Windfor, March 25.

This Day the Right Honourable Lord North, Chancellor of the University of Oxford, the Earl of Dartmouth, High Steward, the Rev. Dr. Cooke; Vice-Chancellor, Dr. Chapman; President of Trinity College, Dr. Ford, Principal of Magdalen Hall, Dr. Williams, Fellow of Corpus Christi College, Mr. Whitby, Senior Proctor, Mr. Moulding, Junior Proctor, Mr. Demainbray, Fellow of Exeter College, and Mr. Trollope, Fellow of Wadham College, waited on Their Majesties with the following Addresses, being introduced to the Queen by the Earl of Ailesbury, Lord Chamberlain of Her Majesty's Household;

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty:

Most Gracious Sovereign.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Chancellor, Masters and Scholars of the University of Oxford, humbly intreat your favourable Acceptance of our fervent Congratulations on your Majesty's happy Recovery from your late Indisposition.

In this Hour of general Joy we approach you, Sir, with the most heart-felt Gratitude to the Almighty, for the Mercy which he has vouchsafed to us in your Preservation, and with the strongest Sentiments of Love and Veneration for your Royal Person.

To the Sincerity of these Professions the Moments of our Sorrow bore ample Testimony, when we deplored, before the Throne of God, that severe and awful Visitation with which it had pleased Him to afflict you; and when the same Language of Love, Duty and Affection was mingled with our Prayers and Intercessions.

Duly sensible of those Virtues which so eminently distinguish your Majesty, and which (under God) have ensued to us the inestimable Blessings we enjoy, we can never sufficiently acknowledge your unwearying Attention to the Prosperity and Interests of your Subjects, your mild and legal Exercise of the Authority which is vested in you, and your tender and zealous Protection of our Civil and Religious Liberties.

We most heartily commend your Majesty to the continued Protection of that Great Being, whose merciful Interposition we now adore; humbly beseeching Him to grant you a long and prosperous Reign over a grateful and affectionate People.

Given at our House of Convocation, the 23d Day of March, in the Year of our Lord, 1789.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

I Receive with great Satisfaction this loyal and affectionate Address from the University of Oxford, which may always depend upon My Protection. I need hardly express to you my Solicitude for the Advancement of sound Learning and Science, the best Foundations of our excellent Religion, as well as of our Civil Constitution. I shall only recommend to you a Continuance of your Attention to the Education and Morals of the Youth committed to your Care.

They were all very graciously received, and had the Honour to kiss His Majesty's Hand.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty:

MAY it please your Majesty graciously to receive the cordial Congratulations of the Chancellor, Masters and Scholars of the University of Oxford, on the King's happy Recovery from His late Indisposition.

Amidst the general Consternation at that Period, it was with the deepest Sense of Gratitude and Affection that we observed your Majesty's anxious Concern for the Sufferings of your Royal Consort, and the consequent Distresses of His People; and we ceased not to implore the extraordinary Assurances of God's Grace to support you under so great a Trial.

It has pleased the Almighty to accept the Prayers of an afflicted Nation; and, by raising the King from a Bed of Sickness, to promise us a Continuance of the Happiness we enjoy under His mild and auspicious Government.

Your Majesty's many amiable Qualities justly challenge our admiration and Regard; and we shall incessantly offer up our Petitions to the Almighty, that He would be pleased to continue His Blessings to you, as the Reward of those distinguished Virtues by which you add Lustre to the British Throne.

Given at our House of Convocation, the 23d Day of March, in the Year of our Lord, 1789.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

I Should do little Justice to the Sentiments of My Heart, if I did not express, in the strongest Manner, My Thanks for Congratulations so full of Duty to the King, and Attention to Me; and though My Sufferings have been been great, they are amply repaid by the universal Joy on the present happy Occasion.

They were all very graciously received, and had the Honour to kiss Her Majesty's Hand.

Windsor, March 25

The following Addresses have been presented to Their Majesties by the Dean and Canons of Windsor.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Dean and Canons of your Free Collegiate Chapel of St. George, assembled in Chapter, humbly presume to offer our sincere Congratulations on the happy Re-establishment of your Majesty's Health.

Amidst the unfeigned Concern expressed during the late gloomy Interval, by the whole Body of a People, grateful for the Blessings which they had long enjoyed under your Majesty's benign Government, our Society had additional Cause of Sorrow.

Established within the Walls of this Royal Residence, we had peculiar Opportunities of seeing and admiring that bright Assemblage of private Virtues which reflect dignified Lustre on the Splendour of a Crown.

