AT the Court at St. James's, the 31st of July, 1782,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

THIS Day the Right Honourable George Earl Temple, and the Right Honourable Henry Dundas, Treasurer of His Majesty's Navy, were, by His Majesty's Command, sworn of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, and took their Places at the Board accordingly.

His Majesty in Council was this Day pleased to declare the Right Honourable George Earl Temple, Lieutenant General and General Governor of His Majesty's Kingdom of Ireland.

Whitehall, August 3.

The King has been pleased to order a Congregatio d'Elire to the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Salisbury, for electing a Bishop of that See, the same being vacant by the Death of the Right Reverend Doctor John Hume, late Bishop thereof; and also a Letter recommending to the said Dean and Chapter the Right Reverend Father in God Doctor Shute Barrington, now Bishop of Landaff, to be by them elected Bishop of the said See of Salisbury.

The King has been pleased to grant to the Reverend Thomas Jackson, Master of Arts, and one of His Majesty's Chaplains in ordinary, the Place and Dignity of a Canon or Prebend of the Collegiate Church of St. Peter, Westminster, void by the Death of the Reverend Doctor John Blair.

The King has been pleased to grant the Dignity of a Baronet of the Kingdom of Great Britain, to Charles Kent, of Fornham St. Genevieve, in the County of Suffolk, Esq; and the Heirs Male of his Body lawfully begotten.

Whitehall, August 3.

THE following Addresses having been transmitted to the Office of His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, have been presented to the King: Which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

The humble Address of the Volunteers of the Province of Connaught, represented at a General Meeting held, pursuant to Publick Notice, at Ballinasloe, on Saturday the 6th Day of July, 1782.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's loyal Subjects, the Volunteers of the Province of Connaught, impressed with the most unfeigned Affection and Attachment to your Person and Government, humbly beg Leave to offer to your Majesty the sincere Tribute of our Gratitude, for your benign and Parental Interposition to remove the Causes of those Discontents, which had agitated the Minds of your Majesty's Irish Subjects; an Interposition which has been happily crowned with Success, and which, by placing the Connection between this Kingdom and Great Britain on its Original Basis, equal Constitution and equal Liberty have, we trust, rendered it for ever indissoluble.

The People and Parliament of Ireland, conscious that their Claims were founded on the immutable Rights of Mankind, and denying with one Voice any Authority whatsoever in the British Legislature over this Kingdom, called upon its Justice to repeal the Statute of the 6th of George I. as it advanced Claims hostile to the Rights of Ireland. The Magnanimity of Britain, rising superior to the Prejudices of a mistaken Policy, has complied with our Requisitions, and has, by the Repeal of that Statute, annihilated every Claim of British Legislation and Jurisdiction, either internal or external, over this Kingdom for ever: As such we accept it, and as such we hold it to be satisfactory.

Our Sister Kingdom has met us with the avowed Purpose of establishing a solid, permanent Basis of Friendship and Connection, and knows that it is solid not nominal, permanent not temporary Freedom, can alone constitute such a Basis. We know she is too wise and too noble to act upon the little Policy of temporary Deception; and that, if we could be mistaken in this our Opinion, your Majesty, the Common Father of both Kingdoms, would undeceive us. Relying therefore on the Faith of Nations, that a Claim so solemnly relinquished can never be revived, (a Revival which would sever the Two Countries for ever) and convinced that no Laws between distinct Kingdoms can bind, if that Faith cannot, we beg Leave to assure your Majesty that all our Jealousies are at an End; and that, united with our British Fellow-Subjects under the Banners of Liberty, we shall, with One Heart, call forth all the Resources of our Country against the Common Enemies of the Empire, and evince to your Majesty and to our Sister Kingdom, that the voluntary Exertions of Freemen are superior to all the Coercion of Power: Deprived of her Liberty, we were but Captives to adorn her Triumphs; Sharers in her Constitution, we become the willing Companions of her Danger, and the Participators of her Glory.

Permit us, Sir, to return our humble and grateful Acknowledgements to your Majesty, for your having been graciously pleased to commit the Administration of Public Affairs to Men, whose Attachment to the Principles of General Liberty, and whose avowed Zeal to give Efficacy to your Majesty's noble Intention of diminishing undue Influence, and establishing Public Economy, have justly won them the Confidence of the People. To waste the Treasure and stifle the Sense of the Nation, by corrupting the Parliament, had long become a System among among Ministers, but a new Æra dawns upon us; and should the Extermination of Corruption, united with a more equal Representation of the People, crown the Blessings received under your Majesty's Reign, it will be the most splendid that ever adorned the Annals of this Country; an Emulation of independent Support will then preclude the alledged Necessity of undue Influence; your Ministers, composed of tried Friends of the Public, will stand unshaken by Opposition, while they remain uncontaminated by Corruption; and your Majesty, enthroned in our Hearts, and surrounded with Acclamations, will receive the unbounded Effusions of the Gratitude of a free, affectionate and loyal People. / Signed by Order, Dennis Kelly, Chairman.

