Published by Authority.

From Tuesday July 10, to Thursday July 12, 1792.

Whitehall, July 12.

THE following Address of the Bishop of London, the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's, and the Clergy of the Cities of London and Westminster, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop of London, attended by the Reverend Dr. Jeffreys, Canon Residentiary of St. Paul's, Dr. Bell, Prebendary of Westminster, Dr. Bingham, Archdeacon of London, Dr. Hamilton, Archdeacon of Colchester, Mr. Pott, Archdeacon of St. Alban's, and several of the Clergy, being introduced by the Marquis of Salisbury, Lord Chamberlain of His Majesty's Household.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishop of London, the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's, and the Clergy of the Cities of London and Westminster, entreat Permission to approach your Royal Presence with Sentiments of the warmest Gratitude for your Majesty's late Proclamation against the many wicked and seditious Publications which have so recently disgraced and disturbed this Country. It affords us, Sir, an additional and a striking Proof of that paternal Care and Solitude which your Majesty has constantly manifested for the Preservation of the Constitution, and the Peace and Welfare of your People.

Most firmly attached, as we are, to our admirable and envied Form of Government, and fully sensible of all its Excellencies, as well as of your Majesty's just and mild Administration of it, we are anxious to express, in the most public Manner and in the most pointed Terms, our unqualified Abhorrence of all those bold and undisguised Attempts that have been made, and are daily making in various Ways, to shake and subvert this our venerable Constitution, which the Experience of Ages has shown to be the most solid Foundation of National Happiness and Prosperity.

We can never, Sir, consent to sacrifice this approved and long-established System of Civil and Ecclesiastical Polity to the wild, chimerical and impracticable Theories of visionary Projectors; Theories, which are not only subversive of all good Government, but calculated to dissolve the most sacred Bonds of Society, and to entail on this happy Kingdom everlasting Dissension, Anarchy and Confusion.

We trust, however, that your Majesty's well-timed and vigorous Exertions, (aided as they have been by the general and cordial Concurrence of both Houses of Parliament) will effectually counteract the malignant Designs of factious and turbulent Men; and we beg Leave to assure your Majesty that we shall, with the utmost Zeal and Fidelity, contribute our Parts towards this most desirable End. We deem it, Sir, to be our indispensable Duty, as Ministers of the Gospel of Christ, to inspire all those who are committed to our Care in the Two great capital Cities of your Majesty's Dominions with that Love of Peace, of Order, of Concord, of Quietness, of Obedience to Magistrates, of dutiful Submission to all lawful Authority, which our holy Religion most peremptorily enjoins, and without which it will be impossible to preserve the Liberty, the Tranquillity, the Security we now enjoy, and to transmit those Blessings (as we hope to do) unimpair'd to our latest Posterity.

It is, Sir, and ever will be, our most ardent Prayer to Heaven, that your Majesty may long, very long, continue on the Throne of these Kingdoms, the Father of your People, the Guardian of our Laws, the Protector of our Freedom, and the firm Defender of all our Rights, Civil and Religious (as confirmed to us by the Glorious Revolution) against that intemperate and dangerous Spirit of Innovation, which seeks to involve them and us, and every Thing that is dear to us, in one common Ruin.

To which Address His Majesty was pleas'd to return the following most Gracious Answer:

I Have great Satisfaction, in receiving from this learned and respectable Body an Address so expressive of their Loyalty to Me, and of their Attachment to the Constitution; and I rely on their continuing to insulate maintain and maintain among My Subjects in this Metropolis that Love of Peace and Order, and that Submission to the Law, which our holy Religion prescribes, and which must be the Means of preserving to them the Liberties and Advantages they enjoy, and of transmitting them, unimpaired, to their Posterity.

They were all received very graciously, and had the Honor to kiss His Majesty's Hand.

