellow Subjects; and we do assure your Majesty, that on our Parts our utmost Endeavours shall never be wanting to maintain that intimate Connection between both Kingdoms, which we are most firmly persuaded is inseparable from their Happiness and Prosperity. And we have the additional Happiness to feel, that in these our Expressions of the warmest Acknowledgment we but follow the unanimous Sense of our Parliament, and the general Sentiments of a grateful Nation.

[Signed by E. W. Burton, High Sheriff; the Foreman, and rest of the Grand Jury; and 131 of the Inhabitants.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff and Grand Jury of the County of Wicklow, assembled the 5th of April, 1780.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the High Sheriff and Grand Jury of the County of Wicklow, humbly beg Leave to assure your Majesty of our unfeigned Attachment to your Royal Person and Government.

We entertain a most grateful Sense of your Majesty's unremitting Attention to the Interests of Ireland, and the happy Alteration which the Wisdom of your Councils and the liberal Sentiments of the British Parliament have made in the Situation of our Affairs.

We feel a double Satisfaction at the Benefits which have been conferred on us, both as they appear to us to be an adequate Remedy for the Poverty of this Country, and as they are undoubted Proofs of that Sisterly Affection which we think we have a Right to expect from Great Britain, and which it shall be our constant Study to cultivate and improve into the most perfect and mutual Confidence.

We do most humbly beseech your Majesty to believe, that we feel the sincerest Pleasure at finding that the Ties which have always united the Two Kingdoms are now drawn closer by the Conduct of our Fellow-Subjects; and do assure your Majesty, that, on our Parts, our utmost Endeavours shall never be wanting to maintain that intimate Connection between both Kingdoms, which we are firmly persuaded is inseparable from their Happiness and Prosperity.

[Signed by Andrew Prior, High Sheriff, the Foreman, and rest of the Grand Jury.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff and Grand Jury of the County of Tipperary in Ireland, at their Spring Assizes, assembled in Clonmel on the 25th of March, 1780.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the High Sheriff and Grand Jury of the County of Tipperary, humbly beg Leave to approach your Royal Presence, with the most heartfelt Expressions of Gratitude and Respect to your sacred Person, for the many Proofs, but more particularly that recent one, of your Majesty's paternal Feelings for the Distresses of your most faithful Subjects of Ireland.

The Part your Majesty has most graciously been pleased to take, for the just and important Extension of our national Commerce, at the same Time that it fills our Breasts with the most grateful Sense of your Majesty's equal and liberal Affection to your Subjects, as their common Father, affords us the additional Satisfaction that it will prove the happy Means of strengthening and perpetuating that Harmony between the Sister Kingdoms of Great Britain and Ireland, so essential to the Interests of both.

Our Situation in this Part of the Kingdom demands, in a more particular Manner, our warmest Acknowledgments for Blessings now opening to our View;—Blessings reserved to mark and give Lustre to your Majesty's Reign.

We humbly beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that, as a free and loyal People, we shall at all Times cheerfully devote our Lives and Fortunes in the Support of your Majesty's Royal Person, Government, and our invaluable Constitution; and upon every Occasion emulously labour to assure your Majesty of our unshaken Affection, Duty and Gratitude.

[Signed by Thomas Pieron Firman, High Sheriff; the Foreman, and rest of the Grand Jury.]

St. James's, April 25, 1780.

Whereas it has been humbly represented to the King, That on Sunday Morning last, about One o'Clock, the Dwelling-House of Dr. John Miller, of Maynard's Farm, near Epping, in the County of Essex, was burglariously broken open by several Persons unknown, supposed to be Four in Number, who, after plundering the House of many Things, did, in the most inhuman, barbarous, and cruel Manner, cut and wound the said Dr. Miller to so dreadful a Degree, that his Life is greatly despaired of;

His Majesty, for the better discovering and bringing to Justice, the Persons concerned in the said Offences, is hereby pleased to promise His most gracious Pardon to any One of them, (except the Person or Persons who cut and wounded the said Dr. Miller) who shall discover his or her Accomplice or Accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

STORMONT.

And, as a farther Encouragement, the said Dr. Miller doth hereby promise a Reward of TWENTY POUNDS to any Person making such Discovery as aforesaid, (except as before excepted) to be paid upon the Conviction of any one or more of the Offenders.
