St. James's, September 13.

HE following Addresses of the Archbi-shop, and Dean and Chapter of the Cathop, and Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral and Metropolitical Church of St.

Peter in York, and of the Bishop of Bath and Wells, the Dean and Chapter of Wells, and the Clergy of the City and Diocese, have been presented to the King by his Grace the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber in Waiting: Which Addresses His Majesty was played to receive years. Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very gracioully.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Archbishop, and Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral and Metropolitical Church of Saint Peter in York.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and affectionate Subjects, the Archbishop, and Dean and Chapter of your Cathedral and Metropolitical Church of Saint Peter in York, beg Leave to express our Concurrence in the general Testimonies of a fincere Attachment to your Royal Person, and to join in the public Congratulations on your providential Deliverance from a traiterous Attempt, which Infanity only could have fuggested.

However atrocious and alarming the Attempt was, it has been followed by this Satisfaction, that it has produced the most genuine Effusions of Affection and Esteem from all Ranks of your Majesty's Subjects, and those not arising from a casual or short Popularity, but from the sober Decisions of deliberate Judgment.

You have the Happiness, Sir, to be the Sovereign of an honest People, who abhor such Treasons, not only as being wicked and contrary to the Welfare of common Society, but as particularly dangerous to free Conflitutions, which are always brought into extreme Hazard by such Attempts. In Addition to their general Reasonings, they saw in the Person of your Majesty a Life endangered, in the Preservation of which their dearest Interests were all involved.

Permit us, Sir, who confider your Majesty as not by Law only, but by Principle, the Defender of our Faith, to be as forward at least as any others in the Expressions of our Zeal and Duty. We have already in our Prayers offered these the Feelings of our Hearts at the Throne of Grace; and we think ourfelves safe in expressing them to your Majesty, being affured, from the Nobleness of your Nature, that they will excite in you no other Sentiments but those of an increased Affection to a dutiful and deserving People.

Given under the Hand and Seal of the faid Archbishop, and the Common Seal of the said Men-bishop, and the Common Seal of the said Dean and Chapter, the Ninth Day of September, in the Twenty-fixth Year of your Majesty's Reign, and in the Year of our Lord, 1786. To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bishop of Bath and Wells, the Dean and Chapter of Wells, and the Clergy of the City and Diocese.

Meft Gracious Sovereign,

E, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, most humby intreat your Majesty's Permission to lay ourselves at your Feet, to express our Abhor-rence of the late atrocious Attempt on your Sacred Person, and our grateful Sense of the Divine Goodness in preserving it from the Hands of a desperate Affaffin.

Though your Majesty reigns secure in the Hearts of all your Subjects, in whom the mental Faculties are in a found State, the fudden and fecret Stroke of Infanity no Power can repel, but that great and invisible One, to whom all Hearts are open, and from whom no Secrets are hid.

Alarmed at the Danger from which your Majesty has been providentially rescued, and impressed with a lively Sense of the Importance of your valuable Life to the Welfare of your Kingdoms, we offer up our devoutest Prayers to that Divine Power for its Preservation and Protection; beseeching Him to distinguish it by His choicest Blessings, to render it full of Days, of Happiness and Glory; imparting to a grateful People the Bleffings that are the natural Refult of a good Government, administered on the genuine Maxims of Wisdom and Virtue.

jects, the Bishop, Archdeacon and Clergy of the Diocese of Rochester, humbly approach your Majesty with a truly grateful and pious Acknowledgment of the merciful Interposition of Providence in protecting your Sacred Person from the Arm of Violence, apparently actuated by a disordered Mind, incapable of perceiving, what the Frent has clearly manible of perceiving, what the Event has clearly manifested both at Home and Abroad, how entirely your Majesty possesses the Hearts and Affections of all your

Happy in this Experience, we daily pray to Almighty God, the King of Kings, that your Majesty and your Illustrious Descendents may for ever continue the Objects of British Loyalty and shining Examples to British Virtue. [ Signed by the Bishop and 14 of the Clergy. ]

The following Address of the Dean and Chapter of | the Collegiate Church of St. Peter in Westminster, has been presented to the King by the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop of Rochester. Dean of Westminffer, attended by the Reverend Sir Richard Cope, Bart. Sub-Dean, Dr. Hoare. Dr. Bell, Dr. Bofcawen, Dr. Finch, Dr. Jackson, Dr. Pretyman, and Dr. Cleaver, Prebendaries, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very gracioufly.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Dean and Chapter of the Collegiate Church of St. Peter in

Most Gracious Sovereign,

E, your Majesty's most duriful and loyal Subjects, the Dean and Chapter of your Collegiate Church of St. Peter in Westminster, beg Leave to approach your Majesty, with a grateful and pious Sense of the merciful Interposition of Providence in protecting your Sacred Person from the Hand of Violence, which could only be actuated by a disordered Mind incapable of perceiving the effential Connection between your personal Sasety and the public Welfare, but which has eventually proved, both at Home and Abroad, how entirely your Majesty possesses the Hearts and Affections of all your People.

