And to Four Private Bills.

His Excellency was then pleased to make the following Speech.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

As the important Objects that have engaged your Attention during this Session of Parliament are now accomplished, I have great Pleasure in signifying His Majesty's Approbation of the Zeal you have shewn for the Public Interest, and the Dispatch with which you have concluded the National Business.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I have the King's Commands to return you His sincere Thanks for the Cheerfulness with which you have voted the Supplies: You may depend upon their being faithfully applied to the Purposes for which they were granted.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

I am directed to testify His Majesty's Satisfaction at the salutary Provisions which have been made during the present Parliament, for the Encouragement of Agriculture, the Extension of Commerce, the Security of Property, and the due Execution of the Law; Regulations which have increased the Wealth, advanced the Trade, and raised the Credit of your Country to a Degree unexampled in any former Period.

Whilst I return His Majesty's Thanks for the many Marks of your Attachment to His Person, Family, and Government, I must express his Confidence that you will continue to inculcate in the Minds of the People that Spirit of Loyalty, and that Disposition to promote the Tranquillity and general Welfare of the Country, which have so eminently distinguished your Conduct.

Urged by every Principle of laudable Ambition and public Duty, I shall unremittingly endeavour to cultivate your true Interest, in maintaining good Order and Government, and to contribute, by every Means in my Power, to advance the Prosperity of this rising Country.

After which the Lord Chancellor, by His Excellency's Command, said,

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

It is His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant's Pleasure, that this Parliament be prorogued to Saturday the 5th Day of June next, to be then here holden: And this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Saturday the 5th Day of June next.

Stockholm, March 30.

The King of Sweden embarked on board the Amadis Yacht on the Evening of the 26th Instant, and fell down the Channel on his Way to Finland, but finding the Wind unfavourable he came on Shore again the next Day, and did not finally fail till the 28th in the Morning.

Four Frigates and some smaller Vessels have been cruising for some Time, in order to protect the Passage of the armed Vessels prepared in the different Ports for the Coasting Fleet, and with a View to secure the prior Possession of the Promontories of Porkala and Hango-Udd. After this Point was obtained, the Baron de Cederström, with Two Frigates and a Cutter, proceeded to the little Town and Fort of Roderwick, situated at a small Distance. The Garrison, consisting of a few Invalids, could make no Resistance, and a Capitulation was entered into, by which it was stipulated, that 4000 Rubles should be paid for the Ransom of the Town, and that all the Public Stores, and a Warehouse, containing a considerable Number of Uniforms, were burnt. This Blow was struck on the 16th Instant, and M. de Cederström returned on the 17th to Hango-Udd.

Navy Office, March 16, 1790.
