Steph. Cottrell.

Windsor, March 30.

The following Addresses of the Archbishop, Bishops and Clergy of the Province of Canterbury, in Convocation assembled, have been presented to Their Majesties by His Grace the Lord Archbishop, attended by the Right Reverend the Lords Bishops of London, Gloucester, Lincoln and Carlisle, the Reverend the Dean of Norwich, the Archdeacon of Canterbury, and Sir Richard Cope, Bart. Prebendary of Westminster, being introduced to the King by the Honourable Major General Harcourt, one of the Grooms of His Majesty's Bedchamber, and to the Queen by the Honourable Stephen Digby, Vice-Chamberlain to Her Majesty.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Archbishop, Bishops and Clergy of the Province of Canterbury, in Convocation assembled, humbly beg Leave to offer our most sincere Congratulations on the signal Interposition of Providence in your Majesty's happy Recovery, and to express the Pleasure we feel in seeing your Majesty restored to the Comforts of your domestic Life, and to the Duties of your Royal Station. We rejoice, in common with the Rest of your loyal Subjects, that the Security and Advantages which we enjoy under your Majesty's just and mild Government are continued to us. Attached to the Constitution of our Country, we are truly sensible of our Happiness in living under a King, whose whole Reign has proved Him the Guardian of the Civil and Religious Rights of His Subjects. But more especially, as Ministers of our Holy Religion, we are anxious to declare our heartfelt Joy, that we are still blessed with a Sovereign, by whose paternal Care it is constantly protected, and whose exemplary Piety and Purity of Manners adorn its Doctrines, and extend its Influence.

We offer up our most earnest Prayers to the Throne of Grace, that your Majesty's Reign may be long and happy over a People who manifest their grateful Sense of your Majesty's Goodness by their zealous Attachment to your Person, and their firm Support of the Rights and Dignities of your Crown. May you continue, Sir, to possess that noblest Empire, the Hearts of your Subjects: May their Affection be proportionate to your Majesty's Goodness; and may the Consciousness of possessing it alleviate your Royal Cares. May the pleasing Intercourse of gracious Protection and loyal Duty still increase between a beloved Sovereign and a grateful People, till it shall please Almighty God to crown your Majesty's Labours and Virtues in this World with Life eternal in the World to come.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

My Lords, and the Rest of the Clergy,

I Thank you for this loyal and affectionate Address, containing your Congratulations on the signal Interposition of Providence in My Recovery from a dangerous Illness.

The Expressions of Attachment and Fidelity, which I receive from My loving Subjects, are most grateful to Me; My Wishes will ever be to promote, to the utmost of My Power, the Welfare and Happiness of My People.

You may depend upon My watchful Care and Protection of the Established Church, and of My best Support of Our most Holy Religion.

They were all very graciously received, and had the Honour to kiss His Majesty's Hand.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

MAY it please your Majesty to permit the Archbishop, Bishops and Clergy of the Province of Canterbury, in Convocation assembled, to express the unfeigned Joy which they feel, and the dutiful Part they take in that which your Majesty receives from the Accomplishment of the Prayers of an affectionate and loyal Nation on the Restoration of His Majesty's Health. Deeply sensible of the Protection and Blessings which we derive from His Majesty's Government, it is with most thankful Hearts that we see it preserved to us, and our Joy is greatly increased by the Reflection that this merciful Dispensation of Providence restores the Happiness of a Queen, whose unaffected Piety and Christian Virtues have justly acquired our Respect and Veneration. The long Experience which we have had of your Majesty's Attachment to our most Gracious Sovereign, the constant Proofs of tender and unremitting Attention during the late Calamity, and your Majesty's religious Instructions and Example invariably directed to impress the Principles and Duties of Christianity on the Minds of your Royal Family, demand the most grateful Acknowledgments, more especially from those, who attached, both by Inclination and Duty, to the Support of our Holy Religion, have Reason to hope that the Influence of Royal Example may, with the Blessing of God, contribute to restore it to a greater Degree of Public Estimation.