That your Majesty, and your Illustrious Family, may long continue the Objects of the Loyalty, and Examples to the Virtue of these Kingdoms, is, and ever will be, our devout and daily Prayer.

Given at our Chapter House at Westminster, under our Common Seal, the Thirteenth Day of September, in the Year of our Lord, 1786.

J. Rochester, Dean of Westminster.

The following Address of the Bishop, the Dean, the Prebendaries and other Members of the Cathedral Church of Winchester, has been presented to the King by the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop, attended by the Reverend Dr. Vyse, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

E, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishop of the Diocese of Winchester, the Dean, the Prebendaries, with other Members of the Cathedral Church at Winchester, the Chancellor, the Commissary, the Archdeacons, and the Parochial Clergy of the same Diocese, also the Warden, the Fellows, Schoolmasters and Scholars upon the Foundation at Winchester, beg Leave to approach your Majesty with the Sentiments of Duty and Affection which we are always happy to express, and to join our fincere and hearty Congratulations with those of the Rest of your faithful People, upon the hap y Deliverance of your Majesty from the very alarming Danger, which, through the Infanity of an unfortunate Lunatic, lately threatened your valuable Life, and with it the Continuance of those Blessings which the Wisdom of your Councils, and the Warmth of your paternal Affection, have hitherto shed upon your grateful People.

We affure your Majesty, that although we needed not this humiliating Lesson to teach us the Instability of . human Happiness, we shall make a profitable Use of it, by redoubling our Endeavours to instil into the Minds of your Subjects, within our respective Cures, a due Sense of the Attachment which they owe to our excellent Constitution in Church and State, and of the Gratitude which is especially due from them to your Majesty, for your excellent Administration of those important Concerns which immediately exercise your Royal Attention; and that we shall persist, as we have always done, to make it a principal Object of our daily Prayers, that Providence, which hath preserved you from the late impending Danger, may long extend its Care and Protection over you, and continue to our most excellent and gracious Queen, to your amiable, dutiful and affectionate Family, to us, and to your loyal People at large, all those Blef-sings which the Virtue of your public Conduct, and the moral Excellence of your private Example, have spread throughout every Part of your Dominions.

The following Address of the Bishop, the Dean and Chapter, and the Clergy of the Diocese of Chester, has been presented to the King by the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop, and the Reverend the Dean, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleafed to receive very graciously.

E, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishop, the Dean and Chapter, and the Clergy of the Diocese of Chester, beg Permission to offer to your Majesty our sincerest Congratulations on the late providential Deliverance of your Royal Person from the Hand of an Assassin.

It would be unbecoming in any Order of Men, it would be peculiarly offensive in ours, to approach your Majesty on this Occasion with the Language of Adulation; but they who are in the smallest Degree acquainted with the uniformly moral and religious Tenor of your Majesty's private Life, and who reflect, as they ought, on the many invaluable Blesser. fings this Nation experiences under your Majesty's mild and paternal Government, will not, we are confident, charge us with transgressing the strictest Bounds of Truth, when we fay, that the Lofs of fuch an Example, and fuch a Sovereign, would have been one of the severest Calamities with which Heaven could have afflicted this Land; whatever Difference of Sentiments there may be on other Points, on this we believe there is but one Opinion.

It affords us some Consolation to know that the sole Contriver of this frantic Defign was nothing more than a wretched Maniac; a Circumstance, however, from which we may draw this awful Lesson, that not only the Felicity, but the very Existence of the greatest Potentates, and the most flourishing Empires, may be endangered by the feeblest Agents, and that in God alone is their Security and their Refuge.

The recent Proof He has been pleased to give us of this great Truth demands the warmest and devoutest Expressions of our Thankfulness. And alarmed as all our Fears have just been by feeling ourselves on the very Brink of Destruction, we implore with redoubled Ardour the Almighty Ruler of the Universe, that He would still continue the same watchful Care over your Majesty's Person, which He has already manifested in so signal an Instance; and that He would grant your Majesty, and your Royal Family, a long Enjoyment of that Peace, Prosperity and general Satisfaction, which His Blessing on your Majesty's Councils has visibly diffused through every Part of your Dominions

The following Address of the Bishop, Archdeacon and Chapter, and Clergy of the Diocese of Landaff, has been presented to the King by the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber in Waiting: Which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bishop, Archdeacon and Chapter, and Clergy of the Diocese of Landaff.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

E, the Bishop, the Archdeacon and Chapter, and the Clergy of the Diocese of Landass, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful Subjects, humbly
entreat your Majesty graciously to accept our faithful Congratulations

Congratulations on the Protection which the good. Providence of God has lately vouchfafed to your Majesty from the Attack of an infane Assassin.

