WHILE the Minds of all your faithful Subjects are filled with Gratitude to Divine Providence for the Restoration of your Majesty's Health, the Inhabitants of Southwark desire to testify their full Participation in the general Joy.

The Anxiety of all Ranks for your Majesty's Recovery, the entire Preservation of public Order, the Proceedings of Parliament, at once demonstrative of their steady and dutiful Attachment to your Majesty, and of their Attention to the Public Safety, constitute a Monument which all Europe will admire, present one the fairest Pages in the Annals of Nations, and will shew to the latest Posterity that your Majesty reigned in the Hearts of your People.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,
The humble, loyal and congratulatory Address of the Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders, Citizens and Principal Inhabitants of the City of Durham, and its Environs.

Most Gracious and Potent Monarch,

Great Britain, the Queen of Isles and Pride of Nations, Arbitress of Europe, perhaps of the World; the Nursery of the Arts, Freedom and Independence; the Terror of her Enemies, and Scourge of Tyrants, is once more raised from a depending humbled Situation to its present glorious and resplendent Acme of Power, Opulence, and Grandeur; by a Descendant of the great and illustrious Chatham, and his responsible Coadjutors in Administration, under the immediate Direction, benign and spirited Auspices of our most gracious, potent and much-beloved Sovereign, for whose happy Restoration to the inestimable Blessings of Health, Domestic Felicity, and for the Political Salvation and Comfort of these Realms, the humble and grateful Adorations to the Omnipotent be ever due.

The Vallies may now again be justly said to laugh and sing, and the Mountains leap for Joy, praising the One Eternal for His infinite Mercies.

Your Majesty's most loyal and affectionate Subjects, the Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders, Citizens and Principal Inhabitants of the City of Durham and its Environs, (than whom your Majesty has not in all your Dominions a People more attached to your Royal Person, Family and Government) do most sincerely and pathetically join in the general Joy upon that happy Occasion.

We do, with equal Sincerity and Truth, most humbly presume to congratulate your Majesty, our most gracious Queen, and all your Majesty's dear and affectionate Relatives, and Country, thereupon.

Long, very long, may your Sacred Majesties continue to enjoy uninterrupted Health, Happiness, and Prosperity, and to bless and reign, as you do, in the Hearts of, and over, a free and generous People, now justly become the Envy and Admiration of surrounding Nations, under and through your benign and most paternal Care. And may their happy Situation convince the World, it is their Birthright to be free; and that all Government is, or ought to be, like our's, consented to and instituted by and for the Benefit of the governed.

May the like Blessings, as are now enjoyed by your Majesty's loyal and affectionate Subjects of every Denomination, be continued to them and to the latest Posterity, in and under your Royal Person and August Illustrious House.

Given under our Hands, this 5th Day of March; in the Year of our Lord 1789, and desired to be presented to the Throne by Sir William Appleby.

[ Transmitted by Sir William Appleby. ]
[ Signed by 930 Persons. ]

Unto the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,
The Address of the Noblemen, Freeholders,
Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of Supply and Heritors of the County of Edinburgh.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of Supply and Heritors of the County of Edinburgh, approach your Majesty's Throne, inspired with the warmest Sentiments of Loyalty and Affection.

Most gratefully sensible of the Blessings we have enjoyed under your Majesty's wife and mild Government, which, for a long Period of Years, has secured to these Realms the highest Measure of Civil Happiness, and of Political Freedom, it was with the deepest Concern and Regret we felt the Enjoyment of those Blessings in Hazard of being interrupted by the dangerous Illness of our Sovereign: Animated no less by that Patriotic Affection which every true Briton feels for the sacred Constitution of his Country, than by the Heartfelt Regard which is due to your Majesty's personal Character and private Virtues, we now indulge a proportional Joy, and return an adequate Tribute of Gratitude to Heaven, for the compleat Restoration of that precious Health, with which the Happiness of Individuals, and the Prosperity of the Empire at large, are so intimately connected.

Amidst those Feelings which now occupy your Royal Breast, there are two Reflections which cannot fail to afford your Majesty a high Degree of Satisfaction. The one is that, during the late Suspension of the Executive Government, the Constitution itself has been preserved inviolate by the watchful Care and Attention of the remaining Branches of the Legislature. The other, that in the general Concern and Anxiety of all Ranks of your Subjects during the melancholy Period of your Majesty's Illness, you have had the strongest possible Proof how much you reign in the Hearts and Affections of your People.

Accept, most Gracious Sovereign, this sincere Testimony of our Duty and Attachment, while, with a Zeal increased by the awful Sense of that Calamity from which it has pleased Heaven to deliver us, we remain your Majesty's most faithful Subjects.

By Appointment of the Meeting,
Bucleugh, Præses.

Edinburgh, March 9, 1789.

[ Transmitted by the Right Honourable Henry Dundas, Representative in Parliament for that County. ]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Right Honourable the Lord Provost, Magistrates and Council of the City of Edinburgh, in Common Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign;

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lord Provost, Magistrates and Council of the City of Edinburgh, deeply impressed

pressed with Gratitude to Almighty God for the manifold Blessings enjoyed under your Majesty's Reign, and no less impressed with a Sense of the Danger from which, by the Interposition of the Divine Mercy to an afflicted People, we are recently delivered, humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty on the happy Re-establishment of your Health; an Event so important to your faithful and affectionate Subjects, and so joyful to your Illustrious House.

While we thus render to the Almighty, from whom every Blessing descends, our humble Thanks for this Dispensation of Providence, we devoutly implore that He may long preserve your Majesty, as an Earnest of His Gracious Purpose to continue that Divine Protection with which the Nation, on this and other Occasions, has been so signally favoured.

Signed and sealed in our Presence, and by our Appointment, this 9th Day of March, 1789, by
