From Saturday September 7, to Tuesday September 10, 1793.

Whitehall, September 10.

THE following Dispatch was this Morning received from Colonel Sir James Murray, Adjutant-General to the Forces under the Command of His Royal Highness the Duke of York, at the Office of the Right Honorable Henry Dundas, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department.

Lefferinsk's Hocke, September 7, 1793.

S I R,

I Have only Time, before the Departure of the Messenger, to have the Honor of informing you, that Field-Marshal Freytag attacked a Post of the Enemy, at the Village of Arnecke, upon the Morning of the 5th. A considerable Number of Men were killed, and Five Officers and upwards of 60 Men taken.

Upon the following Day the Enemy made an Attack upon the Whole of the Field-Marshal's Posts, as well from the Town of Bergues as from the Camp of Cassel. The Troops behaved with the utmost Bravery, and the Enemy were repulsed at War-mouthe, Esckelbeck and several other Places; but, by Means of great Superiority of Numbers, they got Possession of Bambecke, Roubrugge and Poperinghe.

From the Loss of these Posts, the Field-Marshal found himself under the Necessity of falling back, in the Night, upon Hondshoot, where he means to encamp this Day. I shall have the Honor of transmitting to you further Particulars as soon as I become acquainted with them.

Upon the Evening of the 6th, the Enemy made a Sally from Dunkirk. Their Attack was chiefly directed against the Right, where they kept up a heavy Fire for some Time; but the 14th Regiment of Infantry, commanded by Major Ross, (Lieutenant-Colonel Doyle being ill) and the Austrian Regiments of Starray and Jordis, being ordered up to support that Part of the Position, they were driven back into the Town. The Behaviour of the Troops is worthy of every Commendation.

I am sorry to add that the Loss has been considerable, though that of the Enemy was much greater. I inclose a Return of that which the British Troop have sustained; that of the Austrians is about 150 Men; the Hessians were very little engaged.

It is with infinite Regret I must add, that Colonel Moncrieff has received a Wound of the most dangerous Kind. The Loss of an Officer of Spirit, Activity and Genius like his must ever be severely felt; and it is particularly to be lamented at the present Moment.

I have the Honor to be,
with the greatest Respect,
S I R, &c.

J. A. MURRAY.
