St. Petersburg, September 4.

Advices were received here Yesterday from the Commander in Chief of the Army in Finland, that the Swedes had repassed the Kymen, and had entirely evacuated the Russian Territory.

Stockholm, September 8.

Accounts were received here this Morning, that the King of Sweden had quitted the Neighbourhood of Hogfors, and fallen back to the Frontiers of his own Dominions. The Russians attempted to cut off the Swedish Garrison in their Retreat; in which they would probably have succeeded, had it not been for the spirited Efforts of a Battalion of the West-Gotha-Dal Regiment, who prevented the Landing of the Enemy's Troops that had been embarked in Thirteen Gallies, with a View to effect a Descent at some Distance from that Fortrefs.

A Report having been spread that the Russians had formed the Project of sending a Part of their Coasting Fleet, with Troops, to attempt a Landing near this Capital, Orders have been issued for arming and disciplining the City Militia; and every necessary Precaution is taken for the Defence of the neighbouring Coasts.

Berlin, September 15.

The Difference between the Russian and Swedish Accounts received here of the Action between the two Coasting Fleets, on the 24th ult. is so great as to make it extremely difficult to form a just Idea of the Result, or of the Consequences which may ensue; but upon the Whole it is believed that the Swedish Gallies, which made good their Retreat, are not rendered unfit for Service; and that they are sufficiently numerous to prevent the Russians from having a decided Superiority. This Opinion is confirmed by the Certainty of the King of Sweden's having received a considerable Reinforcement of Troops and Stores, which make his Force by Land superior to that of Russia, and may enable him to support himself during the few remaining Weeks that this Campaign can last.