We have for many Years experienced your Majesty's gracious Acceptance of our best Endeavours, in a due Performance of the sacred Offices intrusted to us; by a regular and devout Attendance upon which, we daily saw the Monarch of a great Nation animating His Subjects to imitate His pious Example, in discharging their bounden Duty to the King of Kings.

Nor can we ever be forgetful of the numerous magnificent Improvements which Royal Liberality, combined with elegant Taste, has directed to be carried into Execution within the Chapel appropriated to that illustrious Order, upon whose Religious Exercises our Body is appointed to attend—Improvements which will justly intitle the present Sovereign to a distinguished Place amongst it's Founders and Benefactors.

Deeply impressed with these Personal Considerations, that operate powerfully to invigorate the Sense of Public Obligations, which we feel in common with all our Fellow Subjects; emboldened, farther, by a well-grounded Reliance on that amiable Affability and engaging Condescension which so eminently adorn your Majesty's Character, we are strongly impelled, on this joyful Occasion, to lay at the Foot of the Throne the warm Effusions of our Hearts, and our reverential and devout Wishes, that the Father of Mercies, who has blessed the Means of your Recovery, and restored you to our Prayers, would vouchsafe to preserve your Majesty, in an uninterrupted State of Health, that you may long continue the munificent Patron of Science and of the liberal Arts, the Guardian of Civil Liberty, the exemplary Friend of Religion, and the glorious Instrument of Providence in diffusing Happiness through the Extent of the British Empire.

Sealed in our Chapter Room, this 21st Day of March, 1789.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

YOUR dutiful and affectionate Congratulations on My Recovery from My late severe Indisposition is the more pleasing to Me, as it gives Me a fresh Occasion of assuring you of My firm Attachment to the Church of England, which, the more I examine, the more I am convinced of the Purity of its Doctrines, and of its being most congenial to our excellent Civil Constitution.

To Her Gracious Majesty the QUEEN.

MAY it please your Majesty to accept the dutiful Congratulations of the Dean and Canons of Windsor, on the happy Re-establishment of the Health of our most Gracious Sovereign; an Event highly interesting to the Kingdom in general, and the peculiar Source of the most exalted and unalloyed Satisfaction to His Royal Consort, to whom He is endeared by the tenderest Ties of Conjugal Affection.

Permit us to assure your Majesty, that it shall never cease to be the Subject of our fervent Petitions to the Supreme Governor of the World, who has so providentially turned your Sorrow into Joy, that you may be long preserved, to be a Pattern to the Great, the Protectress of the Good, the Refuge of the Indigent, and to soften the unwearied Labours of our Patriotic King for the Public Welfare, by the Exercise of every amiable Virtue, that can secure and promote His Domestic Felicity.

Sealed in our Chapter Room, this Twenty-first Day of March, 1789.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

I Should not do Justice to the Sentiments of My Heart, did I not return the sincerest Thanks for Congratulations so full of Duty to the King, and so affectionate to Me, from so respectable a Branch of the Church of England.

Windsor, March 25.

This Day the following Address was presented to the King, and read by Mr. David Barclay, accompanied by Mr. Thomas Corbyn and Mr. Jacob Hagen.

To GEORGE the THIRD, King of Great Britain, and the Dominions thereunto belonging,

The humble Address of His Protestant Subjects, the People called Quakers.

May it please the King,

THE general Satisfaction, which has been diffused among Thy People by the signal Restoration of Thy Health, has, we believe, been felt by none with more Thankfulness to the Author of all our Mercies than by us, Thy dutiful and affectionate Subjects, though our Religious Principles lead us to avoid Illuminations, and such public Demonstrations of Joy.

May the Almighty sanctify this happy Event to Thee, to Thy amiable Consort our excellent Queen, to all the Royal Family, and to Thy People; mayst Thou be an Instrument in the Divine Hand for the Promotion of universal Peace and Good-Will among Men, and finally receive the Crown of Life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love Him.

Signed in and on Behalf of our Meeting for Sufferings held in London, by Adjournment, the Seventeenth of the Third Month, 1789.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

YOUR repeated Expressions of Duty and Affection to My Person and Family are very agreeable to Me. They are particularly so on the present Occasion of My Recovery, by the Mercy of God, from a dangerous Illness. You may depend upon the Continuance of My Protection.

Whitehall, March 28.

The following Addresses having been delivered or transmitted to the Right Honourable Lord Sydney, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, have been by him presented to the King: Which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The Address of the Lord Lieutenant and Grand Jury of the County of Sussex.