The following Address of the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, Freeholders, and Inhabitants of the County of Suffex has, been presented to the King by the Right Honorable Thomas Pelham, one of the Representatives in Parliament for that County, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, Freeholders, and Inhabitants of the County of Suffex.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, Freeholders, and Inhabitants of the County of Suffex, highly sensible of the Happiness and Freedom which we enjoy under your Majesty's mild and auspicious Government, beg Leave to offer our grateful Thanks for the late Proof of your Royal Vigilance and Attention to preserve the Peace and good Order of this Kingdom by issuing your gracious Proclamation. It is with Concern that we have seen the Attempts of wicked and misguided Persons to disturb the Tranquillity which prevails in this most favored Country; Attempts which your Majesty's paternal Care and Solicitud for the Public Welfare, seconded by the Zeal and Attachment of an affectionate People, have most seasonably, and, we are persuaded, most effectually tended to defeat. We venerate, and will carefully cherish, the true and genuine Freedom, both Civil and Religious, with which we are blessed, and which is secured to us by our own excellent Constitution; a Constitution which has long been the just Object of Pride to every good Englishman, and the Admiration of the wisest Foreigners. Under this System of Laws, which has the infallible Test of Experience for its Sanction, we are determined to continue, and we trust that Providence will grant to your Majesty, as the Instrument for preserving to us the Happiness we enjoy, a long, a quiet, and a prosperous Reign.

Edm. Woods, Sheriff.

The following Address of the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, Freeholders and other Inhabitants of the County of Norfolk has been presented to the King by Sir John Wodehouse, one of the Representatives in Parliament for that County, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, Freeholders and other Inhabitants of the County of Norfolk, beg Leave to return our grateful Thanks for the gracious Proclamation which your Majesty has been pleased to issue, for the Purpose of defeating the artful and seditious Means that have of late been used to lessen the Attachment of your Subjects to our excellent Constitution, and to induce them to prefer new and speculative Forms of Government to that most admirable one which was established at the Revolution, and which has been approved by the happy Experience of above a Century.

However wild and extravagant these Theories are, we cannot but consider them as tending to mislead and inflame the People; and we therefore, as dutiful Subjects, grateful for the Happiness we enjoy under your Majesty's mild and auspicious Government, assure your Majesty, that we will exert ourselves with Zeal and Vigilance in our respective Situations to promote and enforce Obedience to the Laws, and to carry into Effect the salutary Purposes of your Majesty's Proclamation.

The following Address of the Freeholders and Inhabitants of Cambridgeshire, has been presented to the King by the Sheriff and Representatives in Parliament for that County, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Freeholders and Inhabitants of Cambridgeshire, desire to return our most hearty Thanks to your Majesty, for a fresh Instance of your Majesty's unceasing and affectionate Attention to the Welfare and Tranquillity of your People, manifested in the late most seasonable Proclamation.

We are attached upon Principle and from Experience to our King and Constitution, the latter of which, uniting all the Blessings of Liberty and Order, ensures to every Man who obeys the Law, the most perfect and impartial Security for his Person and Property; and the former has, through a long Reign, justly endeared himself to his People by the uniform Exercise of the mild and beneficent Virtues. Impressed with these Sentiments, we have observed with serious Grief and Indignation Libels of the most scandalous and seditious Nature, outraging every Principle dear to Englishmen, industriously disseminated throughout the Country. We view with Abhorrence all such Proceedings, and beg Leave to assure your Majesty of our most zealous Attachment to your Majesty's Person and Family, and to our Constitution as settled at the Glorious Revolution, being convinced that nothing but the free System which was then established could have raised this Country to that State of Prosperity which it now enjoys, or could have enabled it to resist with Success the formidable Attacks, to which at different Periods it has been exposed, from the Envy and Intrigues of arbitrary Governments. And as we are also convinced, that the Maintenance of internal Peace and Tranquillity is essentially necessary to the Continuance of our Happiness, and that there is no Class of your Majesty's Subjects which is not concerned in the Preservation of Public Order, and bound by every Tie both of Duty and Interest to preserve it, we further beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that it is our firm and decided Resolution, in our several Stations, to discountenance and resist all Attempts that may be made to disturb it.

