Dublin-Castle, January 21, 1790.

THIS Day the Parliament having met, his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant went in State to the House of Peers, and being seated on the Throne with the usual Solemnity, the Honourable Henry Fane, Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, was sent with a Message from his Excellency to the House of Commons, signifying his Pleasure that they should immediately attend his Excellency in the House of Peers; and the Commons being come thither accordingly, his Excellency was pleased to open the Sessions with the following Speech from the Throne:

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

THE King having been graciously pleased to place me in the Government of this Kingdom, I have His Majesty's Commands to meet you in Parliament, and and it affords me peculiar Satisfaction that I enter upon the Discharge of this most important Trust at a Period when this Country, in common with the rest of His Majesty's Dominions, is in the secure Enjoyment of the Blessings of Peace, and of the inestimable Advantages arising from our free Constitution.

This happy Situation will undoubtedly encourage you to persevere in the Maintenance of good Government, and to adhere to that wise System of Policy, which has established the Credit, the Industry, and the Prosperity of your Country upon a firm and steady Foundation.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I have ordered the National Accounts to be laid before you, and I trust you will make such Provisions as shall be necessary for the Exigencies of the State, and the honourable Support of His Majesty's Government.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

Your Zeal for the Interests of this Country will naturally direct your Attention to whatever can increase the Wealth and extend the Industry of Ireland. Her Agriculture and Linen Manufacture will claim your especial Care, and the Institutions of the Charter and other Protestant Schools will, I am persuaded, receive from you that Consideration which the Interests of Religion, and the good Education of Youth, peculiarly demand. I earnestly recommend to your Attention the improving and continuing such Laws as Experience hath shewn to be of National Benefit; and I have the King's Commands to assure you, that such Measures, as may contribute to that End, will meet with His Majesty's most gracious Concurrence.

Impressed with a deep Sense of the distinguished Honour which His Majesty has conferred upon me by my Appointment to this arduous Situation, I shall endeavour, with the utmost Zeal and Attention, to promote the Happiness and Welfare of Ireland; fully sensible, that I cannot otherwise hope either to render my Services acceptable to my Sovereign, or to ensure your favourable Opinion and Confidence.
