THE King has been pleased to order a Writ to be issued under the Great Seal of Great Britain, for summoning Colonel Thomas Twisleton, of Broughton Castle in the County of Oxford, to Parliament, as a Baron of the Kingdom of Great Britain, by the Name, Stile and Title of Baron of Saye and Sele.

Admiralty-Office, June 30, 1781.

Extract of a Letter from Captain William Peere Williams, of His Majesty's Ship Flora, to Mr. Stephens, dated Spithead, June 27, 1781.

ON the 3d of May I sailed from Port Mahon, in Company with His Majesty's Ship Crescent, with an Intent to get through the Gut as soon as possible.

On the Morning of the 23d, at Day-light, we discovered Eight Sail of square-rigged Vessels to Windward of us: About Seven we plainly discerned they were a Spanish Squadron, consisting of a 74 Gun Ship, Four Xebecs, an Armed Ship, and Two Bombs, which we were informed a Day or Two preceding were destined for Gibraltar. At the same Time the Spanish Commodore made the Signal to chace, and bore down upon us with his whole Force. At Nine he made another Signal, and Five of his Squadron hauled up for the Spanish Shore, while he in the 74, with the Two Xebecs of 36 Guns, continued to pursue us. About Eleven one of the Xebecs got within Gun-shot of the Crescent, and a running Fire, in which His Majesty's Ship received no Damage, continued between them for upwards of Three Hours. Between Two and Three in the Afternoon, finding the Crescent closely pursued by the Xebec, and apprehensive an Accident might happen to occasion her falling into the Enemy's Hands, I shortened Sail, luffed up, and dropped with the Flora in between them, giving the latter what Guns I could bring to bear upon her; and when I judged the Crescent well out of Reach of the Enemy, I made Sail after her. I had the Misfortune to lose One Man, and the Arm of another, from their too great Eagerness in loading their Gun without spunging it. Between Four and Five the Xebec brought to, to repair some Damage she had received from the Crescent in her Masts and Rigging, and to give the Commodore, who was some Distance a-stern, an Opportunity of coming up with her. At Six they renewed the Chace; but we, altering our Course in the Night, saw nothing of them the Day following. This Event drove us back as far as Cape Palos, off which we cruized for Two Days. Meeting with nothing but Neutral Vessels, we stood over for the Barbary Shore, and, taking every Advantage of the Wind, arrived off Gibraltar the 29th. At Five in the Morning we brought to off the Rock, to apprise General Elliot of the Spanish Squadron. I then stood over towards Ceuta, in Company with the Crescent, to make out Two large Ships we had observed at Day-break to Windward of us. Discovering them to be Dutch Frigates, we prepared our Ships for immediate Action; but the Wind increasing in the Gut to a Storm, obliged us to wait a more favourable Opportunity. At Seven in the Evening the Gale abated, and the next Morning the Sea was considerably fallen. Having kept the Enemy in Sight all Night, at Day-break we edged towards them, and at Five commenced the Action, Ship against Ship, within a Cable's Length of each other, which was continued without Intermiſſion for Two Hours and a Quarter, when our Adversary struck her Colours. She proved to be the Castor Frigate, of Rotterdam, commanded by Captain Pieter Melvill, mounting 26 Twelve and 10 Six Pounds; her Complement consisting of 230 Men.

The Action between the Crescent and Brill, a Frigate of the same Rate as the Castor, mounting 26 Twelve, 2 Sixes, and 8 Four Pounds, continued some Minutes longer; when an unlucky Shot carrying away the Main and Mizzen Masts of the Crescent, and the Wreck falling within Board, whereby her Guns were rendered useless, and the Ship ungovernable, Captain Pakenham, as you will observe by the inclosed, was reduced to the disagreeable Necessity of striking the King's Colours. Seeing her Situation, we, with great Difficulty, got our Ship's Head towards her, and by that Means prevented the Enemy taking Possession of her, who made off in the best Manner they could. Had our disabled State been such as to have permitted us to have pursued, the bad Condition of the Crescent and Castor (both which Ships made between Four and Five Feet Water an Hour) would have rendered such a Step unjustifiable.