WE, the Lord Lieutenant and Grand Jury of the County of Sussex, humbly beg Leave to take this earliest Opportunity to address your Majesty to express our Attachment to your Royal Person and Government, and our Part of the General Joy and Thankfulness, which, on the Event of your Majesty's happy Recovery, has animated the whole Empire.

We rejoice that your Majesty has found, upon the Re-establishment of your Health, the general Interests of the Nation unimpaired, through the Wisdom of your Parliament, who have been able, during the Period of our Fears and Anxieties, to conduct the State in Safety.

Your Majesty's personal Prosperity has been at all Times dear to your faithful Subjects, and the Object of their Prayers; but on this Occasion we have seen and felt, with more than ordinary Anxiety, how intimately your Majesty's immediate Welfare was blended with the Public Good; and, as our Apprehensions for the Loss of your Majesty's Paternal Care of us increased, we became the more anxious for the Preservation of that prudent, wise and unremitting Attention of your Majesty to the Government of your People, to which they owe the Happiness and Prosperity that have distinguished the present Era: We have accordingly found our Hearts warmed with a more lively Affection, and, if possible, with added Loyalty to your Majesty; and we kneel with Thankfulness to that Almighty Being, who has been graciously pleased to restore you to your People, over whom it is our fervent Prayer, that your Majesty may be long, very long, preserved to extend the Blessings of your Reign.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, Merchants, Bankers and Traders of London, beg Leave to approach your Royal Presence to offer our humble and affectionate Congratulations upon the Restoration of your Majesty's Health, of the Importance of which your Subjects have been made peculiarly sensible, by the Severity of your Majesty's late Indisposition.

In your Recovery, Sir! we contemplate the Cessation of a Public Calamity; we behold Safety, Union and Peace; and our Joy is greatly augmented by reflecting on the Happiness which your Royal Consort and the Royal Family must feel on an Occasion so highly interesting.

Impressed with the warmest Sentiments of Gratitude, we offer up our unfeigned Thanks to the Supreme Disposer of Events for this signal Display of His Mercy.

May your Majesty long live in the full Enjoyment of Health and of the highest Degree of Domestic Felicity: The Guardian of our Civil and Religious Liberties, the Protector of our Commerce, and the Head of that Constitution which is the Admiration of surrounding Nations; the Glory of our own! May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Middlesex, beg Leave most humbly to approach your Majesty with our hearty Congratulations on your Majesty's happy Recovery from your late Indisposition.

It is with the deepest Sense of Gratitude that we acknowledge the Bounty and Goodness of the Almighty Disposer of human Events, in restoring your Majesty to your faithful Subjects.

The Joy which has been so generally manifested has, in no Part of your Majesty's Dominions, been more sincerely felt than by your loyal and dutiful Subjects residing in the County of Middlesex, whose local Situation enables them, in a particular Manner, to feel and enjoy the Blessings of your Majesty's paternal Care, and mild and just Government.

Permit us, Sir, to assure you, that we will, upon all Occasions, be ready to testify our zealous Attachment to your Majesty's Sacred Person, and to maintain and defend our excellent Constitution in Church and State.

Our ardent Prayers to Heaven are, that your Majesty may continue to enjoy that Health which it hath pleased the Almighty to restore you to, and that you may long reign in Peace and Happiness over a grateful and affectionate People.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy and others of the County of Hertford, beg Leave to testify to your Majesty the anxious Concern for your Safety, which we felt in common with all our Fellow-Subjects, during your late Indisposition; and we presume humbly to entreat your Majesty's Acceptance of our most unfeigned Congratulations on the happy Event of your Recovery.

As the Re-establishment of your Majesty's Health is an Object of the greatest Exultation to us your loyal Subjects of the County of Hertford, so will we continue to offer up our constant Prayers to Almighty God; that your Majesty may long enjoy that most invaluable Blessing

Ch. Bourchier, Sheriff.

[Delivered by the Earl of Salisbury, Lord Lieutenant; Charles Bourchier, Esq; High Sheriff; accompanied by Lord Viscount Grimstone and William Plumer, Esq; Representatives in Parliament for the said County.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

Most Gracious Sir!

WE, the Mayor, Bailiffs and Commonalty of your Majesty's ancient and loyal City of Oxford, in Common Council assembled, embrace with unspeakable Pleasure the present happy Moment, and implore your Majesty's Acceptance of our most sincere and affectionate Congratulations on an Event, that has marked the peculiar Providence of Heaven, in restoring to us a Sovereign, whose uniform System of Government has been the Peace, the Happiness and Prosperity of His Subjects.

