Stockholm, June 30.

Intelligence has been received here that, on the 15th Instant, a Russian Corps, under the Command of General Michelson, attacked the Swedish Troops at St. Michel, commanded by Colonel Steding. The Action began at Midnight, in which the Swedes kept their Ground, and fought very bravely for several Hours; but Colonel Steding, perceiving that the Enemy must at Length succeed in turning his Front, and attacking him in the Flank, thought it prudent, in order to save his Men and Artillery, to evacuate St. Michel, and retreat to Jockas; which he effected with a very trifling Loss, having saved all his Baggage and Stores, except the Powder Magazine, which he blew up, to prevent its falling into the Hands of the Enemy. In consequence of this Retreat, the Russians have entered into Sawolax. On the other Hand, the King, at the Head of a Corps of about 5000 Men, with Fifty Pieces of Cannon, has passed the River Kymene, and made an Irruption, near Keltys, into Russian Finland.

A Courier who arrived Yesterday Morning with Letters from the King to the Queen, the Prince Royal and Baron Armfelt, brought the first News of an Action between the Troops under his Majesty's Command and a Corps of Russians, whom he met on the 28th past within Two Miles of Davidstat. His Majesty mentions no Particulars in his Letters, only that he had defeated the Enemy, without receiving any Hurt himself: But the Courier reports that the King, with only 2,000 of his Troops, which composed the Van Guard, without waiting for the Rest of his Army, advanced to charge the Enemy, who amounted to about 5,600 Men: That the Russians stood the Fire of the Swedes, with great Intrepidity, for a considerable Time, and in their Turn attacked the Swedes with Bayonets fixed, which occasioned the latter to retreat about Twenty Paces; but that being instantly rallied by his Majesty, who alighted from his Horse, and encouraged them in Person, they returned to the Charge, and put the Enemy to Flight: That the Russians in their Retreat having passed a Defile, the Swedes in the Pursuit discovered another Body of the Enemy, drawn up in a Line, at the opposite Extremity; which Situation not permitting an Attack with any Prospect of Success, the Swedes desisted; but that, making a circular March through a Wood, they charged the Russians in Flank, and entirely routed them. The Loss on the Side of the Swedes is reported to be Three Officers and about 150 Men killed, and Three Officers and nearly 100 Men wounded. The Loss of the Enemy cannot be ascertained, as they carried off their Dead.
