

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Tuesday August 29, to Saturday September 2, 1786.

St. James's, September 2.

THE following Address of the Archbishop, the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral and Metropolitan Church, and the Archdeacon and Clergy of the Diocese of Canterbury, has been presented to the King by his Grace the Lord Archbishop, attended by the Reverend the Dean, the Archdeacon, Dr. Dering, Dr. Barford, Dr. Fowell, Dr. Radcliffe, Dr. Pennington, Mr. Horne, and Mr. Pennington: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Archbishop, the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral and Metropolitan Church, and the Archdeacon and Clergy of the Diocese of Canterbury.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Archbishop, the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral and Metropolitan Church, and the Archdeacon and Clergy of the Diocese of Canterbury, humbly beg Leave to approach your Royal Presence, to express the grateful Sentiments of our Hearts on the Blessing vouchsafed to a whole People in the Person of their Prince. Averted by His protecting Arm, whose Prerogative it is to give Salvation unto Kings, the intended Blow, which threatened so much Calamity and Confusion to these Kingdoms, has served only to display your Majesty's Magnanimity and Humanity in the Moment of Danger; to call forth the general Voice of Thankfulness and Joy; and to convince the World, that the Hand of Infamy alone could be lifted up against a Life so deservedly honoured, and endeared to all Orders and Degrees of Men amongst us.

May the Almighty God, who hath placed and preserved your Majesty on the Throne by His Providence, protect and support you, through a long Course of Years, to be a Blessing to your Subjects. May your Majesty's Life be distinguished by every Satisfaction which can result from the Rectitude of your own Heart; from the Health, Honour and Prosperity of our most Gracious Queen and your Illustrious Family; and from the best Tribute which a good Prince can receive, the increasing Attachment of your faithful People.

[Signed by the Archbishop and 69 of the Clergy.]

The following Address of the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, Archdeacons and Clergy of the Diocese of Salisbury, has been presented to the King by the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop, and the Reverend the Archdeacon: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, Archdeacons and Clergy of the Diocese of Salisbury.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, Archdeacons and Clergy of the Diocese of Salisbury, approach your Royal Person, deeply impressed with all those Sentiments of Piety and Veneration, that flow from a Sense of the imminent Danger which your Majesty, and those whom a kind Providence has placed under your auspicious Government, have so recently escaped. While we feel the most fervent Gratitude to the Almighty for averting a Blow, which nothing but Infamy could have aimed, we feel anxious also to express to your Majesty, and to manifest to the World, the Interest we take in the Preservation of a Life most justly endeared to your People, by the uniform Attention your Majesty has shewn to their Religious and Civil Liberties, and by the Example you have set of the Discharge of every public, private, and domestic Duty.

[Signed by the Bishop and 69 of the Clergy.]

The following Address of the Bishop and Clergy of the Cathedral Church and Diocese of Worcester has been presented to the King by the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful Subjects, the Bishop and Clergy of the Cathedral Church and Diocese of Worcester, beg Leave to present our sincerest Congratulations to your Majesty on your late happy Deliverance from the Danger of Assassination.

We understand, Sir, that the Assasin was mad; and we easily believe that nothing less than Infamy could prompt any of your Majesty's Subjects to entertain a Thought so desperately wicked. But Infamy, though the Object of Pity, and therefore in the late Instance, so justly and magnanimously respected by your Majesty's Humanity, is not less, perhaps is more alarming than sber Villainy itself. We therefore bless and adore that good Providence, which protected your Majesty's Sacred Person in a Moment of so much Danger. And we shall never cease to put up our fervent Prayers to Almighty God, that He will be pleased continually to watch over a Life so precious to all your Subjects, and in particular to your Clergy, who have the Happiness to see themselves and their Ministry countenanced by your Majesty in a Way, that is observed by all, and can give Offence to none; we mean, Sir, by the shining Example of your Majesty's Life, fashioned on the Faith and Hope of the Gospel.

[Signed by the Bishop and 33 of the Clergy.]

The following Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen and Capital Burgeesses of the Town of Beverley, has been presented to the King by the Marquis of Carmarthen: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen