Mr. Joseph Fry and Sons are appointed Letter-Founders to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

Dublin-Castle, January 19, 1786.

THIS Day the Parliament having met according to Prorogation, his Grace the Lord Lieutenant went in State to the House of Peers, and being seated on the Throne with the usual Solemnity, George Bernard, Esq; Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, was sent with a Message from his Grace to the House of Commons, signifying his Pleasure that they should immediately attend his Grace in the House of Peers. The Commons being come thither accordingly, his Grace made the following Speech:

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

IT is with great Satisfaction that, in Obedience to His Majesty's Commands, I meet you again in Parliament. You will, I am persuaded, give your utmost Attention to the various Objects of Public Concern, which require your Consideration. Your natural Solicitude for the Welfare of Ireland, and a just Sense of Her real Interests, will direct all your Deliberations, and point out to you the Line of Conduct which may be most conducive to the Public Advantage, and to that lasting Connection between the Sister Kingdoms, so essential to the Prosperity of both.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I have ordered the Public Accounts and other necessary Papers to be laid before you. The Principle which you so wisely established, of preventing the Accumulation of the National Debt, will, I hope, appear already to have proved successful; and I entertain no Doubt that your Wisdom will persevere in Measures which in their Operation promise such beneficial Effects. His Majesty relies with Confidence upon your Grant of such Supplies as are necessary for the Public Service, and for the honourable Support of His Government.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

A systematic Improvement of the Police, and a vigorous Execution of the Laws, are essential, not only to the due Collection of the Public Revenue, but to the Security of Private Property, and indeed to the Protection of Society. The frequent Outrages, which have been committed in some Parts of the Kingdom, will particularly call your Attention to this important Object.

It is unnecessary for me to recommend the Protestant Charter Schools to your Protection, or to enumerate the happy Effects which may be derived from your continued Attention to the Linen and other Manufactures, to the Agriculture, and to the Fisheries of the Kingdom; and to such Measures as may animate the Industry, extend the Education, and improve the Morals of the People.

It will ever be my Ambition to promote the real Interests of Ireland; and to contribute, by all the Means in my Power, towards establishing its future Prosperity on the surest and most lasting Foundation.

Dublin Castle, January 21.

The Houses of Lords and Commons having resolved upon humble Addresses to His Majesty, the same, together with Addresses from both Houses to the Lord Lieutenant, were this Day presented to his Grace, and, with his Grace's Answers, are as follow:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,