The steady and resolute Behaviour of my Officers and Crew on this Occasion merits my warmest Praise and Admiration; and I hope will recommend them to their Lordships Favour.

It would be doing Injustice to the Merit of Captain Pakenham, his Officers, and Ship's Company, if I concluded my Letter without acknowledging they did as much as Men could do to support the Dignity of the British Flag, till that unfortunate Accident, which deprived them of every Means of Resistance, and the Success that would otherwise have attended. The Brill must have received considerable Damage from the Crescent; her Main-Mast was seen to go by the Board early in the Afternoon.

I beg you will acquaint their Lordships, that I took upon me to recommission His Majesty's Ship the Crescent, and appointed my First Lieutenant, Mr. John Bligh, to the Command of her; reinstating the Rest of the Officers; and that Lieutenant Ellery, Ellery, Second-Lieutenant of the said Ship, having since died of the Wounds he received in Action, I have appointed Mr. Peter Creed, Master of the Flora, whom I strongly recommended to their Lordships for Promotion after the Action with the Nymph, to succeed him; which Steps I hope their Lordships will approve. In my own Ship I have appointed Mr. John Evans to act as Third Lieutenant; a young Man who has served his Time in the Navy; and who is very deserving of Promotion.

The following is an Account of the Killed and Wounded on Board His Majesty's Frigates Flora and Crescent; and the Dutch Frigate Castor.

Flora, { 9 killed;
32 wounded.

Among the latter is Lieutenant Poffell of the Marines; Mr. Stewart, Gunner, who I fear will not survive; and Mr. Hutchinson, Master's Mate.— Eight Men have since died of their Wounds.

Crescent, { 26 killed;
67 wounded.

Among the former is greatly to be regretted Captain Hayward of the Navy, who was a Volunteer in the Crescent; and fell distinguishing himself in a most gallant Manner.—The latter; Lieutenant Ellery, Second of the Crescent, who died a few Days after of the Wounds he received; as also one of the Seamen.

Castor, { 22 killed;
41 wounded.

Among the former was their Officer of Marines.— 11 of the latter are since dead.

I am sorry to add to this Letter a Circumstance which gives me infinite Concern.

As soon as the Damages of the Three Ships were repaired in the best Manner we were able, which employed us Five Days, we proceeded on our Passage without Interruption till the 19th instant; when, early in the Morning, in Lat. 47. N. Long. 6: 30 W. being in Chace of a Privateer Brig, which had dogged us all Night, and Part of the preceding Day, I discovered, upon the clearing away of a Squall, Two Ships to Windward edging towards me; whereupon I veered Ship, and returned to the Crescent and Castor, flattering myself the Appearance of our Force united would check the Ardour of their Pursuit: But in this I was mistaken; they still continued the Chace, encouraged, I have no Doubt, by the disabled Appearance of my Consorts, and gained upon us very fast. Conscious of our actual Want of Strength, I did not think it adviseable to hazard an Action, and my Officers were unanimously of the same Opinion. Each Ship therefore shaped a different Course, and about One o'Clock P. M. I had the Mortification to see the Castor retaken by one of the Frigates, which fired a Gun and hoisted French Colours, though till that Moment they had chased under English. The other Frigate, not being able to come up with the Flora, bore away about Three o'Clock after the Crescent, and, as the Night was clear, I am very apprehensive she fared the same Fate as the Castor.

When their Lordships reflect how reduced the Complement of His Majesty's Ships were by the Loss of the Killed and Wounded, and from the Number of Men sent on Board the Prize, viz. 38 from the Flora, and nearly the same Number from the Crescent, (which Men were constantly employed at the Pumps to keep the Ship free) I flatter myself they will acquit me of having acted improperly on this Occasion.

N. B. The Flora had 36 Guns, and 270 Men; the Crescent 28 Guns, and 200 Men.

Copy of a Letter from the Honourable Captain Pakenham, of His Majesty's Ship Crescent; to Captain Williams, of the Flora, dated at Sea, the 30th of May, 1781.