Depressed and almost sunk into Despair by the melancholy Tidings of our Monarch's Indisposition, our Joys were limited only by the Extent of human Felicity, on hearing of His returning Health, in which were involved not only our own dearest Interests, but, by a more intimate Relation, the Happiness and Comfort of the best of Queens, whose eminently distinguished Qualities justly demand from us, and all Mankind, the tenderest Concern for Her Welfare.

May the Almighty, who has preserved unto us a King, and given Him new Health and Vigor, continue to watch over Him with the choicest Gifts of Heaven; and whilst we contemplate the past Effects of a mild and beneficent Reign, we look forward with Confidence and perfect Security to the firm Maintenance of all our Civil and Religious Rights.

These, Great Sir, are not the Sentiments and Prayers of divided Citizens; numerous as we are, we differed not in heartily approving the Administration of Public Measures during your Indisposition, and particularly of those which more immediately tended to establish, what we believed to be, the true Constitution of the State, and to secure your Majesty's just Rights; and now with one Heart, and one Voice, in Terms expressive of the utmost Loyalty, Duty, Zeal and Affection, which grateful Subjects can be inspired with, we celebrate your Majesty's Recovery, and Return to imperial Power, the sure Prelude to Liberty, and every Blessing dear in the Estimation of Britons.

Given under the Common Seal of our City, the 20th Day of March, in the Year of our Lord, 1789, and in the 29th Year of your Majesty's Reign.

[Delivered by John Parson, Esq; Mayor; Sir John Skinner, Recorder; and Thomas Walker, Esq; Town-Clerk.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

your Majesty of the grateful Sense we entertain of your gracious Patronage and Protection as Governor of this Company; and to unite with the rest of your Majesty's Subjects in the most ardent Wishes, that your Majesty may enjoy an uninterrupted Series of Health and Happiness during a long and prosperous Reign over a loyal, dutiful and affectionate People.

By Order of the General Court,

Sam. Salt, Dep. Gov.

South-Sea House, March 26, 1789.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

Most Gracious Sovereign,

HIGHLY favoured as this Nation is by Divine Providence; in the happy Restoration of your Majesty's valuable Health, we, your Majesty's faithful and loyal Subjects, the Body Corporate of the Seamen of England, embrace the earliest Opportunity of joining in universal Gratitude and Thanksgiving to Heaven for the Dispensation of so distinguished a Blessing to your affectionate People: And we most ardently implore the Almighty Goodness to continue to your Majesty this inestimable Enjoyment, so essential a Security to the Happiness of your Dominions; and that your Majesty's Reign over them may be extended for a long Succession of Years in uninterrupted Health, Peace and Prosperity.

May the Almighty Power which hath restored your Majesty to the Wishes and Prayers of your faithful People continue to watch over You, and perpetuate without Interruption to us and our Posterity the Blessings we have hitherto enjoyed under the Government of your Majesty and of your Illustrious Family.

March 25, 1789.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bishop, Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Winchester.

S I R E,

WE, the Bishop, Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Winchester, humbly beg Leave to offer to your Majesty our sincerest and warmest Congratulations on the happy Re-establishment of your Majesty's Health. We are powerfully excited to offer these Congratulations by the united Motives of Duty, Interest, Gratitude and Affection; and we shall not fail incessantly to offer our Prayers to Almighty God, that your Majesty may long continue to diffuse over a loyal and grateful People the invaluable Blessings of pure Religion and Civil Liberty.

[Delivered by the Bishop of Winchester.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishop, Clergy, Merchants, Traders, and other Inhabitants of the City of Bristol, humbly approach your Royal Person with our most heartfelt and unfeigned Congratulations on your Majesty's happy Restoration to the Wishes and fervent Prayers of your faithful and affectionate People.

We persuade ourselves, that your Majesty will consider the Exultation of your Subjects upon so auspicious an Occasion, as well as their Solicitude for the Preservation of a Life, so important to the Interests of these Kingdoms, as the surest Testimony of their Veneration for those public and private Virtues, which shed so bright a Lulre upon your Majesty's Crown and Person.

May the same Omnipotent Being, who has enabled your Majesty again to exercise with your wonted Benignity those Virtues which make a Nation prosperous and happy, long preserve you to us; and when it shall please Him to put a Period to a Life so valuable to Mankind in general, and to your grateful and loving Subjects in particular, may this Nation be blessed with a Race of Princes from your Illustrious House, to govern our Descendants by your great Example.