The following Address of the Mayor, Jurats and Commonalty of the Town and Port of New Romney, in the County of Kent, has been presented to the King by Sir Elijah Impey, one of the Representatives in Parliament for the said Town, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Jurats and Commonalty of the Town and Port of New Romney, in the County of Kent.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and faithful Subjects, the Mayor, Jurats and Commonalty of the Town and Port of New Romney, beg Leave, with due Submission, to beseech your Majesty to accept our unfeigned Thanks for the Wisdom and Care that you have shewn in causing to be issued and published your late Royal Proclamation for suppressing all unlawful Meetings and seditious Writings and Publications, tending to excite Tumults and Disorders, and to raise groundless Jealousies and Discontents in the Minds of your Majesty's Subjects, which, in the End, may be attended with the most alarming and dangerous Consequences.

We cannot but venerate at all Times our most excellent Constitution, both Civil and Religious, and are sensible that the Wealth, Happiness and Prosperity of it, under Divine Providence, chiefly depends on a due Submission to the Laws, a just Confidence in the Integrity and Wisdom of Parliament, and in a zealous Attachment to the Government and Constitution of this Kingdom.

We think it therefore our Duty to assure your Majesty, that we will use our utmost Endeavours, in our several Stations, to discourage all Proceedings whatever tending to produce Riots and Tumults within our Jurisdiction, and to suppress all seditious Writings and Publications that may be instrumental in inflaming the Minds of the People, as well as the Authors and Publishers thereof; and we are truly sensible of the many Blessings and Advantages we enjoy under the mild and auspicious Government of your Majesty.

Given under the Common Seal of our Corporation the 30th Day of June, 1792.

The following Address of the Mayor, Burgesses and Inhabitants of the Borough and Town of Marlborough has been presented to the King by the Honorable General Bruce, one of the Representatives in Parliament for that Borough, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Burgesses and Inhabitants of the Borough and Town of Marlborough, beg Leave to return your Majesty our humble and grateful Thanks for your Majesty's Attention to the Peace and Happiness of your People, most particularly evinced by the late Proclamation.

Deeply impressed with a Sense of the inestimable Blessings we enjoy under a Constitution which has long been the Boast and Glory of Britons, and the Envy of surrounding Nations, we behold with Concern the insidious Attempts which have been made to disturb the Public Peace, and to involve the Nation in all the Horrors of Civil Discord, by the Publication of seditious and inflammatory Writings tending to subvert the good Order of Society.

While we deplore the Miseries to which other Nations are reduced, by the Want of a due Submission to the Laws, we are most thankful to Providence for having endued the great Body of the People of this Country with the good Sense to distinguish and be satisfied with their own unexampled Prosperity and Happiness, and the Resolution to defend the invaluable Constitution which secures to them those Blessings and Privileges, under the Government of a Prince ever anxious and watchful for the Liberties and Welfare of his Subjects, and whose greatest Pride and Glory is to reign in the Hearts and Affections of a free and loyal People.

The following Address of the Bailiff, Chief Steward, Capital Burgesses, and Principal Inhabitants of the Borough of Leominster, has been presented to the King by Richard Beckford and John Hunter, Esqrs. the Representatives in Parliament for the said Borough, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Bailiff, Chief Steward, Capital Burgesses, and Principal Inhabitants of the Borough of Leominster, do hereby express our most grateful Thanks to your Majesty for your most gracious Goodness in the Publication of your late Royal Proclamation of your late Royal Proclamation against seditious and inflammatory Writings, in order to preserve the Peace and Tranquillity of this Kingdom from the Attempts of wicked and designing Men.

