Paris, October 7.

It being customary for the Gardes du Corps at Versailles to give an Entertainment to any new Regiment that arrives there, the Regiment de Flandres was on Thursday last sumptuously entertained with a Dinner by that Corps in the Palace. After Dinner their Most Christian Majesties judged proper to honour the Company with their Presence, and condescended to shew their Satisfaction at the general Joy which prevailed among the Guests. On their Appearance the Music instantly played the favourite Song of O Richard—O mon Roi, and the Company joining in Chorus, seemed to unite all Ideas in one unanimous Sentiment of Loyalty and Love for the King, and nothing was heard for some Time but repeated Shouts of Vive le Roi, within and without the Palace. In the Height of their Zeal they proceeded to tear the National Cockades from their Hats, and trampled them under their Feet. The Gardes du Corps supplied themselves with Black Cockades, in the Room of those they had treated with such Disdain. The News of these Proceedings soon reached Paris, where a general ill Humour visibly gained Ground.

On Saturday there were great Disturbances in the Palais Royal, and it became unsafe for any one to appear with Black Cockades, as several Foreigners experienced, from whose Hats they were torn with much Violence, and abusive Language.

On Sunday the Confusion increased, and a vast Concourse of People tumultuously assembled at the Town House, under the Pretence of demanding Bready

Bread; and enquiring into the real Causes of the extreme Scarcity of it at this Season of the Year.

On Monday Morning a Number of Women, to the Amount of upwards of Five Thousand, armed with different Weapons, marched in regular Order to Versailles, followed by the numerous Inhabitants of the Faubourgs, St. Antoine, and St. Marceau, with several Detachments of the City Militia; and in the Evening the Marquis de la Fayette, at the Head of 20,000 of that Corps, likewise marched to Versailles.

On Tuesday Morning an Account was received of some Blood having been spilt. The Gardes du Corps fired on the Parisians, and Five or Six Persons, chiefly Women, were killed. The Regiment de Flandres was also drawn out to oppose this Torrent; but the Word to fire was no sooner given, than they all to a Man clubbed their Arms, and, with a Shout of Vive la Nation, went over to the Parisians. Some Troops of Dragoons that are quartered at Versailles also laid down their Arms, and the Swiss Detachments remained motionless, having received no Orders from their Officers to fire. The Gardes du Corps being thus abandoned, and overpowered by Numbers; fled precipitately into the Gardens and Woods; where they were pursued, many of them killed and taken Prisoners. Some of the Heads of those who were killed were carried to Paris, and paraded through the Streets on Spikes. The same Morning, a Report came that the King, Queen and Royal Family were on their Way to Paris. Upon this the People began to assemble from all Parts of the Town; and above 50,000 of the Militia proceeded to line the Streets, and the Road to Versailles. Their Majesties and the Royal Family accordingly arrived between Seven and Eight o'Clock in the Evening, after having been Six Hours on the Road. The Carriages all proceeded to the Town House. The Concourse of People that attended is not to be described, and the Shouts of Vive la Nation filled the Air. From the Town House they were conducted to the Palace of the Thuilleries, though totally unprepared for their Reception, where they passed the Night.