We humbly intreat your Majesty to accept the just Returns of our Gratitude. We trust that we can not make them in a more becoming and acceptable Manner, than by offering up our devout Supplications to Almighty God, that He will be pleased to preserve to our Gracious Sovereign the Health which in His Mercy He hath restored; that your Majesty's Life may be long continued to share and to increase His Happiness, and in the Enjoyment of every temporal and spiritual Blessing; that your Majesty's Descendants may to all Generations sit on the Throne and inherit the Virtues of their Royal Parents.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

I Return you sincere Thanks for Expressions so full of Duty to the King, and Attention to Me.

The universal Joy that prevails among all Ranks of Men is the more pleasing to Me, as it so strongly denotes the Consciousness of the Blessings they enjoy under His Majesty's mild and judicious Government.

They were all very graciously received, and had the Honour to kiss Her Majesty's Hand.

The following Addresses of the Bishop of London, the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's, and the Clergy of the Cities of London and Westminster, have been presented to Their Majesties by the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop of London, attended by the Reverend the Dean of St. Paul's, Mr. Eaton, Archdeacon of Middlesex, Doctor Hamilton, Archdeacon of Colchester, Doctor Jeffries, Canon Residentiary of St. Paul's, and Doctor Bell, Prebendary of Westminster, being introduced to the King by the Honourable Major-General Harcourt, one of the Grooms of His Majesty's Bedchamber, and to the Queen by the Honourable Stephen Digby, Vice-Chamberlain to Her Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishop of London, the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's, and the Clergy of the Cities of London and Westminster, beg Leave to express to your Majesty the large Share we take in the general Voice of Joy and Congratulations through the Kingdom, on the late happy Event of your Majesty's Recovery from a severe and alarming Indisposition.

The first Intelligence of your Majesty's Illness struck your faithful People with Consternation and Dismay, and the Continuance of it overwhelmed them with the deepest Affliction: Yet amidst this general Gloom and Despondency, there were those who constantly cherished a reviving Hope, that, in a Case of such infinite Magnitude and Importance, the sincere, the fervent and united Prayers of a whole Kingdom would finally prevail. Their Expectations have not been disappointed; the Almighty heard our Petitions; and our Sovereign was restored.

This signal Interposition of Providence in your Majesty's Favour was too visible, too strongly marked by all the various Circumstances attending it, to be mistaken or denied. We acknowledge it with the deepest Humility, we feel its blessed Influence on our best and dearest Interests, and we trust it will never be erased from our Memories and our Hearts.

In your Majesty's Breast it has excited the warmest Sentiments of Devotion and Gratitude to Heaven: And there are two Circumstances attending it, which must give your Majesty singular Satisfaction. The one is, that it affords a most convincing Proof that just and righteous Princes are the peculiar Objects of the Divine Favour and Protection; the other is, that it has drawn from your People such cordial and unequivocal Marks of Attachment and Affection to your Person, as few Sovereigns, in any Age or Nation, have ever received from their Subjects.

These, Sir, are the genuine Effusions of our Hearts, impressed with a lively Sense of the many invaluable Blessings we have long experienced under your Majesty's mild and equal Government, and (what more particularly concerns ourselves) most truly thankful for the Countenance and Encouragement which Piety and good Morals receive both from your Authority and your Example.

It will, Sir, be our constant Prayer to Heaven; that the same good Providence, which has hitherto so remarkably watched over your Royal Person, may still continue to protect your Majesty, and preserve to us, for many Years, the Guardian of our Constitution, and the Support and Ornament of our most Holy Religion.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following most Gracious Answer:

I Thank you for this loyal and dutiful Address.

The Proofs which My faithful Subjects have given of their affectionate Attachment to My Person, and of the Satisfaction they receive at the signal Interposition of Divine Providence in raising Me from the severe Indisposition with which I have lately been afflicted, cannot fail to make a lasting Impression upon My Mind.

