YESTERDAY, being the Anniversary of His Majesty's Birth-Day, the Flag was displayed on Belford Tower, the Great Guns at the Salute Battery in His Majesty's Park the Phoenix were fired Three Rounds, and answered by Volleys from the Regiments in Garrison, which were drawn out in the Royal Square at the Barracks. At Noon there was a very numerous Assembly of the Nobility, and other Persons of Distinction, of both Sexes, at the Castle, who appeared in great Splendor, to compliment his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, before whom an Ode, set to Music, was performed. In the Evening a Play was given by his Excellency to the Ladies; and at Night there were Bonfires, Illuminations, and all other Demonstrations of Joy throughout the City.

Dublin Castle, June 3, 1783.

The Earl of Northington, who embarked at Holyhead last Night at Ten o'Clock, arrived safe in this Port about Three o'Clock this Evening, and landed at Dunlary. Upon his Lordship's Arrival in this City, he was received by the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, and Commons of the City of Dublin: The Infantry in this Garrison lined the Streets through which his Lordship, attended by a Squadron of Dragoons, proceeded to the Castle; and, a Council having been summoned to meet at Seven o'Clock, his Lordship was introduced in Form to Earl Temple, who received him sitting under the Canopy of State in the Presence Chamber, from whence a Procession was made to the Council Chamber, where his Lordship's Commission was read, and the Oaths administered to him; after which his Lordship, having received the Sword from Lord Temple, and been invested with the Collar of the Most Illustrious Order of St. Patrick, the Great Guns in His Majesty's Park the Phoenix were fired, and answered by the Regiments on Duty, which were drawn up in College Green: His Excellency then repaired to the Presence Chamber, where he received the Compliments of the Nobility and other Persons of Distinction, upon his safe Arrival to take upon him the Government of this Kingdom.

Dublin Castle, June 5, 1783.

This Day, about Two o'Clock, Earl Temple, late Lord Lieutenant of this Kingdom, embarked on Board His Majesty's Ship the Unicorn, on his Return to England.

His Excellency the Earl of Northington and Earl Temple went together from the Castle in the State Chariot, preceded by a leading Coach, in which were the Officers of State, to the Pigeon House, from whence Lord Temple went in the Revenue Barge to the Unicorn, which lay in the Bay. They were escorted from the Castle by a Squadron of Dragoons, and attended to the Water-side by the several Volunteer Corps, headed by the Earl of Charlemont. A great Number of the Nobility, Persons of Distinction, the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, several of the Aldermen, and principal Citizens, in their Carriages, also attended, followed by a numerous Concourse of People. The Streets were lined by the Regiments of Infantry upon Dublin Duty. The Procession was very grand, and conducted with the utmost Propriety and Order; and, in his Passage through the Streets, Lord Temple received every Demonstration of Respect from the People, who testified their Regard for him by repeated Wishes for his Welfare and safe Return to England.
