

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Thursday June 6. to Monday June 10. 1678.

Dantzicke, May 4.

From Poland we have an account, that the King does very highly resent the ill treatment the Carmelite Friars received in the late disorders here, and is sending Commissioners hither to examine the matter, so that this City is like to have a great deal of trouble about this matter. The Peace between the Poles and the Turks is certainly concluded, and the Ratiſications exchanged.

Vienna, June 2. On Tuesday last their Imperial Majesties came hither, to make a visit to the Emperess Dowager; and in the evening returned again to Laxenburg. The Marriage between the Archduchess Anne; the Emperors sifter, and the Prince of Neuburg, is quite concluded, according to the discourse at Court, and will be declared when the Duke of Neuburg arrives here. The Letters from Hungary, say, that the Rebels, commaunded by the Count de Teckely, were posted at a place called Meppes, where he expected a Body of Cossacks and Tartars to join with him; that the Count de Wurmb, who commaunds the Imperial Forces, had posted Colonel Schmidt near Callo, to cover that place, which it's said the Rebels intend to attack; that a party he had sent out had met with and defeated a like party of Poles; that the new Prince of Transylvania, Paul Beldy, was returned from Constantinople with an entire satisfaction, and that Mischael Abafsy was absolutely deposed by the Port.

Copenhagen, June 7. The Troops are past daily over into Schonen. Yesterday several Troops of Cavalry and Companies of Dragoons were put on board the Fleet; they have no Horses, but take with them all the furniture for them; in what design they are to be employed we cannot learn; some are of opinion that they are to make a descent on the Isle of Rugen. We have not any fresh account concerning the Swedes; the last we had was, that the King was very active to bring his Army into the Field, in order to the turning the Blokade of Christiansstadt into a formal siege. It is said the place is very much streightned, and stands in great need of relief.

Berlin, June 8. Things were prepared for our Elector to take the Field as about this time; but at present we understand, that he hath changed his resolution, and hath put off the march of his Forces till the beginning of the next month. Three Deputies are come hither from Dantzicke, they have had Audience of his Electoral Highness, and their business is to desire the liberty of Dr. Strauch.

From the French Camp in Brilgow, June 8. Last night Monsieur de Boufflers was sent out with the Battalions of Rouergne and Turenne, the Regiment of Dragoons of Coffe, two Squadrons of Horse, and two Wagons with Ammunition; his orders were to go and take a Post near St. Pierre. This day the Army is ordered to march, our head-quarter will be at Leuquensen, and our Camp will reach as far Mobtinguen, by which we shall be pretty near the Encmy, who is advanced between Rugel and Quinzing. The prisoners and deserters assure us that they intrench themselves.

From the Imperial Camp between Valding and Lagedentzlingen, June 8. We are advanced a League nearer the Enemy, the Advanced-guards of the two Armies do frequently skirmish, and the Cannon plays on both sides upon such parties as go out of their Camp. The Duke of Lorraine commaunded yesterday that all the unnecessary Baggage, and the Women should be sent away, allowing only one Wagon to every Company, so that things look as if there would be a Battel. The General Officers have sent their Equipage to Offemburg, and orders are sent to the Troops, who are to the number of 6 or 7000 men with the heavy Cannon at Hohlengraben, as well to guard that as the Passages of the Mountains, to march upon the first signal to join the Army. We have three Bridges over the River Elz, and the Boats which were designed for the laying a Bridge over the Rhine, are sent back to Strasburg. The design of the Duke of Lorraine seems to be to post himself between the French Army and Brisac, which the Marechal de Crequi will doubtless endeavor to prevent.

Strasburg, June 6. The French Army under the command of the Marechal de Crequi having subsisted two or three-days at Languedentzling, removed the fourth instant to a place called St. George near Friburg. Yesterday the Imperial Army passed the River Elz, and marched about three Leagues towards the Enemy, and this day intended to encamp between Friburg and Brisac. The Imperialists have quite taken away their Bridge between Capel and Rhinawi. These motions of the two Armies may probably engage them in a Battel. The Regiments that were at Treves, Luxemburg, and other places, are marching with all possible diligence to join the Imperial Army, they passed yesterday by this City. At this instant we have advice, that the French Army marches towards Brisac, and that the Imperial Army is encamped at Regel, between Enduiguen and Kentzingen, and that its Advanced-guards are at Eychstet, within a League of the Enemies Camp.

Cologne, June 10. The States of the Country of Fuliers have now agreed with the Intendant of Maestricht about their Contributions, and have already paid a very considerable Sum of Money at Ais la Chapelle.

Ruremond, June 12. The Marechal de Schomberg is advanced from Dalem to Gulpen, and has been reinforced by several Troops from Maestricht; where upon the Baron Chauvet has drawn the Lunenburg Troops out of their quarters, and is marching with them to have an eye upon the said Marechal. He will be joined by the Brandenburg Forces commaunded by Lieutenant-General Spaen.

Brussels, June 10. The French Army continues encamped as we told you in our last. Yesterday their Cavalry came and foraged within Cannon shot