Turin, December 18.

By Accounts received from Barcelona, dated the 11th Instant, it appears, that Intelligence had arrived there from the Camp at Rouffillon, that the Spaniards and Portuguese had obtained a complete Victory in a general Action over the French, in which the latter lost between Seven and Eight Hundred Men killed or drowned in passing the River Tec, above 600 taken Prisoners, 46 Pieces of Cannon, Two Howitzers, One Mortar, a great Number of Muskets, with Tents, Cloathing, Ammunition and Stores.

The Loss of the Spaniards and Portuguese amounts to 200 Men.

The Master of a Neapolitan Brig, just arrived from Toulon, reports, that on the 17th Instant the French made a general Attack on the Advanced Posts and Forts, and particularly on Fort Balaguier, of which they gained Possession: That on the Morning of the 18th the English set Fire to the Arsenal and French Fleet: That on the same Day the Neapolitan Troops embarked, and immediately sailed: That the English and Spaniards remained on Shore, and at that Time in Possession of Fort La Malue: That the English and Spanish Fleets, with some French Ships, had anchored out of Reach of the Cannon of the Place; and that Transports were preparing for the Embarkation of the French Royalists.

Brussels, January 4.

Intelligence has been received here that the Blockade of Landau is raised. It appears that the French had continued their Attacks every Day till the 26th Ultimo, when they advanced early in the Morning in in Force against the Duke of Brunswick, who was at Bergzabern, with his Van Guard commanded by Prince Hohenloe. That the Grenadier Battalion of Kleist and Two Companies of Chasseurs advanced to meet the French; that they were at first repulsed, but that Prince Hohenloe then marched forward to their Support, with some Artillery; and that the Enemy was at last compleatly routed: That towards Mid-Day, however, the Attack was renewed on the Right of General Wurmser's Position, who was compelled to retreat, and has since recrossed the Ruine in Two Columns. The Duke of Brunswick takes a Position to cover Mayence. A Garrison is left in Fort Louis.