[Delivered by the Rev. Dr. Small, John Maxce, William Battersby, and William Fry, Esqrs. accompanied by the Lord Bishop of Bristol, and Matthew Brickdale and Henry Cruger, Esqrs. Representatives in Parliament for that City.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishop of Lichfield and Coventry, the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Lichfield, the Archdeacons and Clergy of the Diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, most sincerely congratulate your Majesty on your happy Recovery from your late Indisposition.

We have the Felicity to live in an Age, when the strongest Professions of Attachment are conveyed to the Throne; not with the reproachful Feelings of Adulation, but with that honest Confidence, which the strictest Truth, the most unshaken Loyalty, and the most civilised Freedom conspire to produce.

The Good and the Virtuous, the Diligent and the Meritorious of every Rank and Station, and of every Religion, within your Majesty's Dominions, look up to your Majesty, as their gracious Protector, and their sure Support. But we feel ourselves peculiarly interested in your Majesty's Welfare, whose Duty it is to inculcate that pure Christian Faith, and those excellent Principles of Morality which are abundantly cherished in your Royal Breast; and which your Majesty hath invariably recommended to your People with every Motive of Encouragement, but with none more forcibly, than the brightest and most animating Example.

We earnestly pray that the Almighty Disposer of human Events may be pleased to grant a long Extent to your Majesty's Reign, for the immediate Advantage of us and of all our Fellow Subjects; and also by the lengthened Display of a perfect Administration of the best Government, for the Benefit of our Posterity and the Instruction of all Mankind.

[Delivered by the Lord Bishop.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Mayor, Dean and Chapter, and other Citizens and Inhabitants of the City of Gloucester.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Dean and Chapter, and other Citizens and Inhabitants of the City of Gloucester, with Hearts full of Gratitude to the Almighty for your Majesty's Preservation, want Words to express the Joy we feel in your Restoration to Health and Strength.

The unparalleled and universal Testimonies of Gladness which your once again happy People have exhibited on receiving the most welcome News of your Majesty's Recovery, will bear sufficient Evidence to your Majesty, and Conviction to all the World, that you enjoy the supreme Felicity of reigning in the Hearts of your Subjects.

Signally honoured as we have been by your Majesty's late Residence in our Neighbourhood, unattended with the Retinue of Royalty, and reposing the Safety of your Person in the Love of your People; greatly favoured with witnessing, at this Distance from the Metropolis, the Truth of what Fame had reported to us of the endearing Condescensions and engaging Tenderesses of your Majesty, your Queen and amiable Princesses—highly delighted with the Opportunities afforded us of observing with our own Eyes the Example set by your Majesty and our most gracious Queen of conjugal Felicity and domestic Enjoyment; supremely gratified with tracing the Source of your Majesty's just and mild Government in the Benignity of your Royal Disposition, and still warm with the Impressions which these Observations made on our Affections; we feel peculiar Satisfaction and inexpressible Joy in the Blessing which Heaven has vouchsafed us of your Majesty's Restoration to our beloved Queen, the most amiable Princesses, and to your happy People.

We exult in the Pleasure your Majesty must feel on finding your Crown and Empire, through the Wisdom of your Parliament, and the Protection of Heaven, preserved in full Strength and Vigour.—That your Majesty may long reign under the like Protection, a Comfort to yourself, and a Blessing to your Family and People, is the sincere Prayer of your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects.

[Delivered by John Webb and John Pitt, Esqrs. Representatives in Parliament for the said City.]

Your Majesty's affectionate and paternal Solicitude for the Welfare of your People, which has been so conspicuous throughout your Majesty's Reign, and has endeared your Name to all your Majesty's Subjects, will, we are confident, secure to us a Continuance of that System of Government, under which we have hitherto lived so happily, and increase the Splendour of these Kingdoms, already raised by your Majesty to a most enviable Height of Prosperity and Consequence.

May it please the Almighty to shower down His choicest Blessings on your Majesty, and to preserve your Majesty's Life for many Years to reign over a happy and united People.

We desire to testify our Thankfulness to a Gracious God, that, during the late Period of our unfeigned Sorrow, no Foreign Enemy disturbed the Peace of the Empire, and that sufficient Energy of Government remained to answer all immediate Exigencies. The Interposition of Divine Providence, gence, manifested in an Event so important to a faithful and affectionate People, and so joyful to your Illustrious Family, hath inspired us with inexpressible Satisfaction, and hath afforded to your Majesty the most unquestionable Proofs of the cordial Esteem of the Nation.

