An Act to continue, for a limited Time, and to amend an Act passed in the last Session of Parliament, intituled, An Act to continue, for a limited Time, and to amend several Acts of Parliament for regulating the Shipping and carrying Slaves in British Vessels from the Coast of Africa.

Whitehall, July 8.

The following Address having been transmitted by Alexander Allardyce, Esq; to the Right Hon. Henry Dundas, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, has by him been presented to the King: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Provost, Magistrates and Council of the City of Aberdeen.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Provost, Magistrates and Council of your City of Aberdeen, beg Leave to approach the Throne, and to testify to your Majesty our most sincere and heartfelt Joy on the repeated Successes with which it has pleased the Divine Providence to bless your Majesty's Arms in the Course of the present just and necessary War.

The rapid and extensive Progress of the British Arms against the Common Enemy in the East and West Indies, as well as in the Mediterranean, and particularly the late glorious and decisive Victory obtained by the British over the French Fleet, by the able and gallant Conduct of Admiral Earl Howe, upon the First of this Month, are all Events in themselves so truly noble and conspicuous, and have been attended with such Circumstances of Renown to your Majesty's Fleets and Armies, as must for ever render them highly distinguished in the Annals of the British Empire.

Whilst we thus rejoice in the Successes of your Majesty's Arms Abroad, permit us to express our warmest Approbation of the Vigilance and Exertions of your Majesty's Ministers at Home, in repressing the Attempts of the Seditious, and those who appear to have wickedly aimed at the Subversion of your Majesty's Government; and to assure your Majesty, that we will continue to exert our utmost Endeavours to preserve to ourselves and our Posterity the permanent Enjoyment of the many invaluable Blessings and Privileges of that Constitution under which we have the Happiness to live.

May the same signal Success continue to attend your Majesty's Arms in every Quarter of the World, until your Majesty shall be enabled to put an End to the present War, by the Establishment of a lasting and honourable Peace.

Signed in Name and Presence, and by Appointment of the Provost, Magistrates and Council of the City of Aberdeen, and the Common Seal is hereto affixed at Aberdeen, the 27th Day of June, in the Year 1794, by John Abercrombie, Provost.