At a Meeting of the High Sheriff and Inhabitants of the County of Wicklow, July 16, 1782, pursuant to publick Notice, Hopton Scott, Esq; High Sheriff, in the Chair.

The following Address was unanimously agreed to.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff and Inhabitants of the County of Wicklow.

ACCEPT, most gracious Sovereign, the Assurances of the warmest Attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person and Family, from your dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Inhabitants of the County of Wicklow; and permit us to express our most grateful Acknowledgements for your Majesty's parental Regard to this Kingdom, already manifested by the gracious Expression of your wishes to the British Parliament to remove the Grievances of your faithful Subjects of Ireland; who, on the Emancipation from those Restrictions, which this Kingdom has laboured under, will consider themselves bound to support your Majesty's Crown and Dignity with their Lives and Fortunes.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

THE great and constitutional Advantages you have secured to your Country, and the wife and magnanimous Conduct of Great Britain in contributing to the Success of your steady and temperate Exertions, call for my Congratulations on the

the Close of a Session, which must ever reflect the highest Honor on the National Character of both Kingdoms.

It must be a most pleasing Consideration to you to recollect, that in the Advances you made towards the Settlement of your Constitution, no Acts of Violence or Impatience have marked their Progress. A religious Adherence to the Laws confined your Endeavours within the strictest Bounds of Loyalty and Good Order. Your Claims were directed by the same Spirit that gave Rise and Stability to the Liberties of Great Britain, and could not fail of Success, as soon as the Councils of that Kingdom were influenced by the avowed Friends of the Constitution.

Such a Spirit of Constitutional Liberty, communicating itself from one Kingdom to the other, must naturally produce that reciprocal Confidence and mutual Affection, of which we already begin to feel the most salutary Effects. A grateful Zeal and generous Ardor have united this whole Kingdom in the most cordial and vigorous Exertions, which promise effectually to frustrate the Designs of our Common Enemy, and to re-establish and secure the Glory of the whole Empire.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

When I consider the very active and liberal Part you have taken in contributing to these great and glorious Events, I must as distinctly express to you His Majesty's Sense of the last Effusion of your Generosity for the Defence of the Empire, as I must return you His gracious Thanks for the Supplies which you so cheerfully voted at the Beginning of this Session. His Majesty's Royal Example not only secures to you a most just and economical Application of the Aids you have granted Him, but affords you a most solemn Pledge of attentive Investigation into every Means which the Circumstances of this Country will afford, to alleviate the Burdens of His loyal and grateful People. To co-operate with you in carrying into Effect this most benevolent Disposition of His Majesty will afford me the highest Gratification, and manifest to you the Sentiments I shall ever entertain, in Return for the Confidence you have reposed in the Sincerity of my Professions for your Welfare.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

In contemplating the Services which your unremitting Assiduity has rendered to the Public, I must indulge myself in the Satisfaction of specifying some very important Acts, which will most materially strengthen the great Constitutional Reform you have completed, and which will for ever distinguish the Period of this memorable Session. You have provided for the impartial and unbiassed Administration of Justice, by the Act for securing the Independence of Judges; you have adopted one of the most effectual Securities of British Freedom, by limiting the Mutiny Act in Point of Duration; you have secured that most invaluable of all human Blessings, the personal Liberty of the Subject, by passing the Habeas Corpus Act; you have cherished and enlarged the wise Principles of Toleration, and made considerable Advances in abolishing those Distinctions which have too long impeded the Progress of Industry, and divided the Nation. The Diligence and Ardour, with which you have persevered in the Accomplishment of these great Objects, must ever bear the most honourable Testimony to your Zeal and Industry in the Service of your Country, and manifest your Knowledge in its true Interests.

Many and great National Objects must present themselves to your Consideration, during the recesses from Parliamentary Business; but what I would most earnestly press upon you, as that on which your domestic Peace and Happiness, and the Prosperity of the Empire, at this Moment most immediately depend, is to cultivate and diffuse those Sentiments of Affection and Confidence, which are now happily restored between the Two Kingdoms. Convince the People in your several Districts, as you are yourselves convinced, that every Cause of past Jealousies and Discontents is finally removed, that both Countries have pledged their good Faith to each other, and that their best Security will be an inviolable Adherence to that Compact; that the implicit Reliance which Great Britain has reposed on the Honor, Generosity and Candor of Ireland, engages your National Character to a Return of Sentiments equally liberal and enlarged; convince them, that the Two Kingdoms are now One, indissolubly connected in Unity of Constitution, and Unity of Interests; that the Danger and Security, the Prosperity and Calamity, of the One, must equally affect the other; that they stand and fall together.

To his Grace William Henry Cavendish, Duke of Portland, Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland,

The humble Address of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament assembled.

May it please your Grace,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament assembled, beg Leave to congratulate your Grace on the approaching Conclusion of a Session of Parliament, which has not been more beneficial to this Country than honourable to your Grace.