Fully sensible of the Blessings we enjoy under your Majesty's auspicious Reign, and the present Form and Administration of Government, we know not how to look forward to any other, which can more effectually secure the Happiness and Prosperity of your Majesty's Subjects; and, we trust, that the innovating Spirit of Licentiousness may never prevail in Opposition to a System, which has stood the Test of Ages, and which must be the more approved the more it is investigated.

The following Address of the Bailiffs and Inhabitants of the Borough of Aulcester, in the County of Warwick, has been presented to the King by Lord Viscount Beauchamp, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bailiffs and Inhabitants of the antient Borough of Aulcester, in the County of Warwick.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal Subjects, the Bailiffs and Inhabitants of the antient Borough of Aulcester, in the County of Warwick, beg Leave to approach the Throne, with the Assurances of our Attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government.

We feel, in common with your Majesty's other Subjects, the superior Benefits which we derive from our present most happy Constitution. Enjoying every Security for our Persons and our Properties, we distrust every Theory which tends to undervalue Blessings, which we know to be our own, and relying on Experience as our surest Guide, we desire no Alteration in the well-balanced System of our Government, but what the Two Houses of Parliament, in Concurrence with your Majesty, may, from Time to Time, on the fullest Deliberation, think necessary.

Impressed with these Sentiments, we return your Majesty our warmest Acknowledgements for your late Proclamations against seditious Writings. We trace, in this well-timed Exercise of Government, your paternal Anxiety to guard your Subjects against mischievous Delusions; and we rejoice that, instead of alienating their Affections, and scattering Discontent through this most happy Island, these inflammatory Publications have produced the opposite Effect, by exciting, in every Corner of it, the most steady Resolution to support our ancient and revered Constitution against every Attempt to disturb it.

That your Majesty's Subjects may at all Times deserve the Blessings which they now enjoy, of increasing Commerce and uninterrupted Tranquillity, by a dutiful Submission to the Laws; and that your Majesty may long reign over a free and united People, is our most cordial and anxious Wish.

The following Address of the Mayor, Burgesses and Inhabitants of the Borough of Arundel, has been presented to the King by Sir George Thomas, Bart. one of the Representatives in Parliament for that Borough, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Burgesses and Inhabitants of the Borough of Arundel.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Burgesses and Inhabitants of the ancient Borough of Arundel, truly sensible of your Majesty's paternal Goodness, and constant Solitude for the Happiness and Welfare of your People, humbly beg Leave to approach your Majesty with our warmest Thanks for your late Royal Proclamation, which evidently tends to, and we hope will effect, the Continuance of the Peace and Prosperity of your People, and totally suppress that malevolent Spirit of Faction and Sedition, which some evil-disposed Persons have, by publishing and dispersing inflammatory Pamphlets, endeavoured to excite.

We consider it as an essential Part of our Duty, at a Time when Jealousies and Discontents are attempted to be raised in the Minds of your Subjects, and when Correspondencies are entered into with Foreigners to subvert our happy Constitution, to declare our Abhorrence of such dangerous Proceedings, and our firm Attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person and Government.

With Hearts gratefully impressed for the full Enjoyment of all our Rights, we fervently join the Generality of your Subjects, in praying that you may long reign over a free, prosperous and loyal People.

Given under the Common Seal of the said Borough of Arundel, and signed by the Mayor, at the Request, and on the Behalf of the Burgesses and Inhabitants of the said Borough.

Thomas Busby, Mayor.

Whitehall, July 12.

THE following Addresses having been delivered or transmitted to the Right Honorable Henry Dundas, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, have been by him presented to the King: Which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Rector, Principal, Professors, and Masters of the University and King's College of Aberdeen.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Rector, Principal, Professors, and Masters of the University and King's College of Aberdeen, beg Leave humbly to express our Sense of your Majesty's paternal Care of the Liberty and Prosperity of your People, displayed at all Times, and seasonably exercised in a Proclamation for checking the Spread of crude and factious Opinions, as unfavourable to true Liberty as to Order and just Authority, which, under the Shew of improving our excellent Constitution of Government, are calculated for subverting all Government, and introducing universal Anarchy.

