St. Petersburg, January 30.

Letters were received here Yesterday, mentioning the Arrival of the Empress at Smolensko on the 23d Instant, and that her Imperial Majesty had enjoyed a perfectly good State of Health during her Journey from Czarico-Zelo to that City.

Whitehall, February 15, 1787.

WHEREAS it has been humbly represented to the King, That about One o'Clock in the Morning of the 23d of January last, Five Smugglers, mounted with two Casks each, were met by the Supervisor of Excise, of Stalbridge Division, in the County of Dorset, who, with George Coot Tucker, his Assistant, rode up and demanded their Goods, when the Smugglers discharged Five Pistols or Blunderbusses at them, wounded the Supervisor's and Tucker's Horses; that Tucker having again attacked them, and a Pistol being presented at him by one of the Smugglers, he with a Sword twice struck his Arm, prevented him firing, and, it is supposed, wounded him; that the Smugglers then rode off without leaving the Goods, or the Officers being able to discover who they were.

His Majesty, for the better discovering and bringing to Justice the Persons concerned in assaulting and firing at the Excise Officer and his Assistant as abovementioned, is hereby pleased to promise His Most Gracious Pardon to any one of them who shall discover his Accomplices therein, so that they, or any of them, may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

SYDNEY.

And, as a further Encouragement, the Commissioners of Excise do hereby promise a Reward of ONE HUNDRED POUNDS to any Person or Persons making such Discovery, to be paid by their Secretary on Conviction of any one or more of the Offenders.

Excise-Office, London,
February 15, 1787.

W. Jackson, pro Sec.

Whitehall, February 20, 1787.

WHEREAS it has been humbly represented to the King, that in the Night of Wednesday last, the 14th Instant, the Steward's Office at Arundel Castle, in the County of Sussex, belonging to the Duke of Norfolk, was burglariously broke open and entered by some Person or Persons unknown: His Majesty, for the better discovering and bringing to Justice the Person or Persons concerned in the said Burglary, is hereby pleased to promise His most gracious Pardon to any one of the Persons concerned, who shall discover his Accomplices therein, so that they or any of them may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

SYDNEY.

And, as a further Encouragement, a Reward of FIFTY GUINEAS is hereby offered to any Person making such Discovery as aforesaid, to be paid by me upon the Conviction of any one of the Offenders, over and above any Reward allowed by Act of Parliament.

Peter R. Lahy,
Agent to his Grace the Duke of Norfolk.

Whitehall, February 9, 1787.

WHEREAS it has been humbly represented to the King, That on the Night between the 3d and 4th Instant, some evil disposed Person or Persons unknown burglariously broke into and entered the Counting-house and Parlour adjoining of Mess. Allan Stewart and Co. Merchants, at Leith, and proceeded to force open Two Desks in the said Counting-house, when not finding any Money therein, they damaged several Articles of the Furniture, and made their Escape.

His Majesty, for the better apprehending and bringing to Justice the Persons concerned in the Burglary and Outrage above-mentioned, is hereby pleased to promise His most gracious Pardon to any one of them, (except the Person who first broke into the said Counting-house
