Whitehall, April 16.

The following Addresses having been delivered or transmitted to the Right Honourable Lord Sydney, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, have been by him presented to the King: Which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, Archdeacons and Clergy of the Diocese of Lincoln, beg Leave, at this Time of universal Joy, to approach your Majesty with our most cordial Congratulations upon your Recovery from your late Indisposition.

Your Majesty's firm and invariable Adherence to the Principles of our Constitution has justly endeared your Majesty to every Description of Men in this free and prosperous Nation; and your Majesty's bright Example of Piety and Virtue, and zealous Concern for the Interests of Religion, have in a peculiar Degree impressed the Minds of those, who are by their Profession devoted to the Service of God, with the liveliest Sentiments of Affection and Attachment to your Royal Person.

We feel, in the strongest Manner, the Goodness of God in restoring your Majesty at so important a Moment. We earnestly pray the Almighty that your valuable Life may be long preserved in uninterrupted Health; and that your Majesty may continue to receive from your People the same Testimonies of unshaken and grateful Fidelity which have been displayed upon the late interesting Occasion.

[Delivered by the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bishop, Dean, Archdeacon and Clergy of the Church and Diocese of Gloucester.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Bishop, Dean, Archdeacon and Clergy of the Church and Diocese of Gloucester, beg Leave to express before your Majesty our most unfeigned and heartfelt Joy on the welcome Assurances we have received of your Majesty's perfect Restoration to Health after a long and dangerous Illness: A joy common to all our Fellow-Subjects, but more peculiarly felt by us, who during the Time this Country was honoured with your Royal Presence, were indulged with frequent Opportunities of witnessing many affecting Instances of your Majesty's Condescension and Goodness.

The silent Sorrow and Solitude which appeared in every Countenance, when the first Tidings of your Majesty's Indisposition were made known, are now happily exchanged for the Voice of Exultation and Gratitude. The fervent Prayers of an afflicted Kingdom, which were humbly offered to the Throne of Grace for your Majesty's Recovery, have not been offered to the Throne of Grace in vain. In the natural Expressions of Grief and Gladness, discovered by your Subjects on both Occasions, your Majesty has been furnished with the most unequivocal Testimonies of their Loyalty and Love, and how truly you possess the Hearts of a faithful and affectionate People.

We of the Clergy are particularly bound to return our devoutest Thanks to Divine Providence, which so seasonably interposed for our Deliverance in the successful Time of Trouble; as, besides the general Regard your Majesty is known to entertain for the Interests of true Religion, we have had abundant Experience of your sincere and steady Attachment to the Church of England: That Church, of which, from Principle as well as from Policy, your Majesty hath ever approved yourself the Defender, and to whom it still looks up as its Support and Protector in all Dangers.

With Hearts full of Duty and Affection to your Majesty, we shall not fail to continue our earnest Supplication to the Great Giver of all Good, that your Majesty's Reign may be long distinguished by every Circumstance which may render it a Blessing to yourself and to your Kingdoms; that our most amiable and gracious Queen, whose highest Ambition it is to
