

to ced by the Enemies Squadrons to retreat some paces ; but being seconded by a Regiment of Horse and the Guards du Corps, they rallied again, repulsed the Enemy, killed some of them, and took several prisoners. The next day the Duke of Lorraine having sent his Baggage before, marched himself early in the morning, and encamped at Marville.

Stenay, Aug. 3. The Marschal de Schomberg being informed, that the Enemies design was upon Mousson, parted hence the 30 past, to take an account of the condition of that place, and having commanded the Inhabitants to depart out of it with their choicest Moveables, he gave order for the preparing of several Mines, for the blowing up the Tower which is on this side the Meuse, drew the Garrison out of those which are on the other side, and in their place put in several Boors to defend them. The 29 past the Enemies marched from St Laurent, and encamped about midnight before Carignan, and within two hours decamped again. The 30 their Cavalry and Train of Artillery arrived early in the morning near Mousson, their Baggage passed at Carignan, 20 Squadrons of Horse below Mousson, and the rest of their Army encamped at Mery, Brully, and Amblemont; that morning the Marschal de Crequi arrived here, and all that day his Troops passed the Meuse over our Bridge of Boats. Their head-quarters are at Martincourt and Inor, and the Grand-guard at Pouilly. Yesterday a party of the Enemies Horse, after having plundered several Villages near Besace and la Berthiere, repassed the Meuse at Mousson. This morning the Enemies appeared near Moulin, and the Prisoners we have taken report, that they will continue there all this day, the Duke of Lorraine having commanded his Soldiers not to pass out of the Camp upon pain of death. Yesterday his Highness received a Convoy of Provisions and some Troops from Luxemburg, commanded by Monseigneur de Louvigny. The Marschal de Crequi is perfectly recovered of his indisposition.

Amsterdam, Aug. 9. From Bruxelles they write, that the Earl of Ossory parted thence the 6th instant towards the Army, with an Escort of 100 Horse and Dragoons, sent by his Highness the Prince of Orange. Yesterday we received Letters from our Army, which say, that the 5th instant the Horse arrived at Charleroy, and that the Infantry and rest of the Army were expected the next day, in order to the beginning the Siege of the place. During which time the other Confederate Troops will continue near Pistom, as well for the reinforcing from time to time the Prince's Army, as to be ready on all occasions to unite with the Prince, to oppose any attempt the Enemy might make to relieve the place. Yesterday parted hence the several Regiments which were sent to be recruited in this Province, upon the damage they sustained at the Fight at Moulin Cassell. The difference between the Town of Groningen and the Ommelands is now under deliberation in the Assembly of the States General, where the Deputies of Friesland, who were not permitted to sit there, for refusing to consent to the Deputation which went to Groningen, have acquainted the States, that unless they be speedily re-admitted to their former Places, they will not pay the Sum of Money they have ready towards the defraying the charges of the Campagne, alledging that their dissent in one point, cannot make them forfeit their Votes in others, which belong to them by the Treaty of the Union.

Hague, Aug. 10. The Deputies of Amsterdam having peremptorily declared that they will not consent to the raising of the Monies desired, unless the separation of Government between Groningen and the Ommelands were expressly disapproved in their resolution, the States General have been hereupon prevailed with to suspend any further proceedings in that matter. This week the Danish Envoy presented a Memorial to the States, about the dispute between that King and the States concerning the Swedish ships taken by the Dutch in their flight from the last Engagement. The King has ordered them to be brought into Copenhagen among the other ships, pretending, that having been first fought by his, and made unabler for defence, they ought to be his Prizes. The States have sent orders to the several Admiralties to fit out immediately all the smaller Ships of War, but upon what design they are to be employed is not said. The Ships designed for Tabago are not yet gone. Those for the Mediterranean are said to be past over the Pampus. From Copenhagen they write, that the Danish Army near Landskroon is so streightned by the Suedes, that their Horses die in great number for want of forage, which will oblige the Danes to some farther action, for the enlargement of their quarters. Yesterday two Regiments past through this place towards the Army, which hath now formally besieged Charleroy.

Paris, Aug. 11. His Majesty continues with the Court at Versailles, from whence he intends to remove the 25 instant to Fontainebleau, having wholly laid aside the thoughts he had of going to Peronne or Compiegne upon the news of Charleroy being besieged. On Sunday last Monseigneur de Louvois parted for Flanders, and it is believed, something of importance will be undertaken before the relief of Charleroy be attempted, the Governor having assured his Majesty that he will make so vigorous a defence, as shall give the Confederates work enough, and his Majesty the leisure of prosecuting some other design. We hourly expect some important news from the Marschal de Guesnes, he and the Duke of Lorraine having for some days been encamped within half a League of one another, upon the Meuse. The Imperialists fortify Mousson. The Duke of Saxony-Eisenach continues still at Great Hunningen, where he has strongly retrenched himself, not daring to engage Monseigneur de Monclar, nor he to attempt the forcing the Duke out of his Post. We have now received the certainty of the Siege of Charleroy, which was invested on Thursday last with 10000 men by the Prince of Vaudemont; the next day the Prince of Orange arrived there with the rest of his Army. The Duke of Luxemburg is marching with his Army towards the Enemy, and on Monday last had his head-quarters at Marchienne au Pont, four Leagues from Charleroy.

Whitehall, Aug. 4. This day his Grace the Duke of Ormond, Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, began his journey towards that Kingdom, being attended with an Equipage agreeable to the Dignity of that Employment, and accompanied out of Town by most of the principal Nobility and Persons of Quality, in a numerous Train of Coaches.

Advertisements.

Lost June 1. out of the Grounds near Barnet, a Sorrel Chestnut Gelding between 14 and 15 hands high, a star in his forehead, and on the near hoof behind branded with T. T. if not cut out, a thick head, handsome body, walks well, paces little, but trotteeth high. Whoever gives notice of the said Gelding at the Antelope Inn in Barnet, or the Grange Inn in Lincoln-Inn-Fields, shall have 40 s. Reward.

Lost from Ampbill Town in Bedfordshire, a gray py'd Hound having a red head and ears, a large gray spot on the side, and another at the setting on of his tail. Whoever gives notice of the said Hound to Mr Thomas Clarke at Aylesbury house in St. Johns, or to Mr George Webb at the Swan at Ampbill aforesaid, shall have 20 s. Reward.

Lost in or about London, the Week after Whitsontide, a Goldsmiths Almanack in duodecimo, very fairly bound, with the Names of several Persons of Quality written in the beginning, as also an account in the leafs of every Month of what Money had been disbursed by Tobias Sedgwick, living over against the May-pole in the Strand. Whoever shall bring notice of the said Almanack to the said Mr Sedgwick, shall receive 20 s. Reward.