Whitehall, May 2.

The King has been pleased to constitute and appoint the Earl of Leven to be His Majesty's High Commissioner to the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland.

The King has been pleafed to grant to the Right Honourable Edward Lord Eliot His Royal Licence and Authority, that he and his Issue may take and use the Surname and bear the Arms of Craggs, in Addition to those of Eliot, and that he may hereafter subscribe the Name of Craggs before all Titles of Honour, pursuant to the Will of Ann Nugent, sometime Wife of Robert Nugent, Esq; afterwards Earl Nugent, eldest of the Three Daughters of James Craggs, Esq; formerly Post-Master General, and one of the Three Sisters and Coheirs of the Right Honourable James Craggs, formerly Secretary of State; such Arms being first duly exemplified according to the Laws of Arms, and recorded in the Heralds Office.

The King has also been pleased to grant to Dudley Long, of Saxmundham, in the County of Suffolk, Esq; and his Issue, His Royal Licence and Authority to take and use the Surname of North, pursuant to the Will of his Aunt, the Honourable Ann Herbert, deceased, Sister and Coheiress of Dudley North, late of Little Glenham, in the faid County, Elq; deceased.

And also to order that these His Majesty's several Concessions and Declarations be registered in His College of Arms.

The following Address of the Scots Factory at Campvere having been transmitted by James Craufurd, Esq; His Majesty's Agent at Rotterdam, and Conservator at Campvere, to his Grace the Duke of Leeds, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, has been by him presented to the King: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

May it please your Majesty,
E, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Conservator, Conservator Deputy, Minister and Members of the very ancient Establishment of the Scots Factory at Campvere, beg Leave, in the humblest Manner, amidst the General Joy of your grateful and affectionate People, to testify, with all the Sentiments of Duty and Veneration, our fincerest Congratulations upon your Majesty's happy Recovery from your late dangerous Indispolition; and joining in our humblest Prayers, that the same Divine Providence, whose Finger has so remarkably restored you to your afflicted and desponding Subjects, may long preserve you in Health and Prosperity to reign over a happy and Joyal People.

We should be much wanting in our Duty, and and insensible of the great Happiness we enjoy in the Laws of our own Country, under your Majefty's gracious Protection, in this wherein we are are established, if we had not given this dutiful Testimony of our Loyalty and Gratitude upon so joyful and interesting an Occasion.

We ever shall be,

Your Majesty's most loyal, dutiful and obedient Subjects and Servants. By Appointment of the Confervator, Confervator Deputy, Minister and Members of the Scots Court.

James Murray, jun. Secretary. Campvere, the 15th of April, 1789.

The following Addresses having been delivered or transmitted to the Right Honourable Lord Sydney, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, have been by him presented to the King.: Which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bishop Elect, the Dean and Clergy of the Church and Diocese of St. Asaph.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Bishop Elect, the Dean and Clergy of the Church and Diocese of St. Asaph, hum-bly approach your Throne to present our most unfeigned Congratulations on your Majesty's happy Recovery from the dangerous Illness with which you were afflicted. We are justly sensible of the fignal Bleffings we enjoy under your Majesty's mild and paternal Government; and we shall not fail to offer our most devout Supplications to Almighty God, that those Blessings may be continued in your Majesty and your Illustrious House to us and to our latest Posterity.

[Delivered by the Right Reverend the Lord Bifhop.]