S I R,

I HAVE the Mortification to inform you, that; after an Action of Two Hours and Twenty Minutes; the absolute Impossibility of fighting longer reduced me to the distressing Extremity of surrendering to a Dutch Frigate; of superior Force, His Majesty's Ship I had the Honor to command. The disabled State of our Opponent prevented his being able to take Possession; and as the Ship is retaken by having drifted down under your Protection, I request you will send an Officer to command her, till my Conduct has been investigated by a Court Martial. Though the Quarter-Deck, Forecastle, and Four of the Main Deck Guns were disabled, and our Head-Yards and Sails were shot away early in the Engagement, I had no Reason to apprehend that the Contest would have ended so unfavourably; but the Wreck of our Main, Mizzen-Mast, and Booms, falling into the Waist, rendered useless all the Guns before the Main-Mast, as well as lost all Government of the Ship; and our being to Leeward left us no Chance of getting on board him. In this Situation she fell round off with her Stern exposed to the Enemy's Broadside; when having no Guns to fight, and not a Yard of Canvas to set, I determined, with the unanimous Advice of the Officers, to strike His Majesty's Colours. The Position which I was obliged to take to engage our Enemy close alongside was exceedingly disadvantageous with respect to the other Dutch Frigate, who did us some material Damages, by raking us in the Course of the Action; we however omitted no Opportunity of returning her Fire, when our Guns could do any Execution. The universal Alertness and Intrepidity of the King's Officers and Ship's Company merit my warmest Acknowledgments; and it concerns me excessively to acquaint you, that (though no exact Returns have yet been made) the Number of Killed and Wounded must to a Certainty exceed Eighty. Among the Killed is Captain Hayward, and among the Wounded Lieutenant Ellery; both Officers, whose Behaviour on this unfortunate Occasion excites my Admiration.

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS His Majesty was graciously pleased, by His Royal Proclamation, bearing Date the 25th Day of October, 1776, to promise and declare, That the Bounties of Five Pounds for every Able Seaman, and of Two Pounds Ten Shillings for every Ordinary Seaman, fit for His Majesty's Service, should be paid in the Manner thereby directed, to every such Able and Ordinary Seaman, not above the Age of Fifty, nor under the Age of Eighteen Years, who should, on or before the 31st of December then following, enter themselves to serve in His Majesty's Royal Navy, either with the Captains or Lieutenants of His Majesty's Ships, or the Chief Officers on Board such Tenders as should be employed for raising Men for the Service of the Royal Navy: And whereas His Majesty was also pleased, by His Royal Proclamation, bearing Date the 8th Day of November, 1776, to promise and declare, That a Reward of Two Pounds for every Able, and Thirty Shillings for every Ordinary Seaman, should be paid in the Manner thereby directed, to any Person who should discover any Seaman or Seamen who might secrete themselves, that so such Seaman or Seamen should be taken for His Majesty's said Service, by any of His Majesty's Sea-Officers employed for raising Men, on or before the 31st Day of December, 1776: And whereas His Majesty was likewise pleased, by His Royal Proclamation, bearing Date the 15th Day of August, 1777, to promise and declare, That every Able-bodied Landman, not above the Age of Thirty-five, nor under the Age of Twenty Years, who should voluntarily enter himself to serve on Board any of His Majesty's Ships, on or before the 31st Day of October then next, should receive, as of His Majesty's Royal Bounty, the Sum of Thirty Shillings each Man, to be paid in Manner thereby directed: And whereas the Time limited by the said Proclamations, for Payment of the said Bounties and Rewards, hath been prolonged and extended to the 30th Day of this instant June; and it being judged expedient for His Majesty's Service that the said Bounties and Rewards should be continued to be paid for some Time longer, His Majesty, with the Advice of His Privy-Council, doth therefore order, and it is hereby accordingly ordered, that the Time limited for Payment of the said Bounties and Rewards be prolonged and extended from the said 30th Day of this instant June to the 30th Day of September next, inclusive — Whereof all Persons concerned are to take Notice, and govern themselves accordingly.