The Mildness of your Majesty's Government, united with the exemplary Probity and Condescension of your private Life, can have left your Majesty no deliberate Enemies, no Apprehension of Danger from the Malice of any of your Subjects. In the late calamitous Event your Majesty will feel a Comfort, which is fully felt by all your People, from knowing, that the Hand of Violence was not armed against your Majesty's Life by the Spirit of public Faction or private Discontent. The worst of Kings, in every Age and Country, have been encouraged by the adulatory Addresses of flagitious Men to persevere in the Modes of Government destructive to the Freedom and Felicity of Mankind; Sincerity and Truth have been, in this Way, so often sacrfiiced on the Altar of private Interest, as almost to render suspicious the Professions of honest Men on the fairest Occasions; yet, on this Occasion, we sear not the being accused of Flattery or Infincerity when we avow, in the Face of the World, that we believe there is not a fingle Person in your Majesty's Dominions who will not join with us in thanking God for this Instance of His Goodness towards you, and in praying that He will long continue to us the Happiness, and the Liberty, civil and religious, which we enjoy under your Majesty's Government.

The following Address of the Bishop, the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church, the Archdeacon and Clergy of the Diocele of Peterborough, has been presented to the King by the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop, and the Reverend Dr. Coryton, one of the Prebendaries, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very gracioufly.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bishop, the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Peterborough, Archdeacon and Clergy of the faid Diocese.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

We for Gracious Goverega,

E, your Majesty's faithful Subjects, the Bishop, the Dean and Chapter, the Archdeacon and Clergy of the Diocese of Peterborough, humbly intreat your Majesty to accept our hearty Congratulations on your Majesty's late providential Escape.

It is not less from Affection than Duty, that we implore Almighty God to grant your Majesty a long and happy Reign in this World, and a Crown of immortal Glory in the World to come.

The following Address of the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, Archdeacons and Clergy of the Diocese of Exeter, has been presented to the King by the Reverend the Dean, and the Reverend James Carrington, one of the Prebendaries, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

The humble Address of the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, Archdeacons and Clergy of the Diocefe of Exeter.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

E, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, Archdeacons and Clergy of the Diocese of Exeter, deeply affected with a Sense of the great Danger to which your Majesty's Sacred Person was lately exposed, and of the irreparable Loss which we of the Clergy, as well as your People in general, would have suffered, had the horrid Attempt against your Majesty's Life succeeded, humbly beg Leave, with the fincerest Joy, to congratulate with your Majesty upon your happy Deliverance, and to express our thankful Acknowledgments for this fignal Interpolition of Providence in our Favour.

Under the strong Impression of these Sentiments, and as strong a Conviction that the Continuance of the Bleffings which we now enjoy under your Majesty's Government depends, next to the Divine Providence, on the Influence of your Majesty's Example, our daily and fervent Prayer to God is, that your Majesty may long be preserved to be His great Instru-ment in conveying them to us, and be blessed with such a Length of Days, as may give Room to the splendid Virtues, which adorn your Majesty's Character, to improve to the utmost for His Glory and the Public Benefit.

And we gladly take this Occasion humbly to affure your Majesty, that as we think ourselves bound by all the Ties of Religion, Loyalty and Gratitude to make every Return to your Majesty's Goodness that can be due from the most obedient Subjects to the best of Sovereigns; we shall not fail to inculcate the same Principles upon the Minds of the People committed to our Care, and to conjure them by every Motive of Duty and Interest to contribute all they can, in Proportion to their respective Powers and Opportunities, to the Prosperity, Peace and Happiness of your Majesty's Reign.

The following Address of the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, and Clergy of the Diocese of Ely, has been presented to the King by the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop, and the Reverend the Dean, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, and Clergy of the Diocese of Ely.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

E, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, and Clergy of the Diocese of Ely, gratefully sensible of the Happiness we enjoy under your Majesty's constitutional and mild Government, and equally impressed with the truest Satisfaction from the Observation of your many Virtues, presume to approach your Majesty to express our respectful Congratulations, amidst the National Joy, for the providential Deliverance of your Sacred Person from the daring Hand of As-salination, which, through the whole Extent of these your Realms, could only have been directed by the wild Dictates of barbarous Infanity.