Warmly attached to the British Constitution, and confident of its Security under the Administration of a King who uniformly reveres it, we rejoice in the Approbation with which both Houses of Parliament have received this Mark of your Royal Attention to the Happiness of the Nation, and in the just Applause of it in which the Voice of all the Classes of the Subjects has been united.

Permit us to assure your Majesty, that it has been and shall continue to be our Endeavour to instil into the Youth committed to our Care, along with the Principles of true Religion and useful Science and Learning, a Sense of the Excellence of our happy Constitution, a Love of legal Subordination, Loyalty to a King who protects his People in all their Rights, and Attachment to your Royal Family; and that our earnest Prayers shall never cease to be put up for the Prosperity of your Reign, and for the Perpetuity of the Blessings which by it we enjoy, under a Succession of Princes descended from your illustrious House.

Signed in Name and by Appointment of the University, at King's College, the 2d Day of July, 1792,

Jo. Chalmers, Principal.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Noblemen, Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of Supply, Freeholders, and other Gentlemen of the County of Wigton.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Noblemen, Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of Supply, Freeholders, and other Gentlemen of the County of Wigton, assembled, humbly beg Leave to offer to your Majesty our unfeigned Expressions of Loyalty and Attachment to your Person and Government, at the same Time that we express our Gratitude for your late gracious Proclamation against Writings tending to disturb the Peace and good Government of your Majesty's Subjects, and to endanger that Happiness which, under

Divine

Divine Providence and your Majesty's paternal Care, we enjoy, unequalled by other Nations,

We also humbly beg Leave to assure your Majesty of our zealous Attention to promote Order and enforce a strict Obedience to the Laws, as well as our earnest Wish that Providence may long preserve your Majesty to reign over an affectionate, free and happy People.

By Appointment of the Meeting;

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Freholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the County of Clackmannan, humbly beg Leave to approach your Majesty with the warmest Expressions of Gratitude for your paternal Care and Attention toward the Welfare of your Subjects, manifested in your late gracious Proclamation.

Sensible of the great and unexampled Blessings which we enjoy under the present Form of Government, it is our most anxious Wish, and it shall be our earnest Endeavour, that it may be preserved unaltered, and handed down unimpaired to our Posterity. For this Purpose it shall be our Study, in our different Stations, to enforce Obedience to the Laws, to promote Order and Tranquillity, and to repress every Attempt, under whatever Form it may appear, to excite Discontent, Tumult, and Sedition in the Minds of the People.

That your Majesty may long continue to reign over a free and happy People, and that they may continue to be sensible of these Blessings they now enjoy, is our earnest Prayer.

By Appointment of the Meeting,

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Ministers and Elders, met in the Presbytery of Glasgow, beg Leave to approach your Royal Presence with Sentiments of Loyalty, Gratitude, and Affection.

Our Fathers rejoiced in the Revolution of 1688, which gave new Life and Energy to the Principles of Liberty. They rejoiced in the Accession of the illustrious House of Brunswick to the Throne of these Kingdoms. In the worst Times, as well as in the best, the Church, of which we are Members, has maintained it's Allegiance to the Sovereigns of your Royal Family with inviolable Fidelity; and we cease not to praise Almighty God for a Constitution which guards the Principles of Liberty, and for a Government which protects the sacred Rights of the People. Happy under your Majesty's equitable and mild Administration, we behold on every Hand the blessed Fruits of Liberty and Loyalty, Prosperity and Peace.

We have heard, with the deepest Concern, that Attempts have been made to raise groundless Jealousies and Discontents in the Minds of your Majesty's Subjects, and we thankfully acknowledge, as a fresh Proof of your paternal Goodness, the issuing a Proclamation, by which we are warned to guard against all such Attempts.