You may depend upon My constant Care and Protection of the Established Church, and of My anxious Concern for the Maintenance of true Religion and good Morals among My People.

They were all received very graciously, and had the Honour to kiss His Majesty's Hand.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Bishop of London, the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's, and the Clergy of the Cities of London and Westminster, beg Permission to approach your Majesty, with the most fervent Expressions of Thankfulness to God for the late providential Re-establishment of His Majesty's Health.

We were no Strangers, Madam, to your gentle Virtues, and condescending Goodness, which had for so many Years endeared your Majesty to all Ranks of People in this Country. But we had still to learn what consummate Prudence in the most difficult and distressing Circumstances; what Patience, Firmness, Fortitude and Resignation; under the severest Trials that human Nature could experience, your Majesty was capable of exerting, when the Occasion called for them.

In these great but painful Exertions we saw the full Force and Power of genuine Piety and religious Principle. We saw in your Majesty's Conduct, during the Whole of this afflicting Scene, what solid Consolation and Support under Calamity they are able to afford; what true Magnanimity they can produce even in the tenderest and most delicate Minds. But, Thanks be to God, this bitter Conflict is at an End. Nothing now remains for your Majesty but the easier and more delightful Part of reaping the full Reward of your past Sufferings in the restored Health and Happiness of our beloved Sovereign, and in the unbounded Joy it has diffused through every Part of His Dominions.

These are Blessings in your Majesty's Estimation; the greatest this World has to give. May it be long, very long, before you are called to a still higher Recompense in Heaven.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

I Cannot but receive your Expressions of Joy on the King's Recovery from His late severe Indisposition with great Satisfaction, as well as those that convey your Attention to Me. It must ever be My Aim to deserve the Approbation of this Nation, and more particularly of your Sacred Profession.

They were all very graciously received, and had the Honour to kiss Her Majesty's Hand.

The following Addresses of the President, Council and Fellows of the Society of Antiquaries of London, have been presented to Their Majesties by the Earl of Leicester, President of that Society: Which Addresses Their Majesties were pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the President, Council and Fellows of the Society of Antiquaries of London.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your dutiful and loyal Subjects, the President, Council and Fellows of the Society of Antiquaries of London, humbly presume to express the warm Effusions of our Hearts on the happy Event of your Majesty's Recovery.

Not satisfied with the Opportunities which we have embraced of subscribing our Names separately to the affectionate Addresses laid at the Foot of the Throne, on this joyful Occasion, by different Descriptions of your Majesty's Subjects, with whom we are respectively connected as private Individuals, we feel ourselves impelled by peculiar Obligations to unite in offering our sincere Congratulations as Members of this Public Body, which has been distinguished by Royal Patronage with the Honor of a Charter of Incorporation, and which never can meet to hold its stated Assemblies, without being reminded, that it is indebted to your Majesty's munificent Patronage for its permanent Establishment within these Walls.

We trust, that the Objects of our Institution have been diligently and profitably pursued; and, by persevering in our active Exertions to throw Light on ancient History and Manners, in various Particulars, about which our General Historians are silent, because they had not the Means of Information, we look up with Confidence for a Continuation of the favourable Regard of a Monarch, who, during His auspicious Reign, hath extended Protection to every Branch of Literature.

Thankful to Providence for the great National Blessing we have so lately received, it is our ardent Wish, that your Majesty may be long preserved, endeared to all your Subjects by your unwearied and successful Endeavours to make them happy.

Given under our Seal, at Somerset Place, March 26, 1789.

To Her Majesty the QUEEN,

The humble Address of the President, Council and Fellows of the Society of Antiquaries of London.

