

cellency our sincere Thanks for your excellent Speech from the Throne.

We learn from your Excellency, with the most deep and unfeigned Sorrow, that our beloved Sovereign has been for some Time afflicted by a severe Malady, which has prevented your receiving His Royal Commands upon the Affairs of this Kingdom. Under this fore Calamity, we cannot but remember, with the warmest Gratitude, that His Majesty's Paternal Care has ever been directed to the Happiness and Prosperity of His Subjects: And our Hearts, thus deeply impressed, offer up the most fervent Prayers to the Divine Providence, that our Gracious Monarch may soon be restored to the anxious Wishes of His People.

We return your Excellency our sincere Acknowledgments for having ordered to be laid before us such Documents as you have received respecting His Majesty's Health, as well as for your Intention of communicating to us, so soon as you shall be enabled, such further Information as may assist our Proceedings on this painful Exigency.

We entreat your Excellency to accept our warmest Thanks for your unwearied Endeavors for the Welfare of this Kingdom; and we hope to confirm your Excellency's favorable Sentiments of us by the strongest Proofs of affectionate Attachment to our Gracious Sovereign, and by a Continuance of our zealous Concern for the united Interests of Great Britain and Ireland.

His Excellency's Answer.

I Request you to accept my sincere Thanks for this obliging Address. It is a Matter of great Satisfaction to me to receive these warm Expressions of your Loyalty to the King, and this kind Mark of your Regard to me. I shall never cease to entertain the most earnest Zeal for the Welfare and Prosperity of Ireland.

To his Excellency George Grenville Nugent Temple, Marquis of Buckingham, Lord Lieutenant-General, and General Governor of Ireland,

The humble Address of the Knights, Citizens, and Burgeses, in Parliament assembled.

May it please your Excellency,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland, in Parliament assembled, beg Leave to return your Excellency our most humble Thanks for your excellent Speech from the Throne.

We cannot adequately express the Poignancy of our Sorrow, in being informed by your Excellency that His Majesty has been for some Time afflicted with a severe Malady, in consequence of which your Excellency has not received His Royal Commands upon the Measures to be recommended to His Parliament.

We return your Excellency our sincere Thanks (however we must lament the Necessity of such a Circumstance) for ordering the Communication of such Documents, as you have received respecting His Majesty's Health, as well as for your Intention of laying before us such further Information as may assist our Deliberations on that melancholy Subject.

Nor can we withhold our Tribute of Acknowledgment to your Excellency for pointing our Attention to the Support of our Public Credit and the Maintenance of the Civil and Military Establishments, as well as for your Solitude to prepare us for those Subjects, by ordering the Public Accounts to be laid before us. On these great Objects of general Importance we shall endeavour to act with a becoming Care of the National Interests and the Honor of His Majesty's Crown.

We are duly impressed with a lively and grateful Sense of the many and numerous Blessings this Country has received during His Majesty's Reign, and, under the Pressure of the present Calamity, shall manifest the most genuine and cordial Loyalty and Attachment to our beloved Sovereign, and our most zealous Regard for the united Strength and common Interests of both Kingdoms; and we return our sincere Thanks to your Excellency for the earnest Wishes that your Excellency is pleased to express for the Welfare and Prosperity of Ireland, which you have always been anxious to promote.

E. Cooke, Cler. Parl. Dom. Com.

His Excellency's Answer.

Gentlemen,

I Return you my most sincere Thanks for this Address. Your Declarations of Duty and Attachment to His Majesty are particularly pleasing to me at this melancholy Crisis. I am happy in the favourable Opinion you are pleased to express of my Endeavours for the Welfare and Prosperity of this Kingdom.

Vienna, January 24.

Letters from Jassy of the 10th Instant, mention that a Detachment from the Army, commanded by Marshal Romanzow, had succeeded in their Attempt to dislodge a Body of Turks, consisting of 900 Men, from Gangura, pursued them to Kainar, and, having driven from thence 700 Tartars, proceeded to the Attack of Salkutza, and obtained a complete Victory. The Enemy lost in these several Actions 390 Men killed, 77 Prisoners, four Pieces of Artillery, and six Colours, whilst the Russians had only one Ensign and four Men killed, and twenty-four wounded. General Kamenkoy was at the Head of the Detachment.
