Whitehall, September 11.

THE following Address of the Mayor, Sheriffs and Grand Jury of the County of the Town of Carrickfergus, having been transmitted by his Grace the Duke of Rutland, Lord Lieutenant of the Kingdom of Ireland, to the Right Honourable Lord Sydney, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, has, by his Lordship, been presented to the King: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Sheriffs and Grand Jury of the County of the Town of Carrickfergus, in your Majesty's Kingdom of Ireland; convened at the Summer Assizes, 1784, beg Leave to offer to your Majesty our grateful Acknowledgments for the Rights and Privileges lately restored to this Nation, through your Majesty's gracious Attention to the Welfare of your Subjects. We already perceive good Effects resulting from the Improvement of our Constitution and Commerce, and anticipate still more extensive Advantages.

The Charter, by which we hold our Privileges as a Corporation, was the Reward, and stands a Monument, of our Ancestors Loyalty; and we are happy in assuring your Majesty, that the same dutiful and loyal Spirit continues to animate their Successors, pure and undiminished: We cannot therefore observe, without Sorrow and Indignation, the Tumults which have unhappily prevailed in the Capital of this Kingdom, and beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that in our several Capacities we will maintain that Loyalty which has ever distinguished this ancient Town, by supporting your Majesty's Government, and by promoting Industry, good Order, and Submission to the Laws. By such Principles and such Conduct in your Majesty's Subjects of Ireland, do we hope for the Continuance of your Majesty's Protection, and for the Peace, Liberty and Happiness of the Kingdom.

With every Sentiment of Affection and Attachment to your Majesty's Person, Family and Government, we are your Majesty's ever faithful and dutiful Subjects.

[Signed by the Mayor, Sheriffs, and Grand Jury.]