At the Close of this Session we shall have seen, under your Grace's Administration, the Judges rendered independent of the Crown in Point of Tenure; the Law for the Punishment of Mutiny and Desertion abridged in Duration, and become a Security and Vindication of the Constitution; the Jurisdiction of the hereditary Judges of the Land restored; the unconstitutional Mode of passing Laws, which was heretofore exercised in this Country, reformed; and the sole and exclusive Right of Legislation, external as well as internal, in the Irish Parliament, firmly asserted on the Part of Ireland, and unequivocally acknowledged on the Part of Great Britain.

We have seen this great National Arrangement established on a Basis which secures the Tranquillity of Ireland, and unites the Affections as well as Interests of both Kingdoms: And when we consider how long we had been labouring for these great and important Objects, and that they have been accomplished in the short Period of your Grace's Administration, we should be wanting in Justice to your Grace if we did not acknowledge your Virtue.

Your Grace will have the consummate Satisfaction of reflecting that the Name of Portland will remain engraven on our Hearts; and that whenever your Grace shall withdraw from the Administration of the Affairs of this Country, you will be pursued by the many and dignified Gratitude of a Free People, restored to Liberty by their own great Exertions, rendered effectual under your Grace's auspicious Government, and by your Assistance.

We might enlarge on your Grace's eminent Integrity, on your faithful Representations, and your hereditary Constitutional Principles. We have felt their Effects, and leave it to History to do you Justice.

*Wm. Watts Gayer, } Cler. Parliament.
Edw. Gayer, }*

His Grace's Answer.

My Lords,

I RETURN you my sincere Thanks for this very kind and affectionate Address. The most earnest Desire of my Heart, and the great Object of my Administration, was to establish the Constitution of Ireland on such a Basis as might secure her Tranquillity and Happiness, and unite her in Affections as well as in Interests with Great Britain. I was ever persuaded that your Claims to a Participation of Freedom with England were at once founded in Justice, and merited by your Character, and the Spirit you displayed: It must, therefore, afford me the most solid Pleasure to learn that you consider those Claims as now finally established, and those great Objects as permanently secured.

There could be but one Thing wanting to complete my Satisfaction, and this you have contributed by accepting, with the Feelings you express, my personal Endeavours to procure the inestimable Benefits you have enumerated, and by considering me as having been instrumental in the Accomplishment of your Desires.

The Gratitude of a Free People for acknowledged Benefits cannot Leave a Wish of virtuous Ambition unsatisfied: I feel the Value of it as I ought. In every Situation of my Life I shall hold myself bound, by every Tie of Principle and Affection, to promote the Interest and Happiness of His Majesty's Subjects of this Kingdom.

To his Grace William Henry Cavendish, Duke of Portland, Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland,

The humble Address of the Knights, Citizens and Burgesses, in Parliament assembled.

May it please your Grace,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland in Parliament assembled, beg Leave at the Conclusion of a Session, which hath not been more beneficial to this Country than honourable to your Grace, to approach your Grace with the most unfeigned Expressions of Satisfaction.

At the Close of this Session we shall have seen, under your Grace's Administration, the Judges rendered independent of the Crown, the Law for the Punishment of Mutiny and Desertion abridged in Duration, and so altered as to become a Vindication of the Constitution; the Jurisdiction of the hereditary Judges of the Land restored; the vicious Mode of passing Laws, which was heretofore exercised in this Country, reformed; and the sole and exclusive Right of Legislation external as well as internal in the Irish Parliament firmly asserted on the Part of Ireland and unequivocally acknowledged on the Part of Great Britain.

We shall have seen this great national Arrangement established on a Basis which secures the Tranquillity of Ireland, and unites the Affections as well as Interests of both Kingdoms; when we consider how long we had been labouring for these great and important Objects, and that they have been accomplished in the short Period of your Grace's Administration, we should be wanting in Justice to your Grace if we did not acknowledge your Virtue.

Your Grace will have the consummate Satisfaction of reflecting that the Name of Bentinck will remain engraven on our Hearts; and that whenever your Grace shall withdraw from the Administration of the Affairs of this Country, an Event we shall most sincerely lament, you will be attended (not by the forced and jaded Benedictions of an oppressed Province, but) by the manly and dignified Love of a free People, restored to Liberty by their own great Exertions, rendered effectual under your auspicious Government, and by your powerful Assistance.

We might enlarge on your eminent Integrity, your faithful Representations, your Constitutional Lineage, and your hereditary Principles. We have felt their Effects, and leave it to History to do you Justice.

Tho. Ellis, Cler. Parl. Dom. Com.

His Grace's Answer.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I Receive this affectionate Address with the most sincere Satisfaction. Attached by Education and Habit to the Principles of the English Constitution, and sensible that the Benefits of it ought to be extended to this Kingdom, it gives me a particular Pleasure to have been in any Degree instrumental in restoring it to that Situation in which it has long deserved to be placed.

To settle the Constitution of Ireland upon a secure Foundation, and to unite its Interests and Affections with those of Great Britain, were the principal Objects of my Administration; and I am happy to learn that you consider those Objects as accomplished.

Your Approbation has gratified every Ambition of my Heart; and I should ill deserve your Acknowledgements if I did not feel the Value of the Gratitude of a free People, and in every Situation of Life consider myself as bound to promote the Interest and Happiness of His Majesty's Subjects of this Kingdom.