May it please your Majesty,

THE President, Council and Fellows of the Society of Antiquaries of London, having paid their glad Tribute of Congratulation to their most Gracious Sovereign, on the happy Re-establishment of His Health, would have thought themselves very deficient in their Duty if they had not presumed, at the same Time, to convey to your Majesty the humble and dutiful Expressions of their loyal Zeal on an Event, which however interesting to the whole Body of a People sensible of the Happiness they have enjoyed under His mild and paternal Government, must have excited a particular Glow of the most exalted Satisfaction in the Breast of your Majesty, to whom He is united and endeared by the tenderest Ties of conjugal Affection.

Given under our Seal, at Somerset Place, March 26, 1789.

Whitehall, April 4.

THE following Addresses having been delivered or transmitted to the Right Honourable Lord Sydney, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, have been by him presented to the King: Which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Archbishop, the Dean and Chapter, and the Archdeacon and Clergy of the Diocese of Canterbury.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Archbishop, the Dean and Chapter, and the Archdeacon and Clergy of the Diocese of Canterbury, beg Leave to present our humble Congratulations to your Majesty on your providential Recovery from your late Illness.

They are a Tribute justly due from loyal and grateful Subjects to a King, under whose mild and gracious Government they enjoy the Blessings of Religion, Liberty, Prosperity and Peace; and more particularly from the Ministers of that Holy Religion, which your Majesty defends by your Authority, and supports by your Example. We presume to offer them too, Sir, as Proofs of our Veneration for those respectable and amiable Virtues, which constitute your Majesty's personal Character.

Impressed with these Sentiments, we shall not cease to pray unto God to preserve your Majesty, through a long and happy Reign, the Health which He hath restored, and every domestick as well as publick Happiness. It shall be our Part to shew our Gratitude for the Blessings of your Majesty's Government, by instructing your People committed to our Care in the Duties of Christianity, and by confirming them in a zealous Attachment to your Majesty's Person and Royal Family, constitutional Obedience to your Authority, and Imitation of your Example.

[Delivered by his Grace the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, and Clergy of the Diocese of Bangor.

MAY it please your Majesty to accept the sincere Congratulations of your most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishop, the Dean and Chapter, and Clergy of the Diocese of Bangor, on the happy Event of your Majesty's Recovery from your late Indisposition.

We humbly beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that the Account of your Illness deeply affected all Ranks of People in this remote Part of your Kingdom; but none were more truly sensible of the great national Calamity than those of our Order, who would not suffer their Anxiety to abate, till they had heard of your Majesty being, by the Blessing of Providence, restored to the Prayers and Wishes of your faithful Subjects.

We enjoy, in common with the rest of your Majesty's Subjects, the invaluable Blessings of your mild and equal Government; and besides these, we have the rare Felicity also of finding the sacred Cause, in which we are engaged, supported and encouraged by the bright Example which your Majesty has uniformly set of every Christian Grace and Virtue.

The Cares of Government are so many, and so weighty, that they who administer it stand in Need of every Comfort and Support; and we humbly hope, that the affectionate Regard and Concern which all your Subjects expressed during your Majesty's severe Indisposition, and the unfeigned Joy and Satisfaction which every where appeared on your happy Recovery, will afford your Majesty Matter of true Consolation, as this is the best Return, however inadequate, which a loyal People can make to your Majesty for your unwearied Pains through a long Course of Years, in every Period of which you have proved yourself to be the Father of your People.

We should be greatly wanting in Duty and Respect, if we omitted this Opportunity of mentioning how much we reverence your Royal Consort, who, on this trying Occasion, gave so many Proofs of Her Affection, Goodness and Prudence, as cannot fail to endear our Gracious Queen to all your Majesty's Subjects, and transmit Her Name, in Characters of Honour, to the latest Posterity.

We will detain your Majesty but one Moment longer, whilst we pour forth our most ardent Prayers and Wishes that your Majesty may long continue to reign in Health and Prosperity over a grateful People, and that they may learn from your pious Example, that a firm Reliance on an over-ruling Providence is the only solid Comfort in this Life, even to the greatest and most powerful among Men!