Deeply convinced that a Regard for our Holy Religion is the real Source of public and private Virtue, we shall exert ourselves, in our sacred Function, to cultivate in the Minds of the People under our Pastoral Care those Principles and Sentiments which tend to promote Peace and good Order in Society, Reverence for the Laws, and Loyalty to your Majesty; reposing full Confidence in the Wisdom of the British Parliament and your Majesty's Councils for preserving inviolate our excellent Constitution; and for those Improvements of it which Experience may suggest.

While the great Body of the People with whom we are connected are sensible of the Security they enjoy under your auspicious Government, and are exerting themselves, in their several Pursuits, with Industry and Success, we are persuaded they will continue to preserve, unimpaired, their Respect for the Constitution, and their Attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government.

That your Majesty may long reign over a free, peaceable and united People; that the Crown of these Realms may descend to your Majesty's Posterity with undiminished Lustre; and that your Royal Family in future Ages may resemble your Majesty in their Veneration for Religion, their Love of Justice, and Affection to their Subjects, are the fervent Prayers of,

May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most faithful and most loyal Subjects, the Ministers and Elders, met in the Presbytery of Glasgow.

Signed in our Name, in our Presence, and at our Appointment, by

Adam Forman, Moderator.

Glasgow, July 4, 1792.

[ Transmitted by William McDowall, Esq; Representative in Parliament for Glasgow, &c. ]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Steward, Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the Borough of Wilton, in Common Hall assembled.

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful Subjects, the High Steward, Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the Borough of Wilton, impelled by Sentiments of the purest Loyalty and Affection towards your Majesty's Person, and by the most inviolable Attachment to the Constitution of this Country, think it our Duty to return your Majesty our sincerest Thanks for your gracious Proclamation, so seasonably calculated to obviate the Tendency of the late inflammatory Publications, which lead to the Subversion of all good Government.

We value and respect that Constitution, which is so well adapted to perpetuate the internal Peace and Prosperity of the Community; and enjoying, as we most gratefully acknowledge, so large a Portion of Happiness and Security under your Majesty's mild Government, we will, as far as we are able, unite with the Rest of your faithful Subjects in the firmest Support of your Majesty's Endeavours to protect the Constitution from every insidious Design that may endanger the general Safety.

May your Majesty, justly meriting the Affections of a loyal, united, and free People, long continue the the zealous Guardian of our present happy Establishment.

Given under our Common Seal, at the Town-Hall of the said Borough, this 9th Day of July, in the Thirty-second Year of your Majesty's Reign.

[ Transmitted by the Right Hon. Lord Herbert. ]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's ever dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Jurats, Common Council Men and Principal Inhabitants of your Majesty's Town and Parish of Maidstone, in the County of Kent, beg Leave to return our most hearty and sincere Thanks for the fresh Instance we have received of your Majesty's paternal Regard for the Welfare of your People, in issuing the late Proclamation against those wicked, seditious and detestable Publications, which for some Time past have been, and, we are sorry to add, still continue to be industriously circulated throughout the Kingdom.

Permit us to testify our uniform and zealous Attachment to the established Government and Constitution of our Country, and to say that we shall ever be ready to devote our Lives and Fortunes to their Preservation.

Amidst the Storms in which the surrounding Nations are involved, we are highly sensible of the peculiar Blessings and numerous Advantages which we now enjoy under the Protection and distinguished Favour of Providence, by Means of that Constitution which secures to us our Lives and Property with our Civil and Religious Liberties; a Constitution unparalleled in the History of Mankind.

Animated with such such Sentiments, we are anxious to assure your Majesty that we shall use our utmost Endeavours to prevent the Circulation of seditious Papers: That we shall diligently watch over every Attempt that may be made to lessen the Attachment of your People to that System of Government which the Example of our Ancestors, as well as our own Experience, hath taught us to love and revere: That we shall be not only extremely careful to preserve those Sentiments in our own Minds, but we shall be ever active and vigilant to maintain them in the Minds of the Rest of the People; and that we shall constantly and actively promote, as far as in us lies, the salutary Purposes of your Majesty's Proclamation, which, we are extremely happy to find, hath received the solemn Sanction of both Houses of Parliament.