We cannot be fufficiently thankful to the supreme and wife Disposer of all Events, that it hath pleased Him, at fuch a Moment of Danger to these Nations, to be merciful unto them, and to shield them from Consequences so alarming to their dearest Interests. And we conceive it our Duty to consider this fignal Instance of Divine Interposition as an awakening Call upon your Subjects, duly to reflect on the Importance of your valuable Life to their national Felicity; and, agreeably to fuch just Conviction, to endeavour to render themselves worthy the Continuance of it, by an uninterrupted Course of true Piety and Loyalty.

With the fincerest Sentiments of dutiful Attachment, we at the same Time sympathize in that Alarm and Anxiety, which must have actuated the Feelings of Her Majesty and your numerous and amiable Off-spring, who by this desperate and mad Attempt, in Addition to the general Distress which would have followed it, were threatened with so grievous an Interruption of their most interesting domestic and focial Confolations.

It is our earnest and constant Prayer to Almighty God, that your Majesty's Sacred Person and Sovereignty may ever experience His Divine Protection. and that yourfelf and Royal House may long continue the exemplary Guardians of our inestimable civil and religious Establishment. And it is likewise the Subject of our most sincere Petitions, that your Dominions may deserve the Blessing of a regular Succession of those descended from you, who, after the illustrious Precedent set them by your Majesty, may reign in the Hearts of an happy and prosperous People.

St. James's, September 13.

This Day the following Address of the Protestant Diffenting Ministers was presented to the King by the Reverend Dr. Samuel Stennett, attended by Seventeen other Ministers of that Body, being introduced by the Marquis of Carmarthen, One of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Protestant Dissenting Ministers in and about the Cities of London and Westminster.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

E, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Protestant Dissenting Ministers in and about the Cities of London and Westminster, beg Leave to approach your Royal Person with our warmest Congratulations on the late fignal Interposition of Divine Providence in Favour of your Majesty's invaluable Life: An Event which has afforded Joy to all your Majesty's faithful Subjects, and to none more than the Protestant Diffenters, who look up with affectionate Reverence to the distinguished Virtues of their Sovereign, and who feel themselves happy in the Enjoyment of their Civil and Religious Liberties, which have received so memorable a Confirmation and Enlargement fince your Majesty's Accession to the Throne of these Kingdoms.

To that Great Being, whose Arm so graciously shielded your Majesty's Person in the Moment of Danger, we have offered our most grateful Acknowledgements; fervently praying, that the like Sense of the Divine Interference which your Majesty devoutly feels, might be deeply impressed on the Hearts of all Permit us, Sir, to add, that our Joy on this Occasion is greatly heightened, by reflecting that the horrid Stroke your Majesty so happily escaped was guided not by the Hand of premeditated Malice, but of compassionable Infanity: The Repose which this Consideration justly creates in your Majesty's Breast and that of your Royal Consort, cannot fail of affording the highest Satisfaction to your People, whose Happiness is intimately connected with that of their Sovereign.

With great Pleasure we embrage this Opportunity of affuring your Majesty of our affectionate and inviolable Attachment to your Person and Government; nor will we ceafe, Sir, to offer our most ardent Prayer to Almighty God, that your Life may be protracted, under the Smiles of Providence, to the most distant Period; and that the Crown your Majesty received from your Illustrious Ancestors, may descend, adorned with all their and your princely Virtues, to your latest Posterity.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following most Gracious Answer:

I Thank you for this dutiful and loyal Address, and for your affectionate Congratulations on My providential Escape from the Attempt awhich was made upon My Person. I have a firm Dependence upon your steady Attachment to My Family and Government; and you may be affur d of the Continuance of My Protection in the Enjoyment of your Civil and Religious Liberties.

They were all received very graciously, and had the Honour to kifs His Majesty's Hand.

Ene following Address of the Ministers, Elder, and Deacons of the French and Dutch Churches, has been presented to the King by the Reverend Henry Putman, Minister of the Dutch Church, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The most humble Address of the Ministers, Elders and Deacons of the French and Dutch Churches, established by King Edward the Sixth.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

T. E., the Ministers, Elders and Deacons of the French and Dutch Protestant Churches of the City of London, beg Leave to approach your Majesty's Royal Person, heartily to congratulate your Majesty on the happy Preservation of your Majesty's most valuable Life when lately exposed to Danger.