Bangor, March 21, 1789.

[Delivered by the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and faithful Subjects, the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies, humbly crave Leave to approach your Royal Person with our most sincere Congratulations upon your Majesty's happy Recovery!

We beg Leave likewise to express our most ardent Wishes for the Continuance of your Majesty's Health, and that your Majesty may long, very long, reign over a dutiful and affectionate People with every public and domestick Felicity.

[Delivered by the Chairman and Deputy Chairman.]

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Treasurer, Masters of the Bench and Barristers of the ancient Society of the Inner Temple, established for promoting the Study and Practice of the Law, humbly intreat your Majesty's Permission, amidst the universal Joy that now prevails on your Majesty's happy Recovery, and excites the warmest Effusions of Gratitude to Divine Providence in the Breast of every good Citizen, to offer our Tribute of Congratulations.

The invariable Regard which the whole Tenor of your Majesty's Government, even from the Commencement of your auspicious Reign, hath manifested to the Constitution and Laws of this Country; the additional Strength and Firmness which under your Majesty's Authority hath been given to many old Laws; the many new ones which under the same Authority have passed, by all which the Rights of your Subjects have been more and more confirmed and established; your Majesty's mild and merciful Exercise of the Executive Power and Prerogative: These most invaluable Blessings must excite the Admiration of, and call aloud for, the warmest Acknowledgments from every Professor of the Municipal Law of this Kingdom.

Deeply impressed with a Sense of these Advantages, and every happy Consequence attending the Re-establishment of your Majesty in the Government of these Kingdoms, it is our most ardent Wish and Prayer, that the same good Providence, whose benign Influence hath thus graciously interposed in this Instance, which excites our present Congratulations, may long, very long, preserve you in the Enjoyment of your well deserved Titles, the King and Father of a free, loyal and affectionate People.

Tho. Gilbert, Treasurer.

Inner Temple, March 28, 1789.

[Delivered by Thomas Gilbert, Esq;]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the High Sheriff, the Lord Lieutenant, Nobility, Gentry, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Gloucester, feeling ourselves more particularly interested in your Majesty's Health, by your late Royal and Gracious Residence in this County, beg Leave to approach your Presence with Hearts filled with the most unfeigned Thankfulness to Providence, for the happy Re-establishment of your Majesty's Health, and being again restored to the ardent Wishes and Prayers of your faithful and affectionate People, and to the personal Exercise of your Royal Authority.

We most humbly take this Opportunity of assuring your Majesty of our firm and zealous Attachment to your Majesty's Person, Family and Government; and we sincerely hope, that it may please the Almighty to extend His Blessing to this Nation, by prolonging your Majesty's most gracious and benign Reign, by which the Religious and Civil Liberties, the Trade and Prosperity of this Kingdom, have hitherto been so effectually protected and secured.

[Transmitted by the Earl of Berkeley, Lord Lieutenant, and the Honourable George Berkeley, and Thomas Masters, Esq; Representatives in Parliament for that County.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Gentlemen, Clergy and other the Inhabitants of the City of Exeter.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Gentlemen, Clergy and other the Inhabitants of the City of Exeter, assembled in the Guildhall of the said City, with all Humility beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty on the Restoration of your Health, and your Return to the Exercise of your Regal Authority.

It is in the Nature of Man to become more sensible of the greatest Blessings of Providence when they are threatened to be withdrawn. We need not therefore to dissemble, that deeply impressed, as we have ever been, with a grateful Sense of the Benefits which we enjoy under your Majesty's Government, the Danger, which we lately apprehended, of being deprived of your Paternal Care, hath given new Force to the Impression, and united, with the Loyalty of Subjects, the tender Affections of Children. The same Sentiments, we are persuaded, pervade the Breasts of all good Men amongst us; and while they animate our Prayers for the Continuance of your Majesty's most valuable Life, the Demonstrations of dutiful Attachment to your Person and Government, called forth by the happy Occasion of your Recovery, will, we trust, remain a Pledge to your Majesty, and to your Royal Posterity, that the same public and private Virtues, which adorn your Majesty's Character, will ever engage the Love and Veneration of a free and enlightened People.

