

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Saturday April 18, to Tuesday April 21, 1789.

Whiteball, April 20, 1789.

HIS Majesty is pleased to permit the Members of both Houses of Parliament to pass through the Gates of the Parks, at the Top of Constitution-Hill, and at the Horse-Guards, in their Way to the Two Houses, on Thursday next, till Eight o'Clock in the Morning.

SYDNEY.

Whiteball, April 21, 1789.

It is hereby desired that all Persons, who wish to manifest their Joy on the happy Event of His Majesty's compleat Recovery from His late Indisposition, by Illuminations, for which Purpose many Preparations appear to be making in the Cities of London and Westminster, would defer those Publick Marks of their Duty and Affection to the King till Friday the 24th Instant.

And it is also hereby earnestly recommended to the Magistrates in the Cities of London and Westminster, and likewise to those of every other Place where such Illuminations may be made, to give such Orders to the Peace Officers in their several Districts, as may effectually prevent any Insult or Injury being offered to the Persons or Property of those whose Houses shall happen not to be illuminated upon that Occasion.

SYDNEY.

[Price Seven-pence.]

Windsor, April 18.

This Day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor and Sheriffs, attended by the Recorder and the City Remembrancer, waited upon His Majesty (being introduced by the Right Honourable Lord Sydney, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department) with the following Address, which was read by the Recorder.

'To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen and Livery of the City of London, in Common Hall assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

YOUR Majesty's loyal and dutiful Subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen and Livery of the City of London in Common Hall assembled, truly sensible of the Blessings this Country has experienced under Princes of the Brunswick Line, and especially under your Majesty's mild and gracious Government, could not behold the late Illness with which your Majesty was so long afflicted but with the deepest Concern and Regret.

Every Part of the British Empire is in Duty bound to offer Thanksgiving in the most solemn Manner to the all-wise Disposer of Events for so great a Blessing, as your Majesty's Recovery.

Called upon by the Respect we owe to the best of Sovereigns, we cannot refrain from approaching the Throne to congratulate your Majesty on this joyful Occasion.

Long may your Majesty be preserved to reign, in uninterrupted Health and Prosperity, over a free, happy and loyal People.

Signed by Order,

William Rix.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer :

I Accept with great Satisfaction your Congratulations on My Recovery from My late severe Indisposition.

The Proofs which you have given of affectionate Attachment to My Person, Family and Government are very pleasing to Me, and cannot fail to ensure an earnest Attention on My Part to your Interests and Happiness.

Windsor, April 18.
