Whitehall, September 22.

THE following Address having been transmitted to the Right Honorable Henry Dundas, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, has been by him presented to the King: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Magistrates and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Wick, in Common Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Magistrates and Town Council of the Borough of Wick, beg Leave to approach the Throne with Sentiments of the highest Veneration and Respect for your Majesty's sacred Person and Government, and of the most inviolable Attachment to our happy Constitution, and with Hearts overflowing with Gratitude and Thankfulness for the late Instance of your Majesty's fatherly Regard and unremitting Attention for the Safety and Welfare of your People, manifested in the late Proclamation against seditious Writings and Publications.

Sensible as we are of the inestimable Blessings and Privileges we enjoy under a Government, the best that Human Wisdom ever devised, we cannot but lament that there should be Individuals in the Kingdom, who, under the specious, though false Appearance of Patriotism, endeavour, by their Writings, to disseminate Doctrines of the most dangerous Tendency, subversive of the fundamental Principles of the Constitution, and calculated to excite a Spirit of Sedition and Revolt throughout the Nation, and that too at a Time when, perhaps, there never was less Cause for those Fears and Jealousies which seem to actuate the Authors of these scandalous and seditious Publications; and we beg Leave to assure your Majesty, not only of our utter Abhorrence and Detestation of all such Writings, but also of our hearty Concurrence in every constitutional Measure for the Suppression thereof, and bringing the deluded Authors thereof to a due Sense of their Errors.

We earnestly pray that your Majesty may long wield the Sceptre of the British Empire in Peace and Tranquility, and that the same may be handed down to your Royal Descendants to the latest Posterity.

Signed by Appointment, and the Common Seal of the Borough hereto affixed, in Presence of the Council, at Wick, the 7th Day of September, 1792 Years, by

Will. Mac Leay, Chief Residing Magistrate.