Glorying in the Happiness of living under a Constitution which secures to us the Enjoyment of a legal Freedom, known only to British Subjects, we should be ungrateful not to sympathize with a Sovereign who hath uniformly approved Himself the watchful Guardian, the steadfast Friend of that Constitution; and the Father of his People.

We consider your Majesty's Re-assumption of the executive Government of your Kingdoms, when the Suspension of the Public Business of your Realm so immediately demanded an efficient Constitutional Power, the Work of the Almighty vouchsafed to the Prayers of your afflicted People.

That the Influence of your Example may continue to animate us to the Imitation of your Virtues, and that may long vindicate the Dignity of your Crown Abroad, and protect our Religious and Civil Liberties at Home, is our loyal and affectionate Prayer.

Given under our Common Seal this 23d Day of March, 1789.

Your Majesty's happy and much wished for Recovery has at length dispelled that Gloom and Distress which every where prevailed. Sensible of your Majesty's unbounded Tenderness for your People, we exult in your Majesty's happy Restoration; and we hope and pray that, under the Protection of Heaven, your Majesty may long continue to reign in the Hearts of your Subjects.

Numerous are the Blessings we have experienced under your Majesty's auspicious Reign, but in no Instance hath your Majesty's paternal Regard to your faithful Subjects been more conspicuous, than in your Majesty's committing the Care of our happy Constitution to those able and upright Ministers, whose Wisdom, Firmness and Integrity have preserved it inviolate during the heavy Calamity of your Majesty's Indisposition.

May your Life, Sire, in future be attended with Health, Prosperity, and every earthly Comfort: May you long, very long, reign over a free, flourishing and affectionate People; and may your Posterity follow your bright Example, and emulate your Virtues to the latest Period of Time.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Deputy Recorder, Jurats, Common Council, and Principal Inhabitants of His Majesty's Town and Parish of Maidstone, in the County of Kent, humbly beg Leave to express our most unfeigned Congratulations on the happy Re-establishment of Health to our beloved and gracious Sovereign, an Event so full of glad Tidings to this Nation, and of such unspeakable Comfort to yourself and all the Royal Family.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble and affectionate Address of the Bailiffs, Recorder, Capital Burgesses and Inhabitants of the ancient Borough of Bridport, in the County of Dorset.

M A D A M,

WE beg Leave to rejoice with your Majesty and to express our warmest Gratitude to Heaven, on Account of His Majesty's compleat Recovery from the severe Indisposition with which it had pleased the Almighty to afflict our Gracious Sovereign.

We cannot sufficiently express our Gratitude for the Blessings of His Majesty's Reign. The paternal Care for His people, conspicuous in His Government, and exerted to promote their general Happiness, made our Distress the more poignant during the Existence of the Malady under which His Majesty laboured, and the suspension of His personal Exercise of the Royal Authority: And in the same Proportion do we feel and participate the general Joy diffused throughout the Empire upon the happy Occasion of His Majesty's Health being restored in Answer to the Prayers of His afflicted Subjects; whilst we also rejoice at the strong Proofs which have been given, during the melancholy Interval now past, that your Majesties both reign in the Hearts of a free and affectionate People.

May both your Majesties continue to enjoy, for a long succession of Years, every domestic Comfort, and those warm Affections, from all the Subjects of the British Empire, by which we are animated, at this joyful Moment, to express our Attachment to the Persons of your Majesties, and to your Royal House.

[Delivered by Charles Sturt, Esq; one of the Representatives in Parliament for the said Borough, and Mr. Serjeant Watfon.]

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

THE Portreeve, Aldermen, Burgesses and Inhabitants of the ancient Borough of Swansea, and its Vicinity, called upon by a Sense of Gratitude to express their humble Thanks to your Majesty, no less for your tender and affectionate Attention to our beloved Sovereign during His late severe and distressing Illness, than for your wife and exemplary Conduct in so awful a Crisis towards the Nation in general, beg at the same Time to add their inadequate though sincere Tribute of Joy to that which hath pervaded the whole Realm, on the Event of the Restoration of the King's Health; and to request your Acceptance of their most warm and dutiful Congratulations on the Occasion. Reflecting also on the Blessings this Kingdom hath received from your Majesty's Connections with it, they cannot but offer up to Heaven their most ardent Prayers for your long Life; and are further in duty bound to be most earnest in their Supplications, as it must contribute so essentially to the Happiness of the best of Monarchs.