[ Transmitted by John Morgan, Esq; Recorder of that Town. ]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Fortrose.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Provost, Magistrates and Town Council of Fortrose, beg Leave to approach the Throne with sincere Professions of steady Attachment to your sacred Person and illustrious Family, and to that excellent Constitution as established and confirmed at the Revolution, by which we, in common with our Fellow Subjects, do enjoy as perfect a Degree of Civil and Religious Liberty, as can be possessed in any State of Society; which has raised us to a Degree of Glory and Prosperity unexampled among the contemporary Nations of Europe.

Prizing these invaluable Privileges as we should, we observed, with Abhorrence, the Attempts which have been made by some late Publications of a seditious and inflammatory Nature, to render your faithful People discontented.

We offer to your Majesty our most grateful Acknowledgments for having issued your Royal Proclamation against the Authors and Publishers of them; and we are determined to use our constant Endeavours for preserving, in the Minds of our Fellow Citizens that Loyalty to your Majesty, that Love and Reverence for the Constitution, by which they are at present actuated, and our ardent Desire is to transmit the same unimpaired to Posterity.

Signed in Presence, and by Appointment of the Magistrates and Town Council,

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Provost, Baillies and Council of the City of Brechin, in Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Provost, Baillies and Council of the City of Brechin, beg Leave to approach the Throne with Gratitude to your Majesty for your late gracious Proclamation against seditious and inflammatory Publications, which, if not suppressed, may be productive of the most alarming and dangerous Consequences.

We beg Leave to assure your Majesty that we venerate the Constitution of this Kingdom, as established and confirmed at the Revolution, because it connects the Honour of the Sovereign with the Liberty and Happiness of the Subject; and therefore we most unfeignedly give your Majesty the strongest Assurances that we shall ever zealously concur in Support of such just and necessary Measures as may best enable your Majesty to support our happy Constitution.

At the same Time we offer our Thanks to your Majesty for your late gracious Proclamation, we also beg Leave to express our sincere and ardent Wishes that your Majesty may long continue to reign in the Hearts of a free and a happy People, and to share the Blessing of domestic Felicity with your illustrious Consort and Royal Issue is the sincere Prayer of,

May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects,

The Provost, Baillies and Council of the City of Brechin.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Bailiffs, and Principal Burgesſes of Borough of Kidwelly, in the County of Carmarthen, in Common Hall aſſembled.

WE, your Majesty's moſt dutiful, and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Bailiffs, and Principal Burgesſes of the Borough of Kidwelly aforeſaid, in Common Hall aſſembled, preſume to addreſs your Majesty, on your Majesty's late moſt gracious Proclamation.

Under the fullreſt Conviction that the Bleſſings of our preſent happy Conſtitution in Church and State cannot be preſerved without a due Submission to the Laws, and a ſtrict Attention to Order and Regularity, we look with Indignation and Contempt on all Endeavours to ſubſtitute Diſquiet and Jealouſies for the true Spirit of Liberty, and to depreciate the Excellence of our Conſtitution and Government; and we regard with Gratitude and Reſpect this additional Proof of your Majesty's Attention to the Happineſs of your Majesty's People.

Impreſſed with theſe Sentiments, and profeſſing the warmeſt Attachment to your Majesty's Perſon, Family and Government, we pray that, in the Preſervation of your Majesty's Life, we may long enjoy the Bleſſings of Peace and Tranquillity under the Guidance of your Majesty's Councils, to which we are determined to give Energy and Effect to the utmoſt of our Power.

Given under our Common Seal this 26th Day of June, 1792.
