

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Saturday July 28, to Tuesday July 31, 1792.

Whitehall, July 31.

THE following Address of the High Sheriff, Nobility, Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders and other Inhabitants of the County of Huntingdon has been presented to the King by Mr. Brown, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the High Sheriff, Nobility, Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders, and other Inhabitants of the County of Huntingdon, beg Leave to approach your Royal Person with our sincere and heartfelt Acknowledgements for the recent Instance of your Majesty's paternal Regard for your People, manifested in your late most gracious Proclamation for the Suppression of seditious Publications, and for the Preservation of Order and good Government.

Deeply sensible of the manifold Blessings which we enjoy under the mild and equitable Reign of your Majesty, as well as of the great Advantages of our most excellent Constitution, we have beheld with Indignation the daring Attempts of wicked and seditious Men to disturb the Public Tranquillity, by propagating Opinions totally subversive of all legal Authority and Subordination.

But we indulge the pleasing and well-grounded Hope, that all such wicked Attempts will be frustrated by the Wisdom and Vigour of your Majesty's Councils, aided by the Loyalty and the good Sense of your People.

The following Address of the Warden, Six Assistants, High Steward and Town Clerk of Louth in the County of Lincoln, and the Gentlemen, Clergy, and principal Inhabitants of the same Town and Neighbourhood, has been presented to the King by Sir Joseph Banks, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Warden, Six Assistants, High Steward and Town Clerk of Louth in the County of Lincoln, and the Gentlemen, Clergy and principal Inhabitants of the same Town and Neighbourhood, beg Leave to tender to your Majesty our most cordial Thanks for the salutary Warning and Commands issued to us in your late Proclamation; and to express our utmost Abhorrence of the Infatuation and Wickedness of those Persons who, in Opposition to your Majesty's Concern for the Welfare of your People, have endeavoured to undermine the Foundations of our excellent Constitution, by spreading, in seditious Publications amongst the Ignorant and Unwary, the Seeds of Jealousy and Discontent. Permit us to assure your Majesty, that in Obedience to your Royal Requisition we will, as far as our Power extends, guard against and counteract all Attempts to disturb public Peace and Order, and exert ourselves in bringing to legal Conviction and Punishment the Authors of all tumultuous and riotous Proceedings.

May the Great Disposer of all Events grant us the Continuance of our peculiar Happiness, under the Protection of your Majesty and our ancient and invaluable Constitution. Long may you reign possessing the Affections of a People peaceful, free and happy.

The following Address of the Mayor, Jurats and Common Councillors of the Corporation of Gravesend and Milton, has been presented to the King by Sir William Fawcett, Governor of Gravesend, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber

[ Price Eight-pence. ]

