Whitehall, September 28.

THE following Address of the High Sheriff and Grand Jury of the County of Antrim, having been transmitted by his Grace the Duke of Rutland, Lord Lieutenant of the Kingdom of Ireland, to the Right Honourable Lord Sydney, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, has, by his Lordship, been presented to the King: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the High Sheriff and Grand Jury of the County of Antrim, assembled at the Summer Assizes, 1784, most humbly intreat Permission to express our sincere Affection and Attachment to your Majesty's Person, Family and Government, and to assure your Majesty, that we feel, with a becoming Sense of Duty and Gratitude, the recent Instances of your Majesty's paternal Kindness and Attention to your faithful Subjects of Ireland, in the Restoration of their legislative Rights, and the Advance that is now making towards the Perfection of their Commerce: We sincerely lament that the Peace of the Metropolis has been lately disturbed by violent Outrages committed by some of your Majesty's deluded Subjects; and while we wish to express a just Indignation at such intemperate Proceedings, we are happy to inform your Majesty, that a becoming Spirit of good Order and Submission to the Laws has prevailed in this Part of your Kingdom: And we solemnly assure your Majesty, that we will, within our several Departments, support your Majesty's Government, and the due Execution of our excellent Laws; and that we will use our utmost Endeavours in promoting that peaceable Demeanour and Spirit of Industry which are essential to the Prosperity and Happiness of the Kingdom, and which we persuade ourselves will be the most acceptable Testimony of Duty and Allegiance from a free People to the best of Kings.

That your Majesty may continue long to reign over an happy, free and loyal People, is the fervent Prayer of your Majesty's most dutiful Subjects.

[Signed by the High Sheriff and Grand Jury.]

Constantinople, August, 25. After a Continuance for some Weeks of the hottest Weather ever remembered in this Country, the contagious Disorder seems to have entirely ceased in this Capital and its Environs, so that there has been no Appearance of the Plague for this last Fortnight. The same Cause has operated the like happy Effects at Smyrna, and in the Islands of the Archipelago, where, as the last Letters mention, the Contagion had also nearly ceased.

[ Price Three-Pence Halfpenny. ]

Berlin, September 11. The King came here from Potsdam on the 9th; and Yesterday Morning, at Five o'Clock, his Majesty began to review the Corps of Artillery, which consists of Four Regiments, amounting in all to very near Ten Thousand Men. After making the usual Inspection of this Corps, and seeing them execute the different Kinds of Field and Battering Practice, a Manoeuvr was performed by a Detachment of the Infantry and Cavalry of the Garrison. His Majesty returned immediately afterwards to Potsdam.
