To the KING's most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the undersigned Citizens, and some of the principal Inhabitants of the City of Exeter, beg Leave to approach your Majesty, with the firmest Assurances of our unshaken Attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government.

Animated by the truest Esteem for our most excellent Constitution, and determined to preserve it pure and inviolate to the utmost of our Power, we intreat your Majesty to believe, that our general Sentiments of Loyalty can never lead us to engage in any Measure that may tend to embarrass your Majesty's Government, to foment the alarming Divisions that unhappily prevail amongst us, and impede the Progress of those conciliatory Measures by which alone the public Peace can be restored.

We entertain the fullest Conviction that the dearest Objects of your Majesty's paternal Care are the Welfare and Happiness of your People; and we cannot