When we heard of the atrocious Deed, Horror and Perplexity filled our Minds; but when we found that the rash Attempt had been rather the Effect of Infanity than of any other Cause, we praised the Supreme Governor of the Universe, and instantly sent up our Thanks to Heaven for your Majesty's Safety and Prefervation; and we cease not to pray for a long Continuance of your Majesty's inestimable Life, Health and Prosperity.

May the King of Kings continue to fend down His choicest Blessings upon your Majesty's Sacred Person, Family and Government; and may our Churches, established here almost at the first dawn of the Reformation, continue to enjoy your Majesty's most gracious and powerful Protection.

E, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Capital Burgesses and Principal Inhabitants of your ancient Borough of Sudbury, beg Leave to approach your Throne with our warmest Congratulations on your Majesty's late happy Escape from the Danger which threatened your Sacred Life from the Hand of an infatuated Maniac.

Deeply impressed with a Sense of the Happiness we enjoy under the Auspices of a Prince, who makes the Welfare and Prosperity of His Subjects the uniform Object of His Government, we cannot without Horror reflect on the Atrociousness of an Attempt, which, had it not been providentially hindered from taking Effect, must, in depriving us of a Sovereign to justly esteemed the Father of his People, have been productive of the greatest National Calamity.

Whillt, therefore, we join the general Voice of the Nation in humble Thanks to that Gracious Being, who watches over the Life of Kings. for your Majesty's late Deliverance from the Assassin's Steel, permit us, Sire! to add our fervent Prayers, that you may long continue to reign over a happy, free, and united People; and hat the Bleffings we enjoy under the mild and parental Government of so revered a Monarch, may be transmitted by your Majesty's Descendants to our latest Posterity.

Given under our Common Seal, the Sixth Day

The Five following Addresses having been transmitted by his Grace the Duke of Rutland, Lord Lieutenant of the Kingdom of Ireland, to the Right Honourable Lord Sydney, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, have been presented to the King: Which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The dutiful and loyal Address of the Bishop and Clergy of the United Dioceses of Limerick, Ardfert and Aghadoe.

Most gracious Sovereign,
E. your Majelly's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishep and Clergy of the United Dioceses of Limerick, Ardsert and Aghadoe, intreat your Royal Permission to offer at the Foot of the Throne our most fincere Congratulations for your Majesty's Preservation from the late atrocious Attempt; Infanity alone could raise its Arm against the Breast of the Father of His People. We are particularly shocked, when we reflect upon the melancholy Consequences which must have attended the Perpetration of the horrid Crime: The Nation would have loft the best of Kings, the Church its most gracious Head and Defender. We therefore return our warmest and most sincere Thanks to that projecting Providence, which in the Hour of Danger fo fignally interpoled for your Majesty's Prefervation, and beg Leave to affure your Majesty, that our constant Prayer to Heaven shall be for the Continuance of its watchful Care of a Life, so precious to all your Majesty's Subjects, and so necessary to the Prosperity of the Protestant Religion.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriss, Gentlemen, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Longford, convened at Longford on the Second Day of September, 1786.

May it please your Majesty,

E, your Majesty's most loyal Subjects, beg Leave to approach your Majesty in Terms of the most warm and heartfelt Congratulations on the providential Disappointment of the most wicked Attempt recently meditated against your Majesty's Sacred Person.

Your Majesty's Magnanimity will ever rise superior to every Danger, and the Firmness and Humanity your Majesty displayed on the late Emergency, manifested the Virtues of the King, and of the Man; but we, your Majesty's affectionate Subjects, even in this Hour of Security and Complacence, cannot look back on the inexpressible Calamity which then threatened us, without yielding to the Impression of Horror and Indignation.
May Heaven, as in the late Instance, ever hold a Shield of Defence before your Majesty's Sacred Person, and continue it's gracious Watchfulness over that invaluable Life, so deeply and tenderly interesting to the Happiness of your faithful People, and to material to the general Cause of Religion and Virtue.

Geo. Maconchy, Sheriff.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury and Noblemen of the County of Wicklow, at Wicklow affembled, Summer Affizes, 1786.

E, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the High Sheriff, Grand Jury and Noblemen of the County of Wicklow, affembled at Sumn er Affizes, 1786, embrace the earliest Opportunity presented to us of expressing our truly heartfelt Satisfaction at the happy Escape of your Majesty from the late horrid Astempt on your Majesty's Life. While we bless Divine Providence for its figual Protection manifested at the late awful Crifis, we cannot but admire the Firmness of Soul, the Lenity and Humanity shewn by your Majesty on that Occasion, perfectly satisfied as we are that absolute Infanty alone could lift her parricidial Hand against the Friend of Mankind, and the Father of His People.