It is, we hope, without departing from that Modesty of Obedience which belongs to us as Citizens and Subjects, that we presume to lay before your Majesty our humble Testimony to the Wisdom of your two Houses of Parliament; who, in providing for the Exigencies of the State during your Majesty's late Indisposition, manifested that equal Regard to the Person of the Sovereign, the Honour of the Crown, and the Rights of the People, which in all Emergencies must procure the highest national Respect to the Resolutions of a British Parliament, while it ascertains their Object to be the Perpetuity of our glorious Constitution.

Honour

[Transmitted by J. Burnett, Esq; Mayor.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen and Common Council of your Majesty's ancient and loyal City of Chester, humbly beg Leave to approach your Royal Person with our most dutiful and affectionate Congratulations on your Recovery from your late Indisposition. We yield our unfeigned Thanks to the King of Kings for this happy Event, by which we are encouraged to hope that your faithful Subjects may long enjoy the Blessings of your Majesty's mild and just Government.

And we feel the greatest Satisfaction in reflecting that the firm yet temperate Measures, which were adopted and pursued by the Great Council of the Nation, under an Exigency altogether unexampled in the Annals of these Realms, have preserved the present Honor and Dignity of your Majesty's Crown, whilst the Rights of Parliament have been at the same Time protected and secured to all future Ages.

Given under our Common Seal, the 26th Day of March, 1789.

Tho. Cotgreave, Dep. Mayor.

[Delivered by Thomas Grosvenor and Richard Wilbraham Bootle, Esqrs. Representatives in Parliament for that City.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Bailiffs, Citizens, Gentlemen, Freeholders and other Inhabitants of the City and County and Close of the Cathedral Church of Lichfield, assembled in the Guildhall of the said City.

MAY it please your Majesty to permit us to approach your Royal Person with the warmest Assurances, that as none of your Majesty's Subjects could feel greater Sorrow than your Majesty's affectionate and loyal Subjects of this City for your late Illness, so it is impossible to find Terms sufficiently expressive of our Happiness on the joyful Event of your Majesty's Restoration to Health, to your Royal Family, and to your once more happy People.

A Blessing so truly great, granted by Providence to the sincere Prayers of a distressed Land, hath made on our Minds Impressions of Gratitude never to be effaced.

We beg Leave to add, that it will be our constant Prayer to the Supreme Being, that your Majesty, and our more than ever honoured Queen, may long live in Health and Prosperity, Examples of every Virtue and Excellence which can adorn a Throne, or do Honour to human Nature.

Given under our Hands, and the Common Seal of the said City, the 26th Day of March, 1789.

[Delivered by George Anson and Thomas Gilbert, Esqrs. Representatives in Parliament for that City.]

Unto the KING.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Principal and Professors of the University of Edinburgh, humbly approach your Throne with our warmest and most cordial Congratulations on the auspicious Event of your Majesty's Recovery from that severe Indisposition with which you have been afflicted.

Sensible of the Happiness which we have enjoyed under your mild and legal Government, we bless Almighty God, who, in Mercy to your People, and in Answer to their fervent and united Prayers, hath so fully restored you to Health, that you can again in Person exercise your Royal Functions, and resume that Attention to the Welfare and Prosperity of your Subjects, which they have long experienced, and most gratefully acknowledge.

That perfect Satisfaction; which, at present, we feel, will animate us to labour with increased Affiduity in discharging the Duties of our Stations; being well persuaded, that by infilling into the Minds of the Youth under our Care such Principles as may render them worthy Men and good Citizens, we shall most effectually recommend ourselves to our Gracious Sovereign, who, as the Father of His People, has nothing so near His Heart as their Improvement in useful Knowledge and true Virtue.
